PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. J. B. Williams, Pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Almighty and most merciful God, we gratefully acknowledge Thee as the Ruler of our lives. Thou art infinite and we are creatures of the earth, yet Thou hast exalted us to be Thy children. Thou hast endowed us with reason and will; Thou hast placed us in this beautiful world and lavished its bounties upon us. Grant, O God, that our gratitude shall be sincere.

Increase among us all worthy plans and efforts to rebuild the structure of our world society on sure foundations and to transform it into Thy Kingdom. Give us the vision and courage to establish and maintain universal brotherhood and peace, with all nations joined in love and lawfulness, to foster the life more abundant for all.

Restore to us a belief in spiritual values and the dignity and worth of all Thy children. Inspire us with a willingness to provide them with opportunities for work and growth and a fair enjoyment of profits and benefits. Then and only then will Thy Kingdom come and Thy will be done on earth, Amen.

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, before we vote on this bill, I want to say that from a legislative, budgetary and taxation standpoint, it is one of the most progressive bills that has come before us in at least the three Sessions that I have been here.

Mr. President, this bill will take the Legislature out of the dark and place it in the light on fiscal problems. I have no hesitancy in saying that if the members of the committee that serve on this group do their work conscientiously, we will have a head start at each Session of the Legislature on fiscal problems. However, I wish to draw your attention to the fact that on page 3, section 2, of this bill, it states that one of the functions of this committee will be to make reports at least quarterly, showing in detail the exact status of the biennial budget with regard to revenues and expenditures of the State Government.

Mr. President, I want to say that if this Legislative Committee is to present to the people of Pennsylvania correct statements, as indicated in the bill, it will be necessary—I cannot too strongly stress the importance of what I am going to say—to pass a bill setting up an Accountant General in Pennsylvania, so that the information that will be supplied to this committee will be true and correct, and not of the type that is given to the Legislature at the present time.

Mr. President, I want to read from a portion of the Report of the Chesterman Committee, under the Accounting System. This is what it states; this is an absolute true statement from my experience in State Government. It states, and I quote:

" 'There have been many arguments reported in the public press about the existence of a so-called "surplus" or "deficit",' the Committee recalled, 'and the annals of each succeeding session of the Legislature are replete with conflicting assertions regarding financial matters which result in controversy and public distrust.

" 'Such confusion results from the absence of proper accounting and financial reporting. A designated surplus may actually be a cash balance without regard to existing obligations. Payment of these obligations may transform a so-called surplus to a deficit because the obligations exceed the cash available.'

"The Budget Office, the Committee noted, 'holds that it has all the necessary data for adequate financial reports and that these reports are always available.

"'While the Budget Office does have many reports,' it was added, 'they are inadequate in the accounting sense for the simple reason that the rigid cash-basis of record-keeping does not provide the full facts.'"

Mr. President, I want to repeat that that is a correct statement. By setting up an Accountant General under the terms of the bill, we will have changed the method of operation of the State Government from a cash to an accrual basis. By doing so, it will be possible to determine the true financial condition of the Commonwealth at any given period, which is important in the framing of the budget, the tax program and other fiscal matters.

Mr. President, I repeat that this is a good bill, and I certainly hope that every Member of the Senate will vote for it. that the House will adopt it like the Senate and that the Governor will sign it into law.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. JOHN J. MURRAY, JENKINS, VAUGHN, WILT and GEER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 64.

In the House of Representatives, June 9, 1953.

Whereas, On May 14, 1953, the United States Atomic Energy Commission awarded a Switchgear contract to the Brown- Boveri Company of Switzerland. This equipment is to be installed at the Portsmouth, Ohio plant of the Atomic Energy Commission; and

Whereas, This contract comprises twenty per centum of the national need for this type of apparatus, and in excess of fifty per centum of the expectation of Westinghouse Electric Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Brown and Boveri Company of Switzerland bid $3,600,000 as opposed to Westinghouse Electric Corporation, the lowest domestic American bidder, bid of $4,800,000, a differential of $1,200,000; and

Whereas, The allocation of this Atomic Energy Commission contract means a loss in excess of $1,000,000 in taxes to our government; and

Whereas, The loss of job security is intensified by the estimated 700,000 American man-hours. Work denied the lowest domestic American bidder, Westinghouse Electric Corporation, employer of 18,000 workers in the East Pittsburgh plant; and

Whereas, Loss of job security and industrial corporate gains diminishes to a minimum initiative and research and greatly impedes advancement in the field of atomic energy, which is now being weaned from war application to that of commercial usage; and

Whereas, Foreign construction of this apparatus is an obstacle to complete security; and

Whereas, Economy seems to be the theme of justification for the awarding of this contract to Brown and Boveri Company of Switzerland, cognizance must be considered that real economy deals with elimination of unessential services or facilities; and

Whereas, Job security and industrial corporate sustenance are not considered unessential services or facilities. A steri'e formalism would quickly lead to an impasse, therefore, Federal Atomic Energy Commission should at all times be cognizance of its effect on the national and individual State welfare; and

Whereas, All labor organizations of Westinghouse Electric Corporation have mutually agreed that financial hurt has been perpetrated upon Westinghouse Electric Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, It is logic and practical thinking to assume that all persons having a beneficial interest in this Atomic Energy Commission project, and who will be affected by the commission's contractual administration, should be parties to action of said commission through their Representatives in Congress; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly hereby memoralize the President of these United States, the Senate Committee on Atomic Energy, the Honorable Senator Martin and the Honorable Senator Duff, of the financial hardship and inconvenience to Westinghouse Electric Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and other reputable electrical firms of Pennsylvania, by the unjustifiable contractual administration of the Atomic Energy Commission and the reflection of this hardship to the loss of job security and impaired personnel morale. That this false and impractical ecenomy shall not and will not be perpetuated into American industries, thereby creating national economic chaos; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be instructed and he is so instructed to send copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the Senate Committee on Atomic Energy and to the Senators of Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 65.

In the House of Representatives, June 9, 1953.

The steady influx of imported products and the resultant diminution of available markets for domestic goods is a cancer upon the economic body of our nation.

The preservation of our economic well being is undeniably founded upon a sound domestic economy. This cannot be preserved when domestic capital and labor are required by tariff regulations to compete disadvantageously with foreign capital and labor. It can be maintained only when both compete upon equal terms.

So long as our capital and labor must resort to ruinous price-cutting, resulting in financial loss, reduced wages, unemployment, and reduced investment capital, our economy shall remain unstable.

Today, more than ever, the world looks to our nation for the material and economic aid necessary to forestall world wide depression. It is incongruous that these same nations, while accepting our largesse with one hand should with the other throttle our economic life by demanding reduced tariff concessions.

If we are to fulfill the role of world leadership and avoid economic disaster, it is incumbent upon us to reappraise our economic welfare and to readjust our tariff regulations to that degree necessary to provide fair competition between domestic and foreign capital and labor; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memoralize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen and the stabi'ity of our economy by unfair import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I request leave of absence for the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, because of the mumps.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, leave of absence will be granted. Is there objection?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr Speaker, I desire to comment on the request for leave of absence for the gentleman from Adams.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has the privilege of commenting on the request for leave of absence.

Mr. ANDREWS. Every phenomenon has a natural explanation if you look for it. There has been a stirring of the dry bones and indications that this House is about to proceed with an unaccustomed celerity.

I presume that it is for fear that the infection, either innocently or maliciously spread by the gentleman from Adams, I would not know, may have affected the whole circle in which he has been more or less a member now and then, in and out, and that it is the desire to transact very important business today for fear that tomorrow there will be nobody on the other side who is able to talk after having been talking with so little effect for so many months.

The SPEAKER. There being no objection, leave of absence is granted.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By consent of the House leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Ragot for Mr. IDE, because of illness.

Mr. Kent for Mr. BLAIR, because of illness.

Mr. George E. Jones for Mr. ERB, for the remainder of week, after today's session because of death in the family.

Mr. Granville E. Jones, for Mr. PETTIGREW because of illness.

Mr. Kornick for Mr. COCHRAN for the week.

Mr. Filo for Mr. BOIES for today's session.

Mr. Hersch for Mr. CIANFRANI for today's session.

Mr. Kent for Mr. WATKINS because of illness.

Mr. Schwartz for Mr. HOGGARD, because of illness.

Mr. William B. Smith for Mr. STONE for the remainder of the week.

Mr. Poltenstein for Mr. FLOYD for the remainder of the week because of illness.

DEATH OF EMPLOYES

The SPEAKER. At this moment, for the information of the House, the Chair regrets to inform the Members that the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Erb, was suddenly called to the House around 12 o'clock last evening when his brother died suddenly while working for the House.

That is the reason for the request for leave of absence for Mr. Erb.

The Chief Clerk, Mr. Habbyshaw, has also informed the Chair that Reverend Lantz, who worked with the brother of Mr. Erb in the House Storeroom, died yesterday.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 10, 1953.

Reso'ved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 15, 1953, at two o'clock p. m., E.S.T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Wednesday, June 17, 1953 at one o'clock p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the leadership envision an early termination of the present Session, and if so, what is the terminal objective upon which they have decided?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the membership does need a word of explanation on the resolution that has just been sent over from the Senate. We of course plan to stay here tomorrow, work four days this week. Because of the hotel situation the House will not be able to return next week. The Senate, however, will be in session.

It will be necessary that we come back, as many as possible, on Wednesday for the purpose of receiving communications from the Senate so that bills may be signed by the Speaker in the presence of the House.

We hope that today will again be an important day. I realize we have been saying that all Session. We have numerous tax bills on our calendar. We hope we can resolve the impasse that we are in as a result of today's action and that we can adjourn sine die on the second day of July.

We believe we will solve, or partially solve our tax problem today, that by the second of July, if we all come back here week after next and really get down to business, we can wind up the affairs of the Session. So there is tentatively an idea that we will try and get out of here on the second day of July.

Mr. ANDREWS. A further inquiry. When is the legislative reapportionment bill scheduled for action?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, that bill is on second reading today; it will be called up today. As far as I know, it will be ready for amendment today, and will be placed in position for final passage tomorrow.

Mr. ANDREWS. When is it proposed to press for final passage of the bill?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would say the leadership on this side would like very much to see action on the bill tomorrow. That is the reason why we would like to have everybody here tomorrow. There will not be a consent calendar tomorrow, it will be a full working day. We would like to be able to pass the bill if possible or give it some treatment tomorrow so that it can be sent to the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inform the Majority Leader that if it is decided to press for action upon the legislative reapportionment bill in its present form, there will likely be a failure upon the part of the minority to cooperate with the majority party's legislative program.

We are not prepared to accept the reapportionment bill in its present form. We are not prepared to cooperate in a tax program and then be faced with the legislative reapportionment bill in its present form.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say that about four weeks ago the Minority Leader did suggest that, I believe he stated, Allegheny County did want to discuss reapportionment at length.

Yesterday, however, I spoke to the Chairman of the Reapportionment Committee, Mr. Weidner, who is handling the bill and asked whether there had been any requests made for any public hearings by the Allegheny County group, and I believe his answer was that there had been no request made.

If there is a change in that thinking and some negotiations need to be entered into, that is something else.

The gentleman's remarks come to me as a surprise at this time. I presumed that the bill was ready to be voted upon on the floor, that amendments were going to be offered, and they would stand or fall, and then the bill would be placed in a position for final passage.

I would suggest that the Minority Leader or the Pittsburgh group get in touch with the Chairman of our Reapportionment Committee, that is the House Reapportionment Committee, discuss the bill, and any proposed amendments so that we can enter into some area of agreement.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we are not disposed to confine the discussion solely to the Chairman of the Reapportionment Committee. We think the responsible leadership should call into conference the parties at interest in Allegheny County and ascertain whether there is not some basis for a reasonable compromise as far as that situation is concerned.

There are a couple other points that should be discussed. There have been no public hearings. This bill has been trotted out here, and some of our Members think some of its provisions are manifestly unfair and that, in short, the legislative reapportionment bill in its present form is an attempt to legislate a political party out of existence.

We want the matter looked into. We think the leaders of both parties should give some attention to this matter. It is a very serious matter.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would say that as the Majority Leader I would be very glad to meet with all groups that are not satisfied with the bill, together with the Chairman of the Committee on Reapportionment and other members of the committee that would like to sit down and thrash this matter out.

As to passing over the bill today, I would like to confer with the sponsor of the bill and I will be glad to give the Minority Leader an answer on that question after we have caucused this afternoon.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the leader of the Allegheny delegation?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when would the Allegheny delegation be prepared to confer with the majority leadership concerning the Allegheny situation as far as legislative reapportionment is concerned?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, we will be glad to meet this afternoon and confer on this matter. In fact we have already conferred on the matter and would be glad to give our views as to the reapportionment situation in Allegheny County.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

The Allegheny County leadership will meet with the Majority Leader and other representatives of his party at such a time as the Majority Leader may elect.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is understood that that conference is accorded a high priority.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in order to minimize discussion in the various caucuses, since I understand the Majority leadership is prepared to call up various tax bills for consideration, I would suggest that the Majority Leader list the number of the bills that he has proposed to call up for action—the tax bills, briefly describe what they do and report his opinion as to the amount of money that will probably be raised by each measure put through.

The SPEAKER. Before the Chair declares a recess, for the benefit of the Members, it is suggested that the Members immediately go to their caucus rooms so as not to take any unnecessary time, as there is a heavy calendar and we probably again will be in a long night session.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I again propose that the Majority Leader list the number of the bills that are proposed to be called to the attention of the House, briefly describe their purpose and give his opinion as to the amount each one of them would raise as a step in curtailing the discussion in the caucus into which we are about to enter.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would request that the Members take their House Calendars, and turn to page 25. I will, in this brief explanation cover all of the tax bills on the calendar, so that we will have a picture of each bill that is on the calendar and just what each bill does.

House Bill 900, on page 25, while it is not a tax bill, it is a loop-hole-plugging bill requiring buses and trucks to display the special printed stamps showing that they have paid the gross receipts tax. If certain taxes pass today which will raise enough revenue, House Bill 900 will not have to be passed and we intend to restore to the truckers the exemption we took away from them last session. The bill is on the calendar, and with that explanation I will go to House Bill 1078, also on page 25.

This the constitutional amendment bill which will make it possible to have a graduated income tax in Pennsylvania if the bill passes two sessions of the Legislature and is voted upon by the people.

On page 27, House Bill 633, is the tobacco tax bill—tax on cigars and so forth that is estimated to bring in $10 million.

Also on page 27, 1343 is another cent on a package of cigarettes, which would bring in approximately $22 million.

On page 28, 1376, is the soft drink tax, which is estimated to bring in $29 million.

Also on page 28, 1377, the unincorporated business tax, at one percent. It is very hard to estimate that figure, possibly $30 or $35 million, at one percent.

Also on page 28, House Bill 908, is the use sales tax bill. The only figure that I can give you is that I understand that in the State of Ohio their use tax bill brings in about $8 million a year.

House Bill 909 is the one percent sales tax bill. We have estimated that that would bring in $170 million; that is the top figure for that. However, if it is passed there will be a month's or six weeks' revenue lost at the rate of about $7 million a month.

The next bill is on page 34, which is 811, that is the loop-hole plugging corporate net income tax, which covers interstate corporations and is the so-called Kent bill from last session, which I understand brought in possibly $400,000 in its first biennium.

On page 35, 812 is the regular corporate net income tax bill which if enacted would put five percent on corporations and is estimated to bring in $250,000. I will have something to say about that when I finish.

On page 35, 813 is the continuation of the postponement of the manufacturer's exemption from payment of the capital stock tax. The revenue from that is hard to estimate, but I would figure from $25 to $30 million. That is manufacturers paying the capital stock tax, around $25 to $30 million.

On page 35, 814, is the tax on mutual insurance companies which brings in about $4 million, I believe.

On page 36, House Bill 816 is the continuation of the temporary gross receipts tax on electric light companies, gross receipts from transmission companies at 6 mills which brings in $10 million.

You will recall that Governor Fine in his speech recently before the Legislature said that he was increasing the estimated yield this biennium by $20 million. Of that yield $2 million is from the franchise capital stock tax, $5,400,000 is increase in the corporate net income tax, $1,500,000 is from miscellaneous revenue, $2 million is from institutional revenue, $3 million increase in the inheritance tax, National banks $500,000, insurance, domestic companies $650,000, foreign life $500,000, foreign casualty $1 million, cigarettes $1,250,000, corporation income tax being the last session Kent Bill, $500,000, malt beverages, $500,000, licenses and fees $500,000, fines and penalties $500,000, and those will total $20 million.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the Majority Leader.

SENATE MESSAGE

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I would like, first, to have unanimous consent of the House at this time to discuss House Bill No. 573 and House Bill No. 574 which cover the same subject.

The SPEAKER. Without objection the gentleman will proceed to speak on both bills. The Chair hears none.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, bills similar to House Bill 573 and House Bill 574 were recommitted in the session of 1951. The 1953 bills differ from the 1951 bills in that they now exempt Allegheny County. For some reason or other Allegheny County can do no wrong to Pennsylvania industry while Erie appears to be the only guilty culprit. The bills have the meek appearance of a lamb while they possess the potential treachery of a Rocky Mountain lion.

House bills 573 and 574 are very broad and all-inclusive in their application. They affect fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class counties as well as certain smaller political subdivisions in those counties.

While at present these bills affect only the city of Erie and Allegheny County, all the counties and subdivisions mentioned in House Bill 574 would never be able to use this kind of levy if they should find themselves in a sudden financial predicament.

Outlawing this kind of levy would be analogous to outlawing Bill 481 from now on for those political subdivisions who have up to the present moment refrained from invoking it.

House Bill 573 is very inclusive as to the type of machinery which cannot be assessed. It says the following, beginning with line 7, page 3—and Mr. Speaker, I will read the section which includes the exceptions:

"Machinery, tools, appliances, and other equipment."

Mr. Speaker, the two words "other equipment" could rise to haunt many Members of this House if these bills should pass. As the Finance Director of the city of Erie for eight months in 1948, I have become rather well acquainted with the work of an assessor in a third class city. The work of an assessor in a third class city is not much different from that of a county assessor in the counties which are included in this bill. In other words, when we say in this bill that other equipment will be excluded from the possibility of assessment, we are prone to throw the assessment programs in all these counties into a bundle because no Member of this House can convince me that the county assessors in the counties affected by this bill do not now at least include furnaces built into the walls of buildings or heavy equipment cemented into the floors as part of their building assessment.

If these bills should be enacted into law, it will be possible for the county assessors in these counties to absolutely limit themselves only to the mortar and brick of the buildings. We know that is not fair because even today if you should have a mortgage on an industrial plant and the mortgagee fails to make interest payments or periodic payments on his mortgage, you can foreclose on the plant, and any machinery which is attached to the floor can be foreclosed with the building.

That is why I say these bills are so dangerous from that standpoint. On the surface they appear only to affect Erie, but they could affect every one of the classes of counties which are mentioned in the bill.

Economically speaking, there is nothing fundamentally wrong with taxing machinery in this state. This statute has been on the books since 1833. In other words, our forefathers thought it was fair 120 years ago, long before machinery became a real factor in the development of giant nation-wide industries and tremendous concentration of wealth.

It was suggested here that we could levy the same tax under Act 481. Our solicitor informs me that the series of decisions handed down by the State Supreme Court relative to the types of taxes which can be levied under Act 481 precludes the assessing of machinery under this "tax-anything" law, and the net effect of the decisions has been, over the last few years since 1947, to gradually narrow down the number of types of taxes which can be levied under this Act. In fact, our Council in Erie levied an excise tax on production under Act 481, which was declared unconstitutional almost immediately. A tax on machinery cannot possibly be justified under any category except as real estate.

If these two bills pass, they will create financial chaos for the city of Erie and the school administration of the city of Erie.

The effective date of these bills is July 1 of this year, only two or three weeks from now. The two subdivisions will lose a quarter of a million dollars for the remainder of the year, and a half million dollars each year thereafter.

We have no immediate solution to this problem of loss of revenue except to raise the real estate tax millage for the city taxpayer and the school taxpayer This would work a hardship on the small home-owner who is already paying a higher city and school tax this year in addition to a new sewer rental bill and a city wage tax.

I hope the effect of the vote today will not be to unload this burden on the small home owner.

Mr. Speaker, when we discussed this bill several weeks ago, I read telegrams from various organizations throughout the State which are opposed to this bill. I will not again read these telegrams, but I would briefly like to mention the organizations which have rallied to oppose this Bill.

They are the State CIO, local CIO, State Federation of Labor, local Federation of Labor, the East Erie Improvement League, and the Local Division of the PSEA which numbers something like 700 teachers. Since then one or two other organizations have decided to oppose these bills, and now for the first time I would like to read the telegram to you which I received last week.

"Dear Mr. Polaski:

The Pennsylvania School Directors Association at their meeting held in Harrisburg, Saturday, May 9, went on record as opposed to House Bills 573 and 574, and having to do with the exclusion of machinery, tools, appliances and other equipment contained in any mill or manufactory from assessment and taxation.

P. O. VAN NESS
Executive Secretary,
Pennsylvania School Directors Association."

I also have a letter from the Erie City Council, a letter from the School District of the city of Erie, and I would also like to have permission to read an editorial from one of Pittsburgh's most prominent dailies.

This is the editorial:

KILL THIS TAX PROPOSAL. A House Bill to exempt industrial machinery from assessment for taxes reflects the local fight in Erie County and is not deserving of serious consideration by the General Assembly. If it should become law, it would play havoc with the financial and political subdivisions throughout Pennsylvania.

Allegheny County officials, for instance, estimate such a law would necessitate the increase of a mill and a half in the county tax rate. The load would be shifted from industry onto the backs of already heavily burdened home owners.

This legislation has won the endorsement of the Civic Club of Allegheny County which, in its current bulletin, advances this specious argument:

"To include machinery and equipment as part of the value of real estate is not just and this practice discourages industry from locating in Allegheny County."

Now this will be news to a lot of people in this district, and particularly to the Chamber of Commerce, which likes to cite the gratifying industrial growth in recent years. The Statute under which real estate includes machinery in the computation of assessed valuation has been operating in Pennsylvania for well over a century. It would not appear to have hampered its development as one of the greatest industrial states in the nation.

The present law does not put this state at a competitive disadvantage in attracting new industry. In practically all industrial states, machinery is taxed in one way or another.

If, however, machinery were exempted, the financial structures of many Pennsylvania communities would be completely demoralized.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief because I know we have a lot of work ahead of us, but we know that the law that the assessment is made under is an old law. It has not been used until recent years and only by the city of Erie since 1950. So it is a pretty good indication that they can get along without the imposition of this discriminatory tax.

We talk about fairness, and that that is what we are here for, to see that we are fair, and I would just ask this question, Mr. Speaker: An industry which has a couple of diesel locomotives that they use for moving their freight from trunk lines and on their own lines is assessed as real estate. The same type of machinery owned by the railroad traveling over the same track is not assessed as real estate. An industry owns motor trucks which they use to go out in the country to get stuff with which they manufacture their products, are assessed as real estate. The same kind of truck owned by another person, transporting the same thing over the same road is not assessed. So, it looks to me pretty much as if it is definitely taking a shot at some one person or some one business.

We say that it is not affecting us. In Erie alone, I have just a little note here, and it certainly seems more than a coincidence that two large firms have left Erie and two others are now committed to expand in other states other than Pennsylvania. There is a large piece of equipment that was shipped into Erie recently that is not being installed there, it is being re-shipped to the State of Washington.

I can only look at it this way, they say let us not put this load on the small home owner. What is going to happen to Pennsylvania if we continue discrimination against industry and we get into the position that some of the New England States are when their industry has just flown the coop. Right now we are exacting 62 percent of our budget from business, which I think you will find is by far the highest in the Union, and definitely much higher than any other industrial state. In a recent survey among large industrialists, Pennsylvania was quoted as 46th in desirability for new industry.

Those are many things that we must think about. Great nations, the greatest in the world, have fallen because they thought they really could not be touched, and it can certainly prove true with the Commonwealth. If we keep taking pot shots at this goose that has been laying the golden eggs, it will not be long until we will not have even the goose, and then we will be wondering how we are going to pay our bills.

That is about all I have to say. I think it is good legislation. I think it is good for industry. I think it is good for Erie. I think it is good for all of Pennsylvania, and I think it is definitely good for labor. I will ask the Members to support it.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong this debate except to answer the gentleman very briefly.

He said that we are killing the goose that lays the golden egg. I cannot understand why we are killing the goose in Erie but they are not killing the goose in Allegheny County.

Also, the gentleman was very much concerned about the magnitude of taxes placed on corporations in Pennsylvania, and I am quite willing to agree that the load carried by corporations in Pennsylvania is rather heavy in proportion to other states.

However, if the gentleman is so much interested in reducing the load for industry in Pennsylvania, why does he not introduce bills to reduce the CNI and CSF taxes in Pennsylvania?. Why does he propose to do for Erie what he does not propose to do for the state?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill has all the earmarks of being the outcome of an argument between the city of Erie and certain other portions of the County of Erie. I would not presume to get into such an argument were it not for the fact that I have a conviction that this bill is far more extensive in its effects than that. It may have been intended merely to effect the city and county of Erie. But as a matter of fact I believe it has a very far reaching effect. I believe that its effects upon the school districts, the local communities of this Commonwealth are such that many of you, who may otherwise be inclined to support the position of the gentleman from Erie, who sponsored this bill, it might be well to think about carefully before you vote for it.

I believe furthermore that this is a basic change in the tax structure of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and as such is just as important a question as we are likely to consider in this session of the Legislature.

Now after the debate on this question in the first instance, I had the opportunity to talk with a number of gentlemen on both sides of the House whose attention was aroused by some of the things I said and debated on that previous occasion.

I found that there were four questions raised. I would like to answer those four questions at this time.

The first question that was raised was this, is machinery used in a manufacturing plant real property or personal property? Then a corollary question to that, does it have to be fastened down to constitute real property or not?

I want to answer you this question because a lot of people honestly had doubt in this House at the last session whether it was proper to call machinery, particularly machinery that was not fastened down, real property.

I would like to say that this doctrine that it is real property is a very old one in Pennsylvania and is a fundamental part of our real estate tax system. The original decision goes back to 1841, when the Supreme Court considered the case of Voorhees vs. Freeman. The court at that time said this, and I wish you would listen because I think this clears up this question pretty well.

> "Whether fast or loose therefore, all machinery of a manufactory which is necessary to constitute it, and without which it would not be a manufactory at all, must pass for a part of the freehold."

That is the basic decision. The law that my friend from Erie referred to earlier, of 1833, was the original enactment on which this was based.

In 1844 it was amended and the thirty-second section of the Act of 1844 provides, and if you will follow this in your book you will notice that the language has not been changed much since 1844:

> "All real estate, to wit, houses, lots of ground, ground rent, mills and manufacturers of all kinds, furnaces, forges, bloomeries, distilleries, sugar-houses, malt-houses, breweries, vineyards, fisheries, ferries, wharves, and all other real estate not exempt by law from taxation shall be valued and assessed for all state and county purposes.

Now it is on that added part in the law of 1844 that the decisions of the court are based which make machinery taxable as real estate.

In the case of Patterson vs. Delaware County in 1872, which is only eighty-one years ago, the court held that under the act of 1844 machinery was properly taxed as real estate.

In that same decision Justice Butler, who wrote the decision, had this comment and this I think is a sweeping one. "The machinery in a mill," he said, "is as much a part of it as are the walls."

In Titus vs. Poland Coal Company the question was settled whether the machinery has to be fastened down. Just listen to this quotation from the decision, of the Supreme Court:

> The Pennsylvania rule is that a chattel placed in an industrial establishment for permanent use and necessary for the operation of the plant becomes a fixture and as such a part of the real estate, although not physically attached thereto.

In other words, if the article, whether fastened or loose, is indispensable in carrying on the specific business, it becomes a part of the realty.

Now, there are many later cases which could be cited, and I have them here and I am not going to bother you with them, but they are right here on my desk if anyone doubts the continuity of the court's decision that machinery fast or loose, that is part of a manufacturing plant, is properly assessable as real estate.

Now the second question is, is machinery taxed or taxable as real estate in Allegheny and Erie only, or in the other counties of the Commonwealth. If you will examine the Act which this bill amends, you will find that it applies to all counties, cities, boroughs, towns, townships and school districts. In doing a little research on the cases involved here that the court has settled, I found that it has settled cases saying that machinery is real estate in the following counties, Delaware County, Beaver County, Northumberland County, Luzerne County, Dauphin County, in addition to Allegheny and Erie. I did not read all of the speeches.

In other words this question has been raised and decided by the courts for many of the counties of Pennsylvania, and not only the counties of Erie and Allegheny.

The third question. What effect would these bills have upon the assessment and the taxation of school districts and other subdivisions. Well, obviously a part of the school districts' taxing ability would be taken away.

We have heard many eloquent speeches for home rule in this House. We have many people in this House that are of the belief that the school districts insofar as possible should support the schools, and should not expect an increasing amount of aid from the state.

I would say to all the people who are of that mind, believe in home rule and who believe in the local district carrying the burden of taxation for the schools, I would say to those people, don't break away from the local school districts and the local communities, the right to tax something which has been considered as real estate since 1833.

The final question which was raised by the gentleman from Erie the last time we debated it, when he said that if you took away the right to tax machinery under this law as real estate, it could be taxed under 481. Machinery could not be taxed under 481, if it is a part of an industrial plant. Machinery is not personal property. It is real property. 481 does not give to any school district or any local subdivision of this Commonwealth the right to tax real estate. Therefore if you take this right away you take it away entirely. There is no other taxing power under the laws of this Commonwealth under which a local community or a school district could levy a tax on this item which has hitherto been a part of the local districts' income for the support of schools.

Therefore I ask you to consider this carefully, not as an argument between one part of Erie County and another part of Erie County. I wish you would regard this as a basic change in our tax structure in this Commonwealth, one which will necessitate in the future greater state aid for local communities and local school districts. Now if you want to vote for that, if you want to vote to cut down the taxing power of local districts, change our basic fundamental taxing system in Pennsylvania and expect that in the furtue the state will be called more and more to advance tax money to those local communities and to those school districts, if that is what you want, then vote for this with a clear conscience.

If you stand by the things that many of you have professed on other occasions, if you believe in home rule, and if you believe in letting the local tax situation such that a community can tax itself for the things it wants to do, then I say to you, do not consider this as just a local argument, but consider it as a basic fundamental tax argument, and vote on it accordingly—according to the way you have voted on other similar questions.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Briefly, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has me in tears. All I want to say is that I would be very glad to reduce CNI, but I doubt that my good friend from Erie could get me much support on his side of the House because we would have to replace it with something else, and it has not been the pattern so far to make it any easier.

Business has not kicked about CNI, industry has not. They are willing to pay their share but they feel that there should at some time be a limit to what can be done to them. This is merely a protective measure, and I think a good one. I hope now that we can have the vote.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in order to save time of the House on the reenactment of the present taxes which are really the heart of the income that we are now receiving in Pennsylvania, we are going to ask the House to vote first on four bills, 811 and 812. They are the corporate net income tax of 5 percent and one is the loop-hole plugging bill, the former Kent Bill from last session. The next bill is the regular corporate net. House Bill 813, I be'ieve, is the manufacturers' exemption, and 816 is a continuation of the temporary tax on the gross receipts of electric light companies and transmission companies.

I might say that I this morning explained these bills and I hope that the Members, on the side of their calendars, indicated the estimated yield from these various taxes.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass fina'ly?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. AUKER filed the following reason for his vote on House Bill 811:

I voted "no" on House Bill 811, Printer's No. 94, because the bill contains and carries provisions for borrowing on the corporate net income tax revenue of the 1955-57 biennium. It is deficit financing of the poorest kind. It is bad business, bad financing and bad government.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, May I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader for just a second?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask for information. Which one of these tax bills carries with it the accrual of the corporate net income tax, that is, carries the provisions wherein we will again be borrowing six months corporate net income tax from the 1955-1957 biennium?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, the effect of House Bills 811 and 812 is to make corporations during the next two years pay 24 months of corporate net income tax. Had we given up the acceleration feature that amendment would have been in the bill, as I understand it, which would have said, the corporations will only have to pay on the basis of 18 months, and we will forgive the $60 million that they were paying in advance. But the net effect of the bill is to tax corporations for 24 months, That is true of 811 and it is true of 812.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. AUKER filed the following reason for his vote on House Bill 812.

I voted "no" on House Bill 812, Printer's No. 95, because the bill contains and carries provisions for borrowing on the corporate net income tax revenue of the 1955-57 biennium. It is deficit financing of the poorest kind. It is bad business, bad financing and bad government.

SPECIAL ORDER ON HOUSE BILL 813

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 813 as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 462) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class non-profit corporations and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section Provided That the tax of five mills imposed by this subsection on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four shall apply to the taxation of capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That after said [six] eight year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or affected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or affected at an office outside the State but performed in the State the gross receipts under such contract shall be assignable to the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total cost incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (b) the franchise tax of five mills imposed by subsection (b) on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four and for fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors without excluding from the numerators of the applicable fractions tangible property actually and exclusively used in manufacturing compensation of employes exclusively engaged in manufacturing and gross receipts from business strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I know a number of folks were quite amazed when last evening we again reported from the Committee on Ways and Means the sales tax bill. I might say by way of explanation the reason the bill is back on the calendar.

Several weeks ago when the bills were recommitted to Committee, many of the Members on our side felt that we made a mistake in sending the bills back to Committee.

When Governor Fine appeared before this body several weeks ago and made his talk on taxes and the budget, immediately following his speech Members came to my desk, came to the desk of the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means; and practically demanded that the Committee on Ways and Means be called into action and that the two sales tax bills be returned from Committee. They felt that Governor Fine in his speech very strongly pointed out that Pennsylvania needed a board base tax and that the sales tax was the only vehicle by which we could put over a broad base tax in Pennsylvania to balance the Governor's modest budget for the next biennium.

These demands that the Chairman call a Committee meeting were repeated when we came back this week. It was felt that out of deference to the demands of the members who wanted to vote on this bill it should be released from Committee and be placed in position for a vote today. That is just where we stand at the present time. We are about to vote on the sales tax bill. Needless to say, I am asking everybody to vote "Aye" on this bill. I hope to give you reasons why you should do this very thing.

By way of a litt'e history of this Session, we all know that Governor Fine's budget came to us very early in the session. I say it was a very modest budget. It was a budget that had been trimmed to the core. If there was any fat in the budget requests, it had been stricken by the Governor himself.

As I have repeatedly said here, the Governor before he even recommended a budget to us cut $65 million out of the budget requests. After we received the budget in the House, our House Republican Caucus recommended $20 million in budget cuts.

You will recall when Governor Fine was before us recently, he recommended that we cut it another $10 million. In fact his total instead of $157 million in the original budget, by reason of increases and possible increases in revenue and budget cuts, we are now faced with raising the sum of $118 million to balance this budget.

As you all know, the biggest item in the Governor's budget is for education, $503 million. I believe there is some $10 or $15 million in cuts that have been recommended in that particular item.

Pennsylvania is now one of the leading states in education. When I came to this legis'ature in 1947 the school teachers in Smethport, my home borough, were getting anywhere from $1500 to $2000 to $2200 a year. That was after World War II. We in this House had the courage to put through a modest salary bill to raise the teachers to approximately $2100 a year minimum salary, and in the last Session we upped those requirements and doubled their increments for one year.

We had the courage on this side of the House to raise the teachers' salaries on the school budget to pass a tax program which might have been distasteful to us, but we passed a tax program which got us out of the session the last time, and we are proud of the school teachers' salary schedule that is in that bill. We have tried to raise the school teaching profession from a job that most bright young people in Pennsylvania shied away from to a profession that we can all be proud of.

We are not apologizing for the splendid retirement system we have given our teachers. We have an excellent normal school system in this state, and surely nobody would quibble with our providing a reasonable low-cost education for the young person who cannot afford going to the more expensive schools of higher learning besides our normal schools.

We are not apologizing for the money that we are giving to our four great state universities. The money that we give them gives them the added money to provide programs which have made Pennsylvania one of the leading states in the Union as far as higher education is concerned. I think we have some 76 institutions of higher learning in this state at the present titme.

We are doing a good job for our medical schools Pennsylvania is one of the great medical centers of the world today. Recently I read now how at the University of Pittsburgh they have possibly isolated the polio germ. If they have done that, it will save lives and prevent crippling millions of young people in America today. What we give to those medical schools will be a drop in the bucket for the great service we are giving to research and medical education in this state.

We are glad to be able to keep up the soldiers' and sailors' home in Scotland. We are not ashamed of giving money to Lincoln University, the only university north of the Mason-Dixon line for our colored folks. We are glad to help that school.

It is pretty easy to add up $500 million in education in what we are doing in this state, and I say we possibly should even do more for education in Pennsylvania.

Now let us take the Department of Public Assistance. We must provide $105 million for that Department. When I came here in 1949, it was $195 million. Mrs. Evans, the head of that Department is doing an excellent job. They are clearing out the chiselers on relief. They are making relatives pay who are financially responsible to take care of their dependents, and they have done an excellent job in paring that down to $105 million.

Pennsylvania is going to take care of its needy. That is one of the big items in this budget, and it is an item that we must all vote for because it is one that really does a job for our needy in this state. We have an excellent Department of Public Assistance.

Tied in with that is our Welfare Department. We have a very modest budget as far as welfare is concerned. I have heard it estimated that we have 55,000 people in welfare institutions in this state. So I said here on the floor one day, someone said, "You should cut the budget 10 percent." Cut that budget 10 percent? That would mean turning about 5,000 of those people out of welfare institutions back into the local communities and put them back on society so they would be a burden to society.

I understand there are 7,000 or 8,000 persons in Pennsylvania now who are mentally ill or crippled or have spastic paralysis, who are mongoloid, and so forth, that should be in welfare institutions. That is a job that we must do to keep pace with mankind in this state.

With your kind indu'gence I am going to relate further some of the items in the budget. Let us take the $88 million we must put forth now to retire our bonds during the next biennium. Sixty million dollars of that amount is for the soldiers' bonus. There is nobody in this House who wants to apologize for the fact that Pennsylvania passed that bonus. We paid a modest debt to the soldier boys who fought for democracy. We on this side had the courage to pass it and the courage not to annex a tax bill onto the bill. We did not want to kill the bill, we wanted it to stand on its own feet.

In the public press of late I have heard the state Democratic Chairman, and other persons high up in Democratic circles, say we did not have the courage to pass a tax bill in order to pay the soldiers' bonus. As far as that is concerned, if you want to analyze our budget, the budget is really just education and the bonus.

I have searched the Journals because I was sure the gentlemen on the other side had something to say about annexing a tax to the soldiers' bonus back in 1949. In the Legislative Journal of April 18, 1949, on Page 3386, here is what the Minority Leader said about that very thing. I believe there was an attempt to couple the soldiers' bonus with a horse-racing bill.

Mr. Andrews said,

> I am not only opposed to coupling the soldier's bonus with a horse-racing bill, but I am opposed to coupling the soldiers' bonus with any tax at this time. If I were interested in defeating the soldiers' bonus, I would send it to the people tied with a tax, a particular tax. Insofar as the soldiers' bonus is concerned, the bonus is the issue. We refer the question to the judgment of the people and we ask them to vote for or against the soldiers' bonus instead of asking them to vote for or against a particular tax.

You will again pardon me for a personal reference Here is what Mr. Lovett, one of our splendid Members on the other side, said,

> I am like my colleague, Mr. Andrews. I feel that the issue is a separate issue and should not be tied. I feel that the Members of the Legislature two years from now should decide the issue, or if there is a special session, we should then decide the issue of the tax.

I am pointing this out to say that the fact that we have not got a tax today that is tied to the soldiers' bonus was the will of the Republicans, the Democrats, the American Legion, the AMVETS. Everybody in Pennsylvania wanted that thing to stand on its own. That is the reason why we are faced today with the ever-recurring $60 million in our budget. We are glad to stand up and vote for taxes to pay that particular item because it was paying, as I said, a just debt to the soldier boys.

We have other items in the budget, but I have pointed out what I consider are the main items, and I say they are very, very modest.

The $79 million for running the Departments is also a modest sum. That has been cut to the bone. It all adds up to over a billion dollars, but we have cut it some, and it is now under a billion. Yet we face the fact that we must raise $118 million.

I want to say something about our present tax structure. It is pegged to business, it is pegged to prosperity, and it is pegged to profits. Pennsylvania would be in a terrible shape if we continually put on the back of business more and more taxes. I have a chart here which shows that business is now paying 63 percent of the tax load of this state. That is not only unfair, but as I say it is dangerous, because if we go into a tailspin of any kind, you will find that the tax that we will receive from corporate net income will go down, the cost of relief will go up and we could very, very quickly face a $100 million deficit which would call for maybe an immediate special session to get the money to run the state during the current biennium.

We have before us today the sales tax bills. It is a broad base tax. Again, as I have said here, unless you drink, smoke, die, become incorporated, or have a casual sale of real estate, the average person does not pay anything to run this great state. That is an anomalous situation. Business has been carrying the load. I and all of us in this House have been going on an easy ride. The time has come when the average man, the man in the street, should put his shoulder to the wheel and help run this great state.

This sales tax bill is the vehicle, the opportunity, for the fair-minded, moral Pennsylvanian to step right up and say, "Fellows, you did a job. We are glad to be able to do this for Pennsylvania, for the people who need this money, for our schools, for our soldiers' bonus, for all our institutions."

In drawing up this sales tax bill, we tried to be eminently fair. We exempt food; shelter is exempt. Your insurance premiums, laundry, all types of services are exempt in the bill.

Recently I gave you some figures on the floor of the House that the unskilled worker making from $2100 to $2300 or $2400 a year would only pay from five to seven dollars a year under this tax. Someone said the way you have amendments in this bill it is in effect a graduated income tax because the average fellow that is getting the smaller salary, most of his money going for food and not exempt items. The incidence of the tax does not fall very heavily on him. It becomes regressive, as I understand it, at around $6000.

The bill as it stands, I believe is a fair bill. I think it is equitable, I think the people of Pennsylvania, once we enact it and put it into the law, know that it is earmarked for education which is one of the big things in Pennsylvania that we are paying money for. After it has been enacted into law, I am sure that the people will say "Well, I am glad to pay my share to run the educational system in this state."

The average person will admit that heretofore they have not been paying a dime to run this particular department of our government, unless, as I said, they smoke or drink or become incorporated or should pass away, and then their estate will have to pay a very modest inheritance tax of 2 percent, if they are direct heirs.

I want to say to everybody in this House, and I am speaking not only to Republicans but I am appealing to Democrats, this is our problem. We all voted for House Bill 417 in 1947 that raised teachers' salaries. We voted for the bill last Session that gave them more money. We voted for school transportation, school buses to transport our children. We all voted for school building authorities which makes it possible to erect school buildings in Pennsylvania that are now so vitally needed in this great increase in our population since the war.

As the years go on we are going to face a tremendous problem in housing the grade schools and later on the high schools in this state. This money we must have in order to balance this budget.

All of us in this House have voted for appropriation bills. We have created all these different things that we now need the money for. This is a very importan Session, probably the most important since the Civil War, because we have come to the point where we have run out of hodge podge taxes. Enacting every hodge podge taxes is slapping somebody that is already paying huge Pennsylvania taxes in some other form. It is grossly unfair.

Therefore this tax, I would say, is the fairest tax that we presently can put forth. I could recite to you some of the school districts in Pennsylvania that are receiving funds right now that are in Democratic districts.

Again you will pardon the personal reference, but let us take the Minority Leader. He can say what I am getting in McKean County for my school. Take the city of Johnstown, I have some figures here which are perhaps a fair estimate for 1954-1955, Johnstown will receive a total of $1,014,690, over a million dollars. Their local effort is $1,700 thousand. But they are getting a million dollars from the state.

Let us be fair, Mr. Lovett. If he is from Trafford Borough, which I think he is, they will receive $88 thousand during the 1954-1955 school year. They will receive $88,733, and their local effort is around $97 thousand.

We are just as fair to Republican counties as to Democratic counties, to all counties in Pennsylvania. We must all run our hospitals and our schools, and therefore it behooves everybody on both sides of the House to forget about whether you will be reelected to come back here or not. That should be the minor issue. Let us be statesmen first, and Assemblymen who want to be reelected second. That is your job here today.

This is a very, very fair tax bill. It is eminently fair. I think if you vote for it you can go home and probably say to your teachers and your doctors and nurses and your people in your hospitals, "I had the guts to stand up and vote for a broad base tax to keep up the good work in Pennsylvania."

Instead of your going home and saying "I did not have the courage to vote for a broad base tax which would save Pennsylvania from financial ruin during the next two years, I was glad to be able to stand up and be counted as voting on a tax which will give everybody in Pennsylvania a chance to pay the load.

Therefore, I am asking everybody in this House to vote "aye" when the roll is called on this bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman for his remarks on what I had to say about the soldiers' bonus.

I appreciate what my Borough gets from the state of Pennsylvania. I have more or less always advocated a broad base tax. I discovered to my amazement when I look over this great state of ours that there are so many municipalities today that are paying a broad base tax. In my little Borough of Trafford, we are paying a one percent wage tax, three-fourths of which goes to the School District and one-fourth to the Borough.

I must say to you, as I said here the other day, you are a little late in enacting your broad base tax. You have given to every municipality outside of second class townships the right to enact a broad base tax in this state of ours. Now you are going to pile on their backs an additional tax from the state. I say to you that the interests in the state of Pennsylvania that made their millions during the war years should be ashamed of themselves to now ask the soldier boys with the families to pay back the soldiers' bonus that they received.

Where are the millions that were made in Pennsylvania during the war years? Who is going to bear the burden? Who are these poor corporations that you are taking about? You are not kidding the people of Pennsylvania. Nobody is being kidded. The working man today tells me, "Jim, why don't you fellows down in Harrisburg just take our pay and give us a couple of dollars for spending money?" That is what is happening in Pennsylvania, and I say to you that a state as rich as the state of Pennsylvania should be ashamed of itself to pile a broad base tax, such as this on the backs of those on whom you have already, in almost every municipality, placed a broad base tax. That is the reason why I can stand here and honestly and truthfully vote against this sales tax.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, at this late hour it is not my intention to emulate the example set by the eloquent and able Majority leader. He is a real evangelist. I think I could make a lot of money if I could get a tent and have him preach to the people to hit the sawdust trail.

He laments the fact that a portion of Pennsylvania's revenues are tied to profits and prosperity. If there is any place to tie taxes, it is to profits and prosperity during the period when profits and prosperity are the rule.

Mention has been made of the portion of our Commonwealth budget that is financed by taxes levied on business compared with other states. They do not tell you that when you take the taxes paid by business at local levels, business is undertaxed in Pennsylvania. And they do not tell you that per capita taxation in Pennsylvania is $11 a year below the national level.

I have listened with real interest to the paean of praise the Majority Leader sang about the achievements of his party, about their courage, their willingness to pass taxes, their courage sufficient to enable them at every turn of the road to meet the issue. Now as far as I am concerned there is a call for courage upon the part of the majority group in this House. Trot out your courage; we have the conviction. Your conviction seems to lead you in the direction of the tax you talk about.

You say a tax on cigarettes and things like that is hodge podge. You could tax three or four articles in that hodge podge, but if you tax the ten thousand articles that enter into the economy of the average home, if you tax baby buggies and spoons and tables and table cloths and hats and automobiles and all the other things that you could name about the home, instead of taxing a few articles you tax them all, and that is statesmanship, but is not hodge podge!

When I hear the bell tolling, I do not know whether it is tolling a paean of victory or whether it is tolling the doom of the sales tax. The call of the bell is for courage. Let's have the vote.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I made a remark at the opening days of this session that I felt it was going to take a lot of cooperation and a lot of understanding among the membership of this House, and I mean the membership on both sides of this House, if we were to accomplish the job that we are faced with.

I am sure today is the day when all of us have to face up to the responsibility that was placed in us when we were sent here. There is nothing more important to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania than that they receive the services from their government that they want. It certainly can not be argued in this House today that the people of Pennsylvania do not want the services that they are receiving from the government here in Harrisburg.

It cannot be denied that additional funds are needed by additional taxes and additional means of raising the revenue with which those people will receive the services we are providing.

I think our responsibility, and I think we should think a lot about this, is to the people that put us here and all of the people of Pennsylvania; not only the ones from our respective districts, but to everyone. Certainly our duty and responsibility, our obligation to them is much greater than our responsibility to the political organization to which we happen to be affiliated.

Certainly we cannot sit here and vote appropriations without providing the means with which the bills are going to be paid.

For the first time since I have been in this Legislature I now have a chance to vote for the revenue raising measure that has the least opposition of any tax that I have been called upon to vote on since I have been here. I think you will all agree with that.

But what the reason is that we seem to be faced with a dilemma, that we cannot raise the necessary funds, what that reason is, I do not know. I have a lot of suspicions, but what the real reason is I certainly do not know. I do know that the Republican leadership in this House has made every possible effort to provide a tax program which will pay the bill and provide the service which everyone of us is here to give to our people in Pennsylvania.

Someone might say we need help. Possibly we do need help, but then I cannot help saying again, the responsibility of raising revenues to pay for this service is not entirely in the hands of the Republicans of this House; the burden should be equally borne with the minority.

Another thing, Mr. Speaker, and I do not want to be so naive as to think that it does not happen, but I don't think that any revenue raising measure, any tax bill or any other bill that is on our calendar or is introduced in this House, I do not think that its success or its failure should depend upon the success or the failure of some other bill that has been introduced in this House or happens to be on the calendar.

I went on record for the sales tax in 1950 in my home town and in my home county, and I can say to you with all sincerity that it has not hurt me one bit. I think some thought should be given to this; if anyone in opposition to this sales tax thinks it is going to affect his chances of being sent back to this House, I would like to ask him what he thinks his chances are going to be if the bill is not paid and if the money must be raised back in your local counties, your local districts, on a local level.

I think you will all agree that the response from the people of this Commonwealth on any idea such as that certainly answers that question, that it cannot be done.

In closing Mr. Speaker, I want to say this, and I want to take exception to the remarks of the Democratic leader, the Pennsylvania Democratic leader, when he said last night in Erie, and I quote "The Republican Party," he accuses us, "is callously buying votes through appropriation of large sums to popular vote-getting programs while avoiding the unpleasant task of enacting taxes to pay for them."

I will agree with him in this one respect. If you want to call it buying, the programs that we are providing to the people of this Commonwealth, if you want to call that buying, vote-getting programs, then I am for it. And I hope we will continue, because any program we can provide that will get the votes to keep a Republican administration in Pennsylvania is a good program. But I take serious exception and challenge the gentleman in his remark that we are avoiding an unpleasant task of passing a tax program to pay for that program.

We are doing everything we can to meet that task. I want to say again that I think if you want to do a job for the people of Pennsylvania whom you represent, you will join the others who believe that the sales tax is the fair and equitable way to raise this money and vote for this sales tax.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I noted in the Minority Leader's address that he mentioned, business is under-taxed in Pennsylvania. I thought of a picture that I have seen recently in a popular magazine of another State, advertising in every attractive way they could to bring business into their state. They offered a certain number of years when there would be no taxes. They claim they have the labor, they have the equipment, they have the power, they have every thing that any business would want. Business was not over-taxed in their state, was their advertising power.

I think sometimes the Democrats in the state forget that they are not Democrats in the national government. In the national government they can tax business, and they know it is going on all over the United States. But you gentlemen sitting here are not doing it all over the United States when you pass taxes on business. We have competition with other states in the United States, and it is about time we make a few observations.

One of the things is this, you do not have to read too many magazines to know that steel and iron ore are no longer coming from the same source. It is going to come from South America. It is going to come from other continents, and we are going to continue to manufacture steel in the same proportions that we have been. That means something else. That means that steel mills are moving down to Mobile, Alabama, and they are moving over to Baltimore and other seacoast ports. Now, they do not all want to move; they want to stay here because moving is an expensive proposition, and a lot of them are staying right here in Pennsylvania. As long as that exists we still have the same name that we had before, the greatest state for producers' goods in the world. That name is going to cease if we continue to push and push and push on business, because there is a time when they are going to add up the fact that they have to go so far for their iron ore, and they are going to add to that the fact that taxes are too high, and they are going to add the fact that we have driven out all the manufacturers in Pennsylvania so that they do not have to go so far for their steel any more, but they have to go as far as they ever did. They will say, we will move closer to the people in the other states because Pennsylvania is driving its manufacturers out. It is a rolling ball. It rolls and we have it here in Pennsylvania, and we better not starting talking about under-taxing business. We better keep them while we have them.

And another thing about veterans. I am a veteran. I received the benefits of the soldiers' bonus. And all I have to say now is do not take jobs away from veterans. They are no longer in the Army. Do not slap taxes on corporations and drive them out of Pennsylvania. We are well situated here. I will pay my share. I always wanted to carry my share. I carried it in the army and I will carry it now. I think the veterans of Pennsylvania want to carry their share of this state's tax load.

Mr. GLEASON. Mr. Speaker, "Let's be fair Lovett" was up a minute ago and made a statement that the working man would sooner have us get his pay check and then hand him back a few dollars instead of taking off a tax.

I do not believe the working man is so bad off in Pennsylvania as he makes him out to be. I see them have new cars, they have radios, they have television, they go to the movies, they seem to be able to go out to night clubs, go to the bars, and so forth. I want to tell you I am a farmer, and the farmers and farm help do not get anywhere near the wage that the working man does per hour. I have a man who lives in my apartment on the farm that I happen to have, a double house, and I know that he gets $1.82 an hour and when I figure it out here, my son and my hired man and the hours that they put in, they get every 14th day off—they put in 143 hours in 13 days, and if he got paid the hourly rate that the working man does, even a truck driver up our way gets $1.10, I am afraid you would have to get a lot more to be a Legislator and be able to eat down here in Harrisburg. I cannot see where the working man is bad off. I as a farmer and the rest of the farmers in the state of Pennsylvania, I think are willing to pay our share and we work more hours and harder hours I believe than anybody in this state. I just wanted to come back at Mr. Lovett on that statement on the working man.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I did not want to prolong the debate, but they continually say "Let's be fair, Lovett." I am not sorry for anything I said. I say to the farmer gentleman that the gentleman who is working for him possibly does not own any big farm. He may own a car that he travels around in.

I am only telling you here today that you have just about gone to the point in taking taxes out of the pay envelope, that these fellows will not be able to run these cars. When you cannot run those cars and cannot sell those cars to those working people, then you will not need to bother about the factories in Pennsylvania.

The only thing that makes business is the people. You can have all the factories in the world. They do not make anything. It is the people who make the country, and it is the masses of people that we are talking about.

The gentleman, my friend over here, says that he did not get many complaints; at least the least number of complaints he has ever had on a tax program. When you tax the poor people, you do not get many complaints, but when you tax the interests, they are here enmasse for their own protection, and there are only a few of us here who will get up and voice our opinions about what you do to the other people of the state of Pennsylvania. You should all get up because you all have them, the same as I have. The majority of the people of this state are poor people, not rich people, and the rich people do not pay their share of the burden. If they would everything would be lovely. You should collect from those best able to pay.

Why are we against the flat income tax? You would have taxed the poor news boys on the streets; you would have taxed everybody and anybody that made a nickel. So stop and think, ladies and gentlemen. Stop and think of the value of Pennsylvania and all this talk about factories moving out of the state of Pennsylvania.

I heard that back in the Earle administration. We were chasing them all out of Pennsylvania. They are still here. They are all here yet. They are not running away from the protection which they have here—do not kid yourself. They are as well protected in the state of Pennsylvania as any place in the nation that I know of.

Now you can cite figures of what you would pay. It is the most unfair thing in the world to cite the figures that you cite. You take one particular tax and you talk about it, but you do not pay it, and talk about the rest of the taxes that are in this state or that state or the other state.

Let's be fair, as I said before, and face the issues and know when we are doing it that we are protecting the private interests in Pennsylvania over and above the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise to oppose the sales tax as a matter of obstructionism. I rise to oppose the sales tax in principle because the history of the sales tax is, once it is on it never comes off. If it does it is a miracle.

In the terms that I have been here I have seen the state budget go from between $800 million to $1,200 million to a $1,400 million. According to the best minds a $2 billion Pennsylvania budget is not too far in the future. It is perfectly true that corporations pay a heavy part of the tax burden in Pennsylvania and it is true that the one percent tax, the way this tax is lined up, is not much. But in future sessions of this Legislatire when you are faced with raising another quarter billion dollars, when your budget starts hitting the billion eight hundred million on to $2 billion to carry on the services of this state, there is only one answer. It will be two percent and three percent. Other states have done it. They have had to do it.

I want to say that as a matter of obstructing the wishes of the majority party at this Session in balancing the budget, I am not opposing this sales tax for that reason. I am opposing it because I believe the people of this state who will pay the sales tax should not be burdened with the extra half a billion dollars that we can see in the state's budgets of the future.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to speak in support of the sales tax. I believe the merits of it and the need for it have been very well covered by my able colleagues.

So far as the statement of the Minority Floor Leader is concerned about having conviction and courage, at the risk of being possibly thought a little conceited, I want to inform the gentleman—and I think I have shown it in this Session—that I have the courage to vote my convictions.

I would remind the gentleman and the Democratic party that I was the only Republican who voted for postponement of a vote on the sales tax, although it carried. I had specific reasons for doing that. I did not believe the people of Pennsylvania were thoroughly educated, and possibly they are not as yet thoroughly educated, to the need for a broad base tax. Certainly there is a vital need for it.

I came down here against any new tax. I, and all others who came down with me for the first time, who had not been here for some years past, did not realize what a chaotic, confused financial condition the state of Pennsylvania was in. We realize it now. I believe that the delay that has occurred on this bill has enabled us who believe in economy in state government to effect a lot of economies.

At the risk again, Mr. Speaker, of being thought possibly a little conceited, I want to assure my colleague from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, and others on the other side of the House, and also on this side of the House, that it was one of my ideas that this tax would only be made temporary; that this tax would not go beyond this present biennium and in order to keep it on the books it would have to be reenacted again in 1955 and 1957.

The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Minority Floor Leader, made a statement about statesmanship. I question what kind of statesmanship it may be that we as sincere legislators, as we all ought to be, would deliberately pass a bill entering into deficit financing, such as a bill that passed this House this afternoon. Then bring us back here—those of us who want to come back; we may or may not after next year's election—facing another deficit because we have borrowed from the 1955-1957 biennium another six months' revenue that ought to stay just where it is, and sometime that bill is going to have to be paid. I say it ought to be paid now and not prolonged.

Deficit financing is not good; it is not good government; it is not good business and it is not good financing. I believe every Member of this House knows in his heart that that is true.

I considered the tax program that was on the calendar and that has been proposed and to my mind, and I say it sincerely, and I hope from my past record in votes on various bill in this House that it will be taken as such by the Members of this House, that this sales tax now is absolutely necessary for the next two years to solve our financial problems, and to provide the continued good services for the schools, the welfare institutions, the handicapped children, the senile, the insane people, those who are feeble minded, if we want to keep those institutions open, pay adequate wages to the people who maintain those institutions which they are not now being paid. I am saying sincerely that I can be honest in my convictions in voting for this sales tax, just as those on the other side of the House say they can be honest in not voting for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Whereas, The Central Committee of Christian Social Relations of the five Dioceses of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Pennsylvania having made a thorough study of following bills pending before the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and recommends that they be supported by each Diocese.

Be it resolved by the Convention of the Diocese of Erie, that we recommend the passage of House Bill 1160—the basic Child Care Act; House Bill 1132—amending the County Institution District Act; and Senate Bill 480—amending the adoption law.

Be it resolved by the Convention of the Diocese of Erie that we oppose any measure which would legalize gambling in any form.

Be it resolved by the Convention of the Diocese of Erie that we oppose any extension of time for public sale of alcoholic beverages, to any broadened advertising program, and to the public encouragement to the increased use of such beverages.

This Diocese includes Episcopalians living in the thirteen counties of Northwestern Pennsylvania. I trust that you will consider this Convention action seriously in regard to the resolutions involved.

Faithfully yours,

SENATE BILLS MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, on pages one through nine on today's calendar, we have Senate Bill 327, Printer's No. 59, Senate Bill 329, Printer's No. 46, Senate Bill 336, Printer's No. 53, Senate Bill 338, Printer's No. 55, Senate Bill 341, Printer's No. 58, Senate Bill 408, Printer's No. 127, Senate Bill 410, Printer's No. 129, Senate Bill 411, Printer's No. 130, Senate Bill 412, Printer's No. 131, Senate Bill 416, Printer's No. 135, Senate Bill 518, Printer's No. 187, Senate Bill 519, Printer's No. 188, Senate Bill 520, Printer's No. 189, Senate Bill 521, Printer's No. 190 and Senate Bill 522, Printer's No. 191 on special order on third reading and final passage.

I move that these bills be made a special order of business immediately.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, so that we can expedite the business of the House without too much loss of time I ask that the Members turn to the calendar on page 46. The orderly process of business will require that the bills be taken up in the following order. You might just make a notation on the back of your calendar.

The first bill that we shall consider is Senate Bill 327. This bill would transfer the Historical and Museum Commission to the Department of Pubic Instruction.

Next in order we should consider 341. Senate Bill 329 depends on the adoption of 341, therefore, the next bill to be considered will be 341, and if that bill carries, we shall then consider Senate 329.

We will then proceed to Senate Bill 336 which is a proposed Constitutional amendment affecting the appointment and tenure of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. That bill does not depend on any other bill.

The next bill to take up will be Senate Bill 338 which would take the Superintendent of Public Instruction off membership on the State Council of Education.

The next bill in its order, not depending on any other bill, would be Senate Bill 410. That would make the State Council of Civil Defense an administrative agency in the Department of Military Affairs.

The next bill would be Senate Bill 416—that would transfer the duties with regard to milk sanitation from the Department of Health to the Department of Agriculture.

The remaining bills are related bills. Senate Bill 412 should be considered first, as that would abolish the Department of Commerce.

The next bill would be 411, which would repeal the Commerce Law.

The next bill would be Senate Bill 518, which would transfer the State Planning Board from Commerce to Internal Affairs.

Then we would take up 521, which would have the same effect as 518 by amendment to the Administrative Code.

Then we would take up 520 which would transfer the Aeronautics Commission from Commerce to Internal Affairs.

519 would transfer the appropriation out of the Motor License Funds for the use of the Aeronautics Commission from Commerce to Internal Affairs.

And the last bill would be 522 which would transfer certain duties with regard to promotional activity from Commerce to Internal Affairs and the Department of Highways.

We would then consider a separate bill, 408, which places the duty on the Department of Public Assistance, I believe, to prosecute financially responsible relatives.

SPECIAL ORDER ON SENATE 327

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 327, entitled:

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of further study.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I oppose the motion to recommit this bill or any of the bills in this package. I am extremely sorry to see the House going through a procedure of this sort. A motion to recommit on a controversial issue of any kind is a cowardly sort of move. I think the Members of this House should be perfectly willing to stand up and be counted on any of these measures.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, is not Senate Bill 338, Printer's No. 55, in the nature of a companion bill to Senate Bill 336, Printer's No. 53?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, my information is that Senate Bill 338 is not dependent on any other bill. They both have to do with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, but they are not so connected that if the one falls the other of necessity must fall.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Then, because of the fact that we have already recommitted 336, would that make 338 in any way different if it were passed?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would say that there is no true relation between the two bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is the result of sheer effrontery upon the part of the Chesterman Committee. It involves basic policy. The Chesterman Committee was not concerned, properly concerned, with the policies upon which our state government is based. The Chesterman Committee was concerned with administrative details, with possible economies in operation.

Now it is very basic whether we decide that the Superintendent of Education should not be a member of the State Council of Education. If anyone has any reason why the head of our educational system should not be a member of the State Council, I would like to know what it is. This bill has something back of it, some movement, some sentiment, some inner feud with which I am not acquainted, but it does involve a basic departure from our policy, and I question the wisdom of that departure.

Incidentally, Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that in connection with all of these Chesterman Committee bills, that while they were considered in our caucus there was no caucus action that in any way governed the decision of the individual members of our Democratic caucus. As far as these Chesterman Committee bills are concerned no member is in any way obligated to follow my opinion, they are wholly on their own. My opinion is that this is a bad bill and should be voted down.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I know that the membership is tired; we have had a hard day. I do not want to say that there is rancor in the House. We are all good fellows, and it doesn't matter if we fight today, we are friends tomorrow.

We have these Chesterman bills on the calendar, and I think they are very important bills. Perhaps we have glossed over them too lightly. I think they are bills that deserve debate, and perhaps a roll-call.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to ask the Majority Leader what is gained by placing it on the final passage postponed calendar instead of voting upon it at this time?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would repeat, the hour is getting late. I want to say again that these bills should be brought up at another time when we can debate them at length. I think it is very important that these Chesterman bills be given more consideration than we have given them tonight. I realize that nothing will be gained tonight. I believe we should not consider these bills at this late hour; I think we are passing over one of the very important issues of this Session at a late hour when everybody is tired. I think the bills deserve more consideration.

Mr. ANDREWS. The Majority Leader may be tired, I am just entering the day.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the questoin recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to take one more moment before we vote on this bill to point out something the Members may not have noticed.

If it is the intention of this bill to get rid of the Superintendent of Public Instruction as a member of the State Council of Education, we will certainly not accomplish it by this bill, because it simply eliminates the requirement by law that he be on that Council, and authorizes the Governor to appoint nine members to that Council. I can not conceive of a Governor not putting his own Superintendent of Public Instruction on the Council. So, in my opinion this bill is silly, and ought to be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

(Following the calling of the roll and before the result was announced.)

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, how is the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Maxwell, reported as voting?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not see the gentleman in the House.

Mr. GEER. Is the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Maxwell, in the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to locate the gentleman. Can any Member vouch for the fact that the gentleman was in the Hall of the House during the calling of the roll?

(No response.)

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GEER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out that the reason I cited Mr. Maxwell was that recently on the floor of the House he pointed out how urgent these particular Chesterman bills were. That has been the cry of the Democratic party over and over again. I am very anxious to see how individuals in the Democratic party vote who are attacking the Republican party for rejecting these bills when the bill is up for vote.

In this particular case the gentleman is on the record as critizing the Republican party, but he is not here tonight to vote in favor of the Chesterman bills.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I question the propriety of the personal reference. Indeed I think it would have been within the proper province of the Chair to call the attention of the last speaker to the impropriety of his personal reference.

The remarks were not in keping with the parliamentary traditions of this House. As far as Democratic acceptance of the absurdities interlarded into the Chesterman committee report, I certainly am not a party to them.

We speak here for and on behalf of ourselves. We are a legislative body. We are only one part of the General Assembly. We have a right to our opinions, and it is not fitting that we should be personally attacked because of what we may say or fail to say.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GEER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I only need to call attention to a rumor which was only in the newspapers in recent days, concerning the Democratic statement that anybody who voted for the sales tax would be run out of the Democratic party.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, all that the gentleman read was my personal opinion that any member of the Democratic party on this side of the House, if he voted for the sales tax, would cease to be a Member of the Democratic caucus.

I have no doubt that the gentleman from Allegheny is very zealous in his desire to serve his party. I would suggest that if he really desires to render a maximum service that he retire to the fastness from which he came and not return.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, so far as the Chesterman committee reports are concerned, I have voted against recommitting each one. I voted for this last bill, 338. The reason I did that, I feel that the Chesterman Committee did a remarkable job. I agree with Mr. Bolton that it is a cowardly way of getting by, the way they are handling these bills.

I served on this Hill for approximately ten years in different Departments. I worked in the Public Utility Commission, State Treasury, Auditor General, spent some time in Highway, and this is my second term here.

I knew when the Governor appointed this Committee, just exactly what this Committee was going to find. You do not run a political machine like you would a business enterprise. I knew that these men were going to do a good job, and I had hoped that this House would pass every bill that the Chesterman Committee recommended. Had they done this I am sure it would have solved, or at least gone a long way in solving the problems we have in the state.

I would like to cite some of the things that happened in some of these Departments during my time, but I do not care to do so right now, because it would be too embarrassing to a lot of people. But I believe that this House should consider these bills, and not take the action they are taking in recommitting them.

We are sent down here to do a job, and when you have a job that is a nasty job that you do not like when you are a politician, that is one thing, but when you are serving the people back home that is another.

I say these Chesterman Committee bills need further consideration by the Members here tonight, and we are not tired. Let us go through these bills and do a job. Try and help these people back home on whom we are trying to pile the taxes.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. BOLTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Minority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Minority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I indulge myself in the defense of the Majority Leader that I am tired.

The SPEAKER. I am afraid the gentleman will not accept that explanation after the gentleman's remark a few minutes ago that he was full of pep.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, let the gentleman proceed.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, as a Republican I was extremely glad to hear the Minority Leader's comment that he thought administrative economy was not particularly important, at least as proposed by the Chesterman

Committee. I should like to ask the Minority Leader if he thinks at this time in the state's fiscal troubled time —let us put it that way—that administrative economy or any other economy is unimportant?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Montgomery was not listening when I was speaking, or I failed to speak clearly.

I said that the Chesterman Committee was properly concerned with administrative economy but it was not charged with the responsibility of passing upon administrative policies. Its mission was to consider those matters that would save the Commonwealth money and not to indulge in criticism as to policies that in no way had any relation to economy.

That is what I said, and I think the record will bear me out. I consider economies and attention to administrative details very, very important matters, and my only regret is that the Chesterman Committee in so many instances failed to wrap its minds around the actual problems with which it dealt.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for a long answer to a short question.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WM. B. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to inform the Members of the House the name of the Governor who was the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth at the time he worked in Harrisburg.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH, I do not see where that has anything to do with this bill.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he will tell us the name of the State Treasurer when he was employed in the State Treasurer's office.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that has anything to do with the bill, either.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH, Yes, I shall, Mr. Speaker, but I want the gentleman to talk about this bill; I do not want the gentleman to talk about something that happened ten years ago.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman the party with which the people were affiliated and who were in control of the Public Utility Commission when he was an employe of that Department.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would be glad to answer that. I believe the first year and a half it was under Democratic control, and a year and a half after that I believe it was under Republican control from which I tried to resign and they would not let me.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, apparently it is a dark secret which party was in control when the gentleman was affiliated with the state government as an employe. I am quite certain it was not the efficient, honest Republican party that has had control of Pennsylvania in recent years.

SPECIAL ORDER ON SENATE BILL 410

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 410 as follows

An Act to amend subsection (e) of Section three of the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 28) entitled "An act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense local and district councils of civil defense Mobile Support Units prescribing the powers duties and immunities thereof and of their personnel authorizing mutual aid compacts and providing penalties" by establishing the State Council of Civil Defense a departmental administrative board within the Department of Military Affairs

Section 1 Subsection (e) of Section three of the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 28) entitled "An act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense local and district councils of civil defense Mobile Support Units prescribing the powers duties and immunities thereof and of their personnel authorizing mutual aid compacts and providing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

* * * * *

(e) The Council when created shall be a departmental administrative board within the Department of Military Affairs and shall be subject to the provisions of The Administrative Code of 1929 the act of April ninth one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine Pamphlet Laws 177 as amended which apply generally to departmental administrative boards and commissions except as in this act otherwise provided

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the State Council of Civil Defense, I can say that there is no objection to this bill. There is nothing to be gained, nothing to be lost. It will probably cost the Military about $5,000 a year more to administer the change than it is now costing the State Council, but there is no objection upon the part of the State Council to this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Frost, Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Frost permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FROST. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman if he knows what funds if any would be saved by making this transfer from the Department of Health to the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. FROST. That is in connection with Senate Bill 416?

Mr. READINGER. We desire to know if the gentleman has any estimate or knowledge of the amount of funds which might be saved to the Commonwealth by changing the sanitation duties from the Department of Health to the Department of Agriculture under this bill.

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, the question the gentleman asks is asked in connection with Senate Bill 416, is it not?

Mr. READINGER. Are we not on Senate Bill 416, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. We are now on Senate Bill 416, page 6, of today's calendar.

Mr. FROST. If it is agreeable to Mr. Readinger, I would like to yield to Mr. Light. I do not know the details of this bill. It was not in my Committee, and I yield to Mr. Light.

Mr. READINGER. I will be glad to interrogate Mr. Light.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Light, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIGHT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Is the gentleman on the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I am not on Public Health and Sanitation. I am on the Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. READINGER. Would the gentleman tell me if he knows what funds are estimated to be saved, if any are to be saved by this transfer?

Mr. LIGHT. For the year ending December 31, 1952, the Department of Health received $769,000 from the federal government for general health work, and out of that they allocated $100,000 to milk sanitation.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman mean by that that $100,000 would be saved if this bill were passed?

Mr. LIGHT. No, the provision on the part of the federal government is that at least 50 percent of the money that is allocated to sanitation must be met by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the audit of 1952, by the Auditor General shows that the Commonwealth had exceeded its appropriations for that purpose by more than 100 percent of $100,000.

Mr. READINGER. Would the gentleman please specifically answer my question as to whether there will be any funds, any actual money saved by this transfer. At the moment I am not interested in how much it has been costing to furnish these services under the Department of Health; I would like to know if any money can be saved.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, because of the duplication between the Department of Health and the Department of Agriculture, it is assumed—I have no figures on this, but in conference with the Secretary of Agriculture, it is felt that it would not take $100,000, possibly $50,000, possibly not that much, to do the work of the Department of Health in the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. READINGER. Can the gentleman tell me if any lesser number of persons will be engaged in this particular work if this transfer is made?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, the Department of Health has 18 persons employed as inspectors on milk sanitation, and there are 600 persons employed by the milk companies of Pennsylvania who are out in the field making sanitary inspections. Those people are paid by the milk companies, I am informed.

The Department of Agriculture has 30 men out in the field in their inspection work, and they duplicate—they get into practically all the places the other inspectors go. It is presumed and supposed that those same people who are now doing work for the Department of Health, for the milk companies of Pennsylvania, would also do the work for Agriculture.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman how many years the Department of Health has been handling this type of sanitation work?

Mr. LIGHT. I cannot tell you exactly. I think it is about since 1931, about 20 years.

Mr. READINGER. Would the gentleman then say that over all those years there has been a duplication and a waste because this particular legislation has not been passed?

Mr. LIGHT. For the last twenty years the milk cooperatives and the people who are milk dealers and milk suppliers have contended for this change.

Mr. READINGER. Could the gentleman tell me whether or not there would be a conflict of interest as far as the consuming public's health is concerned between the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I do not realize that any such condition can exist, for the reason that the relation between the Department of Health, the Department of Agriculture, and the federal departments that are involved in regulation in Pennsylvania has always been of the most amicable nature. I do not see that there could be any situation whereby feeling might rise between Departments which would injure the work of the new Department.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman if the Department of Agriculture does not supervise the production of milk? Is that in the jurisdiction of the Department of Agriculture, to supervise the production of milk?

Mr. LIGHT. The Department of Agriculture does not supervise the production of milk. It supervises the herds of the state, and they issue licenses to milk plants—two kinds of licenses. They issue licenses to plants to manufacture ice cream. They issue licenses to milk plants that handle milk products. They issue licenses to the milk plants wherein manufactured milk is produced in different types, chocolate milk, and all types of drinks, colored drinks, are inspected and checked by the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. READINGER. Will any Federal funds allocated to Pennsylvania be lost to the Commonwealth if this measure is passed?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, it is not so assumed. The matter was checked up with the Department of Health through the Auditor General, and there is no presumption at all that any money will be lost because the federal government does not allocate this money for sanitation. It allocates it to the Department of Agriculture under Public Law 416 of the 78th session, and the Department of Health allocates, or turns over to the sanitation division $100.000.

Mr. READINGER. Can the gentleman tell me whether the Public Health Department has been performing any functions which are not duplicated by the Department of Agriculture in relation to this milk sanitation?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, the object of the Department of Health in checking milk plants is to see to it that sanitary conditions prevail around the place, and the same thing is checked by the Department of Agriculture, as far as they go. The Department of Agriculture finds cheese and other things on the market. They follow back into the manufacturing plants and check up and see to it that there is not only a sanitary condition but that things are manufactured properly. The Deparment of Agriculture checks all the bakeries in Pennsylvania, and they check all the manufacturing that enters into the production of food. They check the food in every line.

Mr. READINGER. What I am particularly trying to find out is whether the Department of Agriculture is charged with the performance of the same duties as far as milk sanitation is concerned as the Department of Health is charged. Are they both charged with the same duty?

Mr. LIGHT. To answer the gentleman's question, they are not charged with the same duty, but it so happens that the Department of Health checks sanitation in the production of milk, and the Department of Agriculture checks the milk plants,and anyone coming from another state into Pennsylvania when they check on sanitation they first come to the Department of Agriculture to determine whether the herds are free of disease, and whether milk is produced under certain conditions. The people who check on sanitation, check the milk shippers from out of the state, the milk companies from New York State, and New Jersey, and Maryland, when they come into Pennsylvania, they check all milk producing places, the farms that produce milk, and the milk must be produced under certain sanitary conditions. The Department of Health comes along with their 18 inspectors about one or twice a year and checks over what 600 people who are employed by the milk companies check.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask one further question of the gentleman. Has he consulted the head of the Department of Health, the Secretary of Health concerning whether he desires this change to be made or opposes it?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I have not spoken to the Secretary. I have spoken to Mr. Richards. I discussed the matter with him, and I did not ask him whether they would prefer to have this change made. That was hardly the object of my visit. I went to find out how they conducted their work and I wanted to get information. I did not go to ask him whether they would like or would not like this.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman know whether the Secretary of Health opposes this measure?

Mr. LIGHT. I do not know. He has not spoken to me.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the Members of the House that this too is a Chesterman Bill, and the aims that are proposed by the Chesterman Report on matters that have been the concern of milk cooperatives and farm organizations for the last 30 years, and to show you who endorses this transfer, I can only refer to the organizations and to those who have felt for years and years that because of the duplication, this work could all be done in the Department of Agriculture.

Senate Bill No. 416, which is under discussion, aims to amend Act 210 of the 1935 session by adding a new section on milk sanitation. I have no doubt some of the Members are very familiar with this.

The only thing that this bill does is to lift part of it out of the Department of Health, the milk sanitation law, and place it over into Agriculture.

There have been issues raised but this discussion has never come to a head where we could discuss the matter fully, and I want to point out that the Department of Agriculture is the proper place for this particular work. I do that because the Department of Agriculture now has in its charge the enforcement of all the food laws. I would like to mention a few to the gentleman from Berks, and in addition to what I have said, the Department of Agriculture enforces the meat and the food products law.

It enforces the sausage law, which has nothing to do with milk. It enforces the ice cream law. It enforces the condensed, concentrated and evaporated milk law. It issues licenses to every milk plant in Pennsylvania. It inspects every ice cream plant. It runs bacteria tests when samples are necessary.

The Department is responsible for the inspection of all bakeries, as I have stated, and the canneries. It enforces the Oleomargarine Law and the Milk Dispenser Law that this House passed in 1951.

I would lke to say that there have been rumors around the House and questions asked about what this will do. I have already stated to the gentleman from Berks that the federal government in 1952 allocated to the Department of Health $767,000 and out of that, $100,000 was paid for milk sanitation purposes.

More than 100 percent of what the Health Department gave to sanitation was provided in addition to that provided by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The expenditures of the Commonwealth to meet the federal allotments for milk sanitation purposes, according to what I have seen, apparently would be available for other general health purposes if they were needed.

I want to point out especially that inasmuch as the Department of Agriculture has been in this field of inspection ever since the enactment of the pure food laws, and since it is involved in every kind of pure food inspection, and since it inspects most of the milk now, there is no reason why it could not easily take along milk sanitation. It is in that very field now.

There is another thought that should not be forgotten. In these progressive days there appear on the market most every day, every week or every month, new products in which milk is involved, all kinds of different drinks. Most of these new drinks are sold by the milk peddlers on the streets. They are a part of the sales of milk.

The Department of Agriculture is the Department in the state of Pennsylvania that checks all those things. For that very reason, I think like all the people do, that the milk industry naturally belongs to the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Speaker, I think the only question is this, that there would not be any change at all in operaton. Those 600 milk inspectors that are paid by the milk companies would likely all stay in the field because the milk companies would continue the inspection.

The dairy farms of Pennsylvania are also inspected, as I said, by people outside of the state. In the field of plant inspections, I have told you that the Department of Agriculture is now everywhere. The Department of Agriculture issues two different kinds of licenses, as I have told you.

I realize that everybody is tired and I cannot blame anybody for being tired and for being restless, even though the minority Leader may not be tired, the rest are.

I would like to say that this has been a contention on the part of the milk people for years and years, and I think this is one occasion when the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania can come to the aid of the people who have wanted this relief for a long time.

We find no fault with what the Health Department has done. The associations between the Department of Health and the Department of Agriculture, when I was in Agriculture, were of the best. I know there has been no change. I do not think that is an issue at all. I think that same cooperaton will continue all the time.

Just a minute and I will be through. There are some reasons why I think this should be especially supported. The State Senate passed this bill by a vote of 48-0. The farm organizatons of Pennsylvania are for it 100 percent. The farm cooperatives that favor it include the Interstate Milk Producers Association, Dairymen Cooperative Association, the Dairymens League, the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, Lehigh Valley Cooperative, and all others.

The Pennsylvania State Council is composed of 40 farm organizations, and they favor it. The State Council and the executive board of these bodies had a meeting on April 17 and approved it and recommended it.

I hope that every Member will vote for the bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Lebanon should not apoligize to the Members. That is one of the most intelligent debates and discussions of a subject I have heard in this House for a long time. I am not apologizing either for having asked the questions which brought about some of the gentleman's remarks. I think we owe him a debt of gratitude in enlightening us so much about this bill.

These bills are important, and while it is late, we either work or we do not work. As long as we are here I think we should give our attention and listen to what he has to say. I had intended originally to vote against this bill, thinking that there would be no real saving. Not having any farm districts in my area I was no too well acquainted with what the Grange might want or the farmers' organizations and so forth. But the gentleman in his remarks has convinced me that this is a possible way of saving some money and that there will be no lack of devotion to duty on the part of the Department of Agriculture in seeing that our milk is fit for consumption. I intend now to vote for this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Lebanon. I hope every Member votes for this bill. Some of the Chesterman Committee bills make sense. This is one of them.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, in 1929 I came into this House, and one of the reasons I came here was on account of the duplication of inspection of milk. I was, at that time, a small ice cream manufacturer, and I had to pass inspection for the milk and then also had to pass an inspection by the Department of Agriculture. We bought our ice cream license from the Department of Agriculture and, as I said, that was one of my reasons for coming here.

One day—I will not say which one it was—but one day one of those fellows came in there and he said: "What kind of soap do you wash your ice cream freezer with?" Well, I said, "I use just good soap." "Oh," he said, "you can't do that." And he specified a certain brand that I had to use. And I said "Who makes this ruling?" Now this is the way it was before 1935. Then I said "Whom do you work for, the state or the soap company?" And you know, he did not bother me much more after that.

I think this a good bill and everyone should vote for it.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I realize this is very important to our farmers and our boys in the agricultural field. I admire your position and I am not going to take much time.

In my humble opinion, anything that especially deals with the purity and the sanitation of milk for human consumption should be absolutely in the Health Department. This has nothing to do with cheese and ice cream and other commodities for ingestion. This deals specifically with human consumption of milk, and the Health Department, in my opinion, is the most important place to keep that function.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, first I wish to apoligize for being slightly late for this evening's session. Secondly, for the gentleman's information from Allegheny County and also for the information of the other Members of this House, I would like to have them know that just recently I underwent an operation. I am still under the doctor's care. If you would like affidavits to that effect, Mr. Greer, I will gladly produce them.

This evening after I ate my dinner I had a slight attack—a recurrence of my trouble. That is the reason that I was not in the Session on time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion to recommit. If we are ever in the mood to commit murder, it is tonight. I think we should keep this bill out and vote on it.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the request for a roll call.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, in view of the rather poignant attitude of the House tonight, perhaps it would be better to withdraw the motion to recommit the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a mixed blessing. Pennsylvania needs a Department of Commerce, but it does not need the Department of Commerce it now has.

The morale of the Department under present management has dropped to a level unparalleled in the administrative history of Pennsylvania. The Department of Commerce as now constituted is a center of feuds, bickerings and espionage.

The situation has developed to the point where the Admiral in charge of the Department calls his subordinates to task because they talked to somebody he does not like. The Department is wholly disrupted. It is inactive. It deserves destruction, liquidation.

On the other hand, Pennsylvania does need a Department of Commerce, not a Department of Commerce spread all over the map, but a Department of Commerce charged solely with the task of the industrial development of our Commonwealth.

It had been my hope, Mr. Speaker, that the bill abolishing the present Department, which has ceased to deserve a right to live, would be accompanied by another bill creating a new Department which would have jurisdiction solely over the activity that a Department of Commerce in this state should have.

So I say this bill is a mixed blessing. It destroys a Department, I repeat, that should be destroyed, but it leaves us without a Department for which there is a vital need in Pennsylvania. There has been a lot of talk about the possibility of industrial concerns moving out of our state, a lot of talk about bringing industrial concerns into our state, but there is no agency, if we destroy this Department and do not create a new one, that will coordinate the activities of the State Chamber of Commerce, the local Chambers of Commerce and all the other agencies that are working to promote the industrial development of our Commonwealth.

I hope, Mr. Speaker, that if this House in its wisdom liquidates the present Department of Commerce, that it will very shortly create a new Department with a proper commission.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I beg to differ with our Minority Leader. He mentioned the fact that we need a Department of Commerce, and then he says that we do not need a Department of Commerce.

He mentioned the Admiral who is leading that Department. I would like to extol that man for his leadership. He comes from my county and I know what a leader he is. When it comes to industrial companies coming in, especially now when the coal fields are a distressed area, I think the Department of Commerce needs more of a boost, more of a push, by the Members of this House and the Members of the Senate to give us what we need in the coal fields.

Industry after industry has been coming into our valley for the last six months, and whom do I give it credit to? The Admiral that so many of our Members are hateful of. The persons he has working in the Department of Commerce, I do not know who they are or what they are, but I do know that this Admiral that is leading them is the kind of a man we want more of in this state. His leadership, his statesmanship, the thousands and I would say millions of dollars that he has donated to the people in Luzerne County and to our state, to our educational institutions—that is the kind of leadership we want in this state.

I beg the Members of this House, let us keep the Department of Commerce right where it is.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman failed to understand my intent. I was not speaking of the head of the Department in absentia. I was speaking of the Admiral who serves in the absence of the head of the Department.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I have been trying to gather from this group of bills dealing with the Department of Commerce just where the intended saving is to be gained as a result of the abolition of this Department.

The bill at hand of course is Senate Bill 412 which directly deals with the abolition of the Department. You then go over to Senate Bill 521 which is part of this package, and you find that you transfer the State Planning Board from the Department of Commerce to the Department of Internal Affairs, a Department which I understand the Chesterman Committee likewise wanted to abolish and change the membership of the board.

Then you go to Senate Bill 520 which provides for the transfer of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission from the Department of Commerce to the Department of Internal Affairs and changing the membership of the Commission.

Then you go from Senate Bill 520 to Senate Bill 519 and you also provide for the transfer of certain appropriations from the Department of Commerce to the Department of Internal Affairs for the use of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, again maintaining the work of the Department of Commerce but transferring it from the Department of Commerce into the Department of Internal Affairs with appropriations that have been carried in the Department of Commerce and increasing the powers of the Department of Internal Affairs which I just said the Chesterman Committee endeavored to wipe out.

I also notice here that Senate Bill 522 transfers to the Department of Internal Affairs and the Department of Highways the authority to conduct certain promotional activities of the Commonwealth which were promoted by the Department of Commerce.

You are actually maintaining all of the services of the Department of Commerce. You are taking it out of the Department of Commerce; you are putting it into these other Departments, and then you say we are going to save some money for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

If all these various functions that are now being transferred to these different Departments have to do with increasing the commerce of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we are a real commonwealth among the commonwealths and states and we can afford and should have a Department of Commerce.

If the trouble is with the head of the Department, it should not be our purpose to wipe out the Department. That is a matter for the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth who has the control over the heads of his different Departments. You saw the recent dismissal from one of the Departments because the Chief Executive was not satisfied with the functioning of that Department.

If the trouble is with the functioning of the Department, the head of the Department, the person to change him is the Chief Executive, and not by legislative fiat as we are trying to do in this bill.

I am opposed to the bill.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I am a little confused with this bill 412 and also 411. I wish somebody would explain them to me. I do not know whom to interrogate. I do not know if anyone is able to be interrogated at this time of night. But I would like someone to answer the question, why we should abolish the Department of Commerce in one bill, that is Senate Bill 412, and in Senate Bill 411 the balance of their appropriation is transferred to the Department of Commerce. Now if this bill puts the Department of Commerce out of commission why do we need 411?

The SPEAKER. Is there any Member who would care to explain this bill to the gentleman?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will just make a very short explanation. Senate Bill 411 repeals the so-called Commerce Act and 412 abolishes the Department of Commerce. Of necessity the abolition of the Department had to be made in two bills. The one is dependent upon the other.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot make sense out of this at all. You are going to abolish a Department and later on you come along with a bill and you are going to transfer their appropriation in another Department; and the Department is abolished if 412 is not defeated. This is just as clear as mud to me.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, not being sleepy, I will stick my neck out. The gentleman is reading the title to Senate Bill 411, which was an Act of 1939 and at that time certain appropriations were transferred to the Department of Commerce. If he would read the first line of that Senate Bill, he would see that we are now voting or will shortly be voting on a bill to repeal that Act. Senate 412, is simply a change in the Administrative Code which now provides for a Department of Commerce, by changing the Code to abolish the Department of Commerce. We are repealing one act by which the Department was set up and transferring the appropriations to another.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I will just be a minute. The Department of Commerce was originated in my first term in this House, and it had a good purpose.

This bill was originated in 1939—my first term in the House. The purpose of the bill as I understood it then was to advertise Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania is not just a little one-horse business. It is a big business, and we need this kind of a Department. I am going to agree with the gentleman over here. If we do not have the proper management we have a right to find out why we do not have. We need a Department of Commerce very badly. They advertise the state all over and I think we should vote to keep this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE

Although I do not agree that the Department of Commerce is presently operated with a high degree of efficiency, the reason for its being is generally in the good of the Commonwealth and for this later reason I voted to maintain the Department of Commerce with the fervent hope that it will be reorganized and ultimately attain a high degree of efficiency.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GLEASON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on Monday of this week, on the call of the roll, Mr. Jump from Luzerne County did not answer present to his name when the roll was called. When he did come in, he said the reason he was late was because he stopped to pick up a sum of money.

I want to tell you that when he came in the door of the Capitol he saw on the floor, on the inside of the Capitol, a sum of money. He picked it up and found that there were seven fifty-dollar bills. That is $350. The couple that lost this money were in their late fifties and were on their honeymoon. They happened to be up here visiting the Capitol.

They came back yesterday to the Capitol and talked to the Capitol policeman, and the officer told them that he had heard one of the House Members had found a sum of money. Upon further inquiry it was learned that Mr. Jump had found the money. He was contacted at the Penn-Harris Hotel this morning.

This couple was Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weidner of Reading. It was explained that Mrs. Weidner had pulled her handkerchief out of her pocketbook when she came into the Capitol and she figures that that is when these bills came out of her pocketbook.

Mr. Jump turned back the money to this very happy couple this morning, the seven fifty-dollar bills. They offered him in turn a fifty-dollar bill for turning it in, and he refused it.

I think Mr. Jump should be commended by this House for his honesty and seeing that this money was delivered to this couple which turned their misfortune into happiness. Such conduct certainly speaks for the integrity of our Legislators in general.

Mr. JUMP. I assure you that I feel very much relieved. The gentleman in his remarks stated they were on their honeymoon, but it happened that this old couple were celebrating their anniversary. I would like to correct him on that. I do feel very much relieved.

It is the first time in my life that I ever found a sum of money and I assure you that I am going home tonight not so rich.

I was tickled to death that the police had known because I had left word around the Capitol that if any one would claim they lost money, to kindly send them to me, if they would claim the right amount. The old lady as she talked to me this morning was more nervous than I was. She said she was not sure whether it was six fifties or seven fifties. They were not sure whether they had changed one of the fifties. Well that was good enough for me.

I feel very happy and, as I said, very much relieved, and thank God we found the person that lost this money.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the gentleman upon his honesty.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. CONNELLY, LIPPINCOTT and BULLEN offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 11, 1953.

Chester Hospital was the scene of loud and boisterous noises on the day of May 30, 1953. An investigation by the hospital staff has placed the cause of the disturbance upon the new born son of Mr. & Mrs. William Conner.

In all fairness to the apparently guilty child, it should be remembered that he is the grandson of Lawrence Conner and that while the noise was excusable, it certainly was not unavoidable.

Psychologists and sociologists have long held that the character of the individual is determined by his environment. While we do not dispute this belief, we do hope that the overwhelming Republican population of Glenolden, Delaware County, can exert a sufficient amount of its virtues upon this innocent and naive child to counteract the Democrat influence present in his home life.

Whether the child can overcome the prevailing ominous conditions of his immediate surroundings we do not know, but we do know that the influence of his grandfather will instill in him the basic ingredients for a successful life and career; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its congratulations to the justly proud parents and grandfather of the boy and its wishes that his life shall be as full and rich as that of his grandfather; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent by the Clerk of the House of Representatives to the grandfather, and, incidentally, to the parents of the young hopeful.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware Mr. Conner.

Mr. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked many times since Memorial Day how it feels to be a grandfather. I have stated on each of those occasions that I do not feel any different. I am reminded of the fact that when a friend of mine was asked the same question, he said he did not feel any different, but that he could be more productive if he were not married to a grandmother.

I am very grateful to my colleagues from Delaware County. I notice that they laid emphasis on politics. In fact that family will reside in Glen Olden and that is a strong Republican community.

In fairness to little William Richard, Jr., I want to say that he has a Democratic father. His mother, while not of voting age, comes from a very ardent Republican family. So at the present time we are listing little William as a non-partisan. But with the Democratic blood that is in his veins, I feel that in subsequent years the brain of the jackass will subdue the trumpeting of the elephant.

Thank you very much.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MIKULA. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MIKULA. Mr. Speaker, yesterday the House of Representatives voted upon a sales tax. I was correctly recorded in the affirmative for sales tax measure.

Later upon the request of a House officer, my vote was changed from "aye" to "nay". This action was taken in order to insure a consideration of this tax measure should that action be desired later.

I do this to correct misunderstandings to my embarrassment and to the embarrassment of my County organization.

RESOLUTION

Mr. RAGOT offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By consent of the House leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Whalley for Mr. NAUGLE for today's session.

Mr Moody for Mr. WORLEY because of illness.
Mr. Bolton for Mr. LAFORE because of urgent personal business.
Mr. Kent for Mr. ERB because of death in the family.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire the reason for Mr. Pettigrew's absence.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state the reason for Mr. Pettigrew's absence?

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I asked for leave of absence for Mr. Pettigrew yesterday because of illness; he is suffering with arthritis.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to suggest the absence of a quorum.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria rises to suggest the absence of a quorum. The Sergeant-at-Arms will close the doors of the House and permit only Members to answer. The Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and was as folows:

The SPEAKER. One hundred eighty-eight Members having answered to their names, a quorum is present.

Mr. ANDREWS. I move that further proceedings under the call be dispensed with.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority or the Minority Leader.

Mr. AUKER. I would like to interrogate either the Majority or the Minority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. I would like to ask the gentleman whether the Majority or Minority Leader on Wednesday, June 24, anticipates suggesting the lack of a quorum in the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say it was planned to come back here on the twenty-second of June with the whole House present. We thought we would have hotel rooms. We are reconvening on the 22nd because of the fact that there are no places for Members to stay and there will be no Call of the House on Monday and Tuesday. I understand there will be a Call of the House on Wednesday when we come back on the 24th when we will meet at 12 o'clock Standard Time.

Mr. AUKER. Another question. Will the lack of a quorum still be suggested on each day of that legislative week?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, that is the plan.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Under Rule 11 of the House, is an excuse of personal business sufficient to excuse a Member from being present in this House when the Legislature is in session?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the gentleman's parliamentary inquiry, that is a question for the House itself to decide whether personal business is sufficient excuse to be excused.

The Chair heard no objection at the time leave was granted.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am not saying that I will, I am just suggesting that I might, during all the Sessions from now on when the absence of a quorum is suggested, ask for a decision from this House as to whether or not the excuse of "personal business" is sufficient excuse to absent a Member from the House. If the House should decide that it is not, I shall, no doubt then make a motion that he be sent for and be brought in.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Paragraph (a) of section eleven of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May on thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 991) entitled "An act to promote elimination of blighted areas and supply sanitary housing in areas throughout the Commonwealth by declaring acquisition sound replanning and redevelopment of such areas to be for the promotion of health safety convenience and welfare creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as Redevelopment Authorities authorizing them to engage in the elimination of blighted areas and to plan and contract with private corporate or governmental redevelopers for their redevelopment providing for the organization of such authorities defining and providing for the exercise of their powers and duties including the acquisition of property by purchase gift or eminent domain the leasing and selling of property including borrowing money issuing bonds and other obligations and giving security therefor restricting the interest of members and employes of authorities providing for notice and hearing supplying certain mandatory provisions to be inserted in contracts with redevelopers prescribing the remedies of obligees of redevelopment authorities conferring certain duties upon local planning commissions the governing bodies of cities and counties and on certain State officers boards and departments" is hereby amended by adding thereto after clause four-one a new clause to read as follows

Section 11 Provisions of the Redevelopment Contract

(a) The contract between the Authority and a redeveloper shall contain without being limited to the following provisions

* * * * *

(4-2) If the redeveloper is an individual partnership or private corporation a requirement that the redeveloper pay each public utility such costs as shall be or have been incurred by such public utility in removing altering constructing locating relocating or otherwise changing any of its facilities from within or outside the redevelopment area covered by the contract as a result of the redevelopment or as a result of any municipal or governmental action in dedicating closing vacating paving installing grading regarding or improving any street highway road roadway alley or sidewalk in aid of or incident to the the redevelopment provided however that where facilities constructed in lieu of removed facilities have a service capacity greater than that of the removed facilities the redeveloper shall pay the public utility an amount equal to the cost of constructing facilities of the same service capacity as that of the removed facilities

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, as we read this bill it would require certain redevelopments to reimburse public utilities for the cost of removing, altering or relocating their facilities. This obviously refers to gas, electric, telephone, water and street railway facilities.

Under the transit law these utilities bear these costs. I submit to you that it is only proper that they should bear them, because I think the utilities themselves have an interest in redevelopment. Any time you go into a blighted area and tear down substandard housing or relocate streets and set up decent housing, it is my view that you expand the market for the facilities that these utility companies have to produce.

As they increase their services, I believe their profits likewise increase. This is a type of relief that I do not believe they have requested in all seriousness and a type of relief that I do not believe is justifiable.

I think we all know that redevelopment programs are financed two thirds by the federal government and one third by the local taxpayers. This is true I can see in numerous instances where if this cost is shifted from the utility companies, who get the ultimate advantage of the redevelopment program, that the cost ultimately will be passed on to the taxpayer. That means the overall effect is that, if we are going to start a redevelopment. It does not relate to the public redevoleper. The authorities as such are not so much concerned, but the emphasis of late has been to try to attract the private redeveloper into this field.

All over the state there have been programs launched by the private redeveloper that have augmented the programs that are contemplated, proposed and launched by our governmental agencies.

I say this bill and its effect will have a tendency to discourage redevelopment. Therefore we are not rendering a service to those communities who proposed programs of redevelopment because what we are virtually doing to the private redeveloper is ham-stringing him in his efforts and we are going to make the cost prohibitive.

I suggest to you that the bill has no partisan aspects. It is definitely, in my opinion, not in the public interest. I suggest to you rather than discourage the private redeveloper, it would be incumbent upon this House to take steps to encourage private redevelopers to enter the field, because government has demonstrated that the job is too colossal for government to handle alone. If we can get the private developer to enter the field and augment the efforts of the authorities and the government, then we are achieving the results that we would all like to see achieved.

I suggest to you in all sincerity that before voting on this you consider seriously whether a bill of this type, that to my mind is not requested by the utilities—the gas, the power, and the electric folks, are not asking for it—the overall effect would be, as I repeat myself, to discourage private redevelopment.

If we pass this bill we are rendering this program a definite disservice, and this bill for this reason is not in the public interest and does not merit your support.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I agree with my colleague from Pittsburgh that this is not a good piece of legislation.

First of all, I would like to state that there is an association of redevelopment authorities in the state of Pennsylvania. This association has gone on record unanimously to oppose this bill.

The Members of this House should recall, I believe it was the 1951 Session that they appropriated the sum of $15 million—perhaps it was the 1949 Session—to aid redevelopment in the state of Pennsylvania, to try to get public housing out of public and into private hands, which we all feel is a step in the right direction.

If we vote for this bill, we are going to chastise the private redevelopers whom you have been trying to help here since 1945.

I do not like to say that this is a tax grab by the utilities, but if you look at the bill you might reach that conclusion. What would happen would be that some of this $15 million that we have appropriated will wind up in the hands of public utilities.

In the main, the public utilities today are monopolies. In most instances and in most areas they are tax free and tax exempt. They derive certain benefits from redevelopment projects. They acquire new customers. They have new outlets for their facilities. This is certainly bad leglislation.

I sincerely urge all the Members of the House to vote against this bill.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, at the risk of offending your patience, I have neglected to bring to your attention one point that I feel is entirely important.

The utility companies at the present time pay no local taxes. I think that is a concession we have given them already and I think that should be borne in mind. They pay no local taxes now. They operate their facilities; they sell their services and they get the profits. They operate by sufferance.

With that thought in mind I want you to consider that too as you consider this bill.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, there are always two sides to a story. I shall not take much time arguing the merits of this bill because I believe it speaks for itself.

I think it spells out in clear, concise terms whether or not the ratepayer of the public utility company shall assume the cost of relocating facilities to an equal extent that they were prior to condemnation or abandonment, or whether private enterprise that goes in there for a profit shall pay that relocation.

I plead not for the public utility companies, but I do for the ratepayer who cannot defend himself. I do not care how you spell it out, these costs must become ultimately part of the rate.

This bill very definitely does this: it says that a man in an area paying a rate to a public utility company that is not the beneficiary of the improved housing area, that he shall pay a part of that cost.

I feel that that is eminently unfair. I submit to you, too, that where this area that is redeveloped, where the public utilities will gain by an enlargement of that area, they will pay the first cost right from the first penny on up for any expansion of their facilities.

I think this bill is a fair bill because it does not ask that the people assume the burden upon which future profits of public utility companies can be made. They have gone more than half way.

Yes, I submit to you that the public utilities are rightfully interested in this bill, but that is not the position I defend. I defend the position of the ratepayer who has no voice and who has to pay his share of it whether or not he is a beneficiary.

I think this is a good bill and I solicit your vote.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. Speaker, I am requesting that House Bill 1240 be passed over today, and in making the request, I would like to report to the Members of the House, since the question came up Tuesday, that even during Tuesday, yesterday, and today the representatives of both the gas industry and the coal industry have been meeting in Pittsburgh. I am reliably informed that they are very close to an amicable agreement, which it is my hope will provide the solution to a very serious problem and the one with which this bill deals.

I would further like to make a request of the gas industry people and also the coal industry people that since my feeling is that the Members of the legislature have been flooded with correspondence, all sorts of pressure, telephone calls and everything else concerning this bill, that they refrain from any more activity as far as the Members of the Legislature are concerned in regard to the bill during the time that the negotiations are being carried on.

Mr. TOMPKINS. In line with the remarks of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent, regarding House Bill 1240, I would like also to request that both sides, the coal and the gas interests refrain from contacting Members of the Legislature in any way until this question comes before the House for further attention.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to thank the two gentlemen for requesting the two interested parties to stop bombarding us with all that propaganda.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 15, 1953. No. 51.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 15, 1953.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH, offered the following prayer:

Dear, Father, we thank Thee for the wonderful fellowship we had with Thee yesterday when we met with our friends in Thy House. We pray that Thou wilt help us to realize that when we are in our conferences and meetings, Thou are always a silent observer; perhaps silent because we have not asked Thee to help us. Help us to understand that Thou wilt help us there just as much as when we meet together in Thy House.

We pray sincerely that Thou wilt guide our hearts and minds that we may bring solutions to these problems which are facing us and the people of this Commonwealth, because when we walk with Thee and talk with Thee, Thou wilt always lead us in the right way. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

An Act to amend the act, approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1210), entitled "An act relating to group life insurance; describing permitted policies and restrictions thereon, the premium basis thereof and rights thereunder; limiting the amount of such insurance; prescribing standard policy provisions; and requiring notice of conversion privileges;" by increasing the permitted amount of insurance coverage in certain cases.

Senate Bill No. 501, entitled:

An Act to further amend Sections 307 and 1501 of the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth" by further providing for disbursements from the Historical Preservation Fund.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. HARE and MAHANY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 686, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause ten of section three hundred two of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," by designating the Department of Justice for the Department of Welfare.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, we are all probably aware of the great number of accidents which are happening today on the highways all over this Commonwealth. One of the bad features that has been accompanying these accidents is that even after the accident happens, the person who caused the accident is without any means of reimbursing the person whom he has injured.

Mr. President, I am, therefore, today introducing a bill which will cause all people who purchase cars, whether it be on time or on immediately purchasing that car, not only to protect the interest of the person who is placing the mortgage on the car but on the public at large.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. WEINER and LEADER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 687, entitled:

An Act requiring purchasers of motor vehicles making payment on any deferred payment plan to be insured against loss resulting from the ownership, maintenance or operation of such motor vehicles; imposing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Insurance.

Mr. LEADER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 688, entitled:

An Act requiring egg dealers to file bonds to secure payment for eggs to producers; requiring egg dealers to secure licenses; to furnish certain notices, records and statements; authorizing the Department of Agriculture to adopt rules, regulations and orders to carry out the provisions of this act; and conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Agriculture and the Secretary of Agriculture.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

Messrs. HOLLAND and LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 689, entitled:

An Act to add Section 3.1 to the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1120), entitled "An act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotive trains, and other self propelled engines or machines with competent employes; to provide the least number of men that may be employed on locomotive trains, and other self propelled engines or machines; to provide the qualifications of certain employes; and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof, and the enforcement thereof by the Public Utility Commission," by further regulating the size of locomotive crews.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 690, entitled:

An Act requiring railroads to maintain sidewalks and walks between tracks on all bridges and viaducts.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am taking the liberty to make these statements under "Petitions and Remonstrances," because the bill about which I desire to speak is on the Postponed Calendar and there is always the chance that the bill may be called up and I may not be present on the floor at that time.

Mr. President, I wish to speak concerning Senate Bill No. 480, as amended by myself and one of my colleagues on third reading, last week, June 9, 1953, and bearing Printer's Number, on our Calendar now, 304.

Mr. President, as a sponsor of this amendment, I express my deep regret that it may have caused embarrassment to any religious bodies in the Commonwealth and caused them to appear in a wrong light before the public, as would seem to be indicated by certain recent comments in the public press.

The erroneous implication has been drawn that certain religious groups among our citizens have requested to be exempted from proper surveillance on the part of the State in the matter of the placement of children for adoption. I know of no religious group that has asked for such an exemption. I do, however, know of large religious groups among our citizens, and I know also of many judges in our courts and many private citizens, who have objected to this bill as a whole because they are convinced in conscience that this bill is far from being a complete and alequate provision for the adoption and placement of children and that it is, moreover, an unwarranted concentration of arbitrary power in the hands of an administrative department of the state government over citizens of the State.

Mr. President, I deem it particularly appropriate to quote from the "Report of the Pennsylvania Bar Association's Special Committee on Marriage and Divorce Laws and Family Courts," which report is published in the Pennsylvania Bar Association Quarterly of June 1953. I know many of the lawyers get this in the mail, and it is on page 336. I quote from the Bar Association Quarterly:

"Your committee is divided on the question of certification. Some members believe that the certification provision should not apply to sectarian agencies unless such agencies choose to be bound thereunder."

The religious groups take their stand on the sound American principle that "the child is not the mere creature of the state," as the Supreme Court of the United States has declared. They hold to the sound principle that the child and his welfare are to be protected by the court and not left to the whims of an administrative unit of the government.

Mr. President, these religious groups take their stand on the practical point, which they submit to the experience and judgment of every Orphans' Court Judge in Pennsylvania, that the civil and religious interests of every orphaned, abandoned or neglected child in this Commonwealth can far more rightfully and far more practically and effectively be entrusted to the Judges of the Orphans' Court in our various counties than to any administrative office in Harrisburg.

These religious groups of citizens demand nothing in the interest of their own children that they do not concede as the right of all other children. Likewise, the parental rights and authority which they vindicate for the members of their own respective communions, they defend for all other parents as well.

Mr. President, these religious groups are engaged in no quarrel among themselves or with any other religious groups. They are outspoken in their hopes and purpose that proper and adequate legislation be enacted in the important field of adoption and placement of children and for the correction and prevention of abuses in this delicate field of social need. However, they hold it to be destructive of the rights of parent and child alike, they hold it to be alien to our American freedom and our traditional American way of life, to give over to any administrative officer of the government such powers over citizens as are contained in this bill.

Mr. President, I speak, therefore, in defense and in praise of these groups, whatever be their religious beliefs. I admire them for their defense of the American principle that "the child is not the mere creature of the state." I applaud them in their conviction and contention that the Orphans' Courts of this Commonwealth can be depended upon to see that justice is done to any parent or child in the Commonwealth in the matter of adoption and placement of children. I repudiate the implication that in their opposition to any excessive centralized control of their age old institutions and operations of Christian charity, they are showing themselves anything but loyal, foresighted and cooperative citizens of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I would like to further add that at the time Senate Bill No. 480 was up before the Committee on Judiciary General, the chairman of that committee was kind enough to allow me to attend a meeting of that committee, of which I am not a member. At that time, we discussed the various bills, the so-called Senate Bills, I think they were Nos. 2, 3 and 4; Senator Kephart's bill; Senate Bill No. 480, sponsored by Senator Bane and Senator Kessler; and Senate Bills Nos. 514 and 515, sponsored by myself, Senator Taylor, Senator Dent and Senator McCusker.

Mr. President, after the time of the public hearing, it was suggested by Senator Dent—and I thought it was a very fine suggestion—that we should probably scrap all of the bills and write a new bill with a new number. The people of the Commonwealth knew these bills only by number; those who had a love for the Cox Bills, those who had a certain love for the Kephart Bill, those for the Kessler-Bane Bill and those for the McCusker-Dent-Taylor-Barr Bills. Their minds were on numbers. Unfortunately, that suggestion by Senator Dent was not taken, and it appears that this bill is in for a rocky ride for that reason.

Mr. President, I still do not think it is too late to get together again and redraw one bill or two separate bills, maybe one on procedure and one on adoption, and present them to the Senate for its action.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I am taking advantage of the opportunity to speak under "Petitions and Remonstrances," because I understand that there is going to be a committee meeting of the Finance Committee and they plan to report out House Bills Nos. 573 and 574, which have to do with the exemption of machinery from taxation.

Mr. President, the way I read the legislation, it applies to every county except second class counties, and I want to say to the Members of the Senate here today that if this bill is reported out and passed, you certainly are cutting your noses off to spite your faces. In the first place, it is admitted by the authorities here in Harrisburg that we need $118,000,000 in additional taxes in order to balance this budget.

Mr. President, your local school districts, your township supervisors, your borough councilmen in your cities of the third class in all these other counties, in addition to the counties themselves, are confronted with a fiscal problem. It will mean that if this bill passes, the small home owner is going to assume an additional obligation and an increase in his millage, because anyone who has administrative experience knows and must admit that you have to get the money for government somewhere. It comes from some source. There is no use to be wishfully thinking on something like this; we must be practical and down to earth.

Mr. President, the reason I am taking the floor today is because I am going to object to this legislation. I am going to object to it being read for the first time and I, of course, will oppose it in committee. In all probability, the Majority Party has the votes to report it out, but I want the people of Pennsylvania to know what they are doing, because you are working a hardship on your local political subdivisions. The school teachers of Pennsylvania want an increase in their salaries. How in the world can the local school districts assume these obligations if you are going to take away a portion of their revenue?

I say to you here today, Mr. President, this certainly is a dangerous piece of legislation, and I do not believe the majority members of the committee should arbitrarily take action until we study this. I know it was debated in the House, and we have had this problem year after year. However, when I take this floor, I want you to know that in western Pennsylvania I think there are very few counties which assess machinery. At the same time, they have that prerogative to do so, anything that is attached to the building. However, a part of the assessed valuation is included in the building. If we are going to be confronted and harassed with court cases in the counties and in our political subdivisions, we certainly are wrecking this Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, under "Petitions and Remonstrances," I would like to bring the Senate of Pennsylvania up to date on something which is very important, I believe, in the matter of governmental functioning.

Mr. President, as you all know, last week I complained on the Senate floor about the situation confronting approximately 445 employees of the largest industry in my town. I wish to read a letter to the Members of the Senate and then I will make a few comments, because I think the Membership of this Senate has a very grave stake in this situation. This letter is addressed to Mr. Matthewson, of the Pennsylvania Rubber Company, Jeannette, Pennsylvania:

"Dear Mr. Matthewson:

"I am enclosing copy of a letter which Senator Martin received from the Department of the Army. This letter was sent to him because I demanded a statement chronologically setting forth the various steps that had taken place in the awarding of the gas mask contract to Firestone. This statement is not the same as the original story given to me by Mr. Young and Captain Hougen. When I first talked with them I was told that on May 26th a 'letter of intent' to award the contract to Firestone was sent that day. You will now note the change that was made.

"I still feel that exceptions should be taken to this award and the matter thoroughly investigated. However, this is a matter that must be decided by your company, keeping in mind all the factors involved.

"I wish you would give Senator Dent a copy of the letter from the Army. He has been very much interested and we have cooperated with him in the interest of the community and your company.

"With kindest regards, I am,

"Sincerely yours,
"George I. Bloom"

Mr. Bloom is representing Senator Edward Martin, Member of the United States Senate from Pennsylvania.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I want you to listen to me read a copy of a letter from the Office of the Secretary of the Army. Then, after you have listened to that letter, I want you to tell me whether or not there has been skulduggery and dishonesty in Washington, D. C., in the awarding of this contract. The mess that was going to be cleaned up is not only being cleaned up, but it is being made even messier. I quote from this letter addressed to the Honorable Edward Martin, United States Senate:

"Dear Senator Martin:

"Permit me to refer to your communications, addressed to the Secretary of Defense and Assistant Secretary of the Army, concerning the procurement of gas masks by the Department of the Army.

"In order that you may have full and complete information concerning this procurement, I should like to outline for you a chronology of events leading up to the award of this contract to the Firestone Company of Falls River, Massachusetts.

"On February 27, 1953,"—and I want you to keep these dates in mind—"proposals were sent to both the Firestone Company of Falls River, Massachusetts, and the Pennsylvania Rubber Company of Jeannette, Pennsylvania.

"On April 3, 1953, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company and the Firestone Company submitted tentative proposals.

"On April 22, 1953, a formal conference was held with the Firestone Company.

"On April 23, 1953, a formal conference was held with the Pennsylvania Rubber Company.

"On May 6, 1953, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company submitted a formal proposal.

"On May 8, 1953,"—two days later—"the Firestone Company submitted a formal proposal.

"The Firestone Company submitted a higher proposal; however, it was within 20% of the low bid submitted by the Pennsylvania Rubber Company. Therefore, and in line with the Office of Defense Mobilization policies, consideration was given to the labor surplus group that each of those localities were in. Falls River, Massachusetts, was in Group IV Labor Surplus Area and Jeannette, Pennsylvania, was in Group III Labor Surplus Area. In view of this fact and again in line with Defense Mobilization policies, negotiations were continued with the Firestone Company in an effort to determine whether that company could meet the low bid.

"On May 26, 1953, the Firestone Company verbally advised the contracting officer in Boston, Massachusetts, that they would meet the low bid. Accordingly, on that same date, May 26, the contracting officer verbally informed the Firestone Company that their bid had been accepted. This was confirmed by teletype the same date.

"On May 29, 1953,"—now, get this—"the Office of Defense Mobilization advised the Office, Secretary of Defense, verbally and confirmed in writing on the same date that Falls River, Massachusetts, had been recertified as a Group III Labor Surplus Area, effective May 28, 1953.

"The Department of the Army, after receiving correspondence relative to this contract and being unaware of the formal commitment made by the contracting officer, looked into the feasibility of reconsidering the award of the contract. In looking into this matter it was determined that a firm commitment had been made to the Firestone Company by the contracting officer on May 26, 1953, as indicated above. This commitment was made prior to the notification from the Office of Defense Mobilization that Falls River, Massachusetts, was recertified from Group IV Labor Surplus Area to Group III Labor Surplus Area.

"In view of the forgoing, it is the opinion of the Department of the Army that as of the date the firm commitment was made on May 26, 1953, by the contracting officer, Falls River, Massachusetts, was in Category IV Labor Surplus Area. Therefore, the Department has no recourse but to allow the award to the Firestone Company."

Mr. President, let me bring you up to date on the skulduggery. A man by the name of Koch—K-o-c-h—is assistant to a man by the name of Kycs, who is the assistant to Wilson, the Secretary of Defense. Mr. Kycs was War Production Manager of General Motors. Mr. Koch is the Purchasing Agent, or was the Purchasing Agent up until six or eight weeks ago, of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. The contract was let through Mr. Kycs' office with the advice and counsel of Mr. Koch, from the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

Mr. President, there is no written contract from the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company where they agreed to meet the low bid. Here in plain writing and on a signed statement from the Department of the Army, they ageed to accept a verbal commitment from an agent of a large corporation to meet a low price when they have a written agreement for a higher price. They agree also to recognize a verbal agreement by some purchasing agent up in Massachusetts to buy at a price which was never established by contract negotiations, and the man at the head of the whole business is a man who came from the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

Now, Mr. President, it may not be serious to you Members here, but it is serious to the city of Jeannette. They are already in a No. 3 classification and if they were reclassified as of today, they would probably be in No. 4. After this layoff takes place, they will probably be even lower than that.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I do not know what happened to the resolution which was passed by the Senate. However, I want to say to you Members of the Senate, particularly you Members of the Republican Party, if any Democrat had ever done exactly this little deed, the five percenters whom you heard about in the last election would not have amounted to a "fiddler's damn."

Mr. President, let me tell all of you right now that this is the worst type of thievery that has ever come across the board. They planted their own man to make the purchase agreement; they planted their own man to make the recommendation; and then upon a verbal agreement they stand and give a government contract for over $2,000,000. Anybody in State Government who would be guilty of that kind of action would be immediately dismissed and probably tried.

I want to say to all of you Members of this Senate, if you do not get behind your United States Senators and insist that they do something about this type of government— this is the government that they said would be without favoritism; this was going to get rid of the culprits and all the rest of the fellows who were in Washington for being five percenters, or whatever it was. The first instance we have is the Republican National Chairman selling a building and taking ten per cent, double the take of which any Democrat was ever accused. Now we come along and find that they plant men right in the department in order that favoritism can be practiced to its worst degree.

I am telling you Members of the Senate here today that I will not let this matter lie, nor will I let it rest, until they do something about it. They must bring in the men who gave these verbal agreements and find out just why a verbal agreement supersedes a written contract, and find out exactly why Pennsylvania should be put down in a position lower than Massachusetts in the so-called realm of authority in Washington.

Mr. President, what is it? Is it that the two Republican Senators from Pennsylvania are in ill repute in Washington? Is Saltonstall supposed to be such a big dog in government that he can gobble up all of Pennsylvania's favors? What has happened to Pennsylvania, the Grand Old State? At least, you were a Republican State when there was a Democratic Administration for twenty years, but in all those twenty years, Pennsylvania received its just share of Federal Government contracts and Federal Government work.

Mr. President, here you are now, a Republican State in a Republican Administration. You have already lost Indiantown Gap to the southern States that sold themselves out last election to go along with a Republican President, contrary to their beliefs, and contrary to their political feelings and contrary to their political history. Now you are paying another debt to Massachusetts.

Mr. President, what is Pennsylvania going to do in these four years of the Eisenhower Fishing Administration? Are we going to be the suckers who bait the hook, or are we going to be the monkeys who carry the golf bag?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, of course, the trouble is, with arguing about things that are happening down in Washington, we do not have the facts before us which would enable us to decide just who is guilty of this, if there is anything of which to be guilty. Therefore, Senator Dent, we might follow along and jump to a lot of conclusions which would not be based upon the facts.

Mr. President, certainly we do not know who is responsible for this, and we do not know whether they were Democrats or Republicans. Perhaps the people who are responsible for this thing were some Democrats who were frozen into their jobs by the Democratic Administration, and the Republican Administration has not been able to get rid of them.

Mr. President, I know this. As soon as Eisenhower was installed in office in Washington, the next day they did not get rid of all of the Democrats who were down there and replace them with Republicans. You will find right now in Washington that there are a great deal more Democrats than there are Republicans, unless they have had a chance to change over their registration.

Mr. President, I think that we argue here sometimes at great length and get all worked up over some arguments which are just not based on any substantial facts. You and I know that in a court of law that sort of thing would not go. We certainly would not recognize that as good evidence.

Mr. President, until such time as Senator Dent can show that these so-called culprits, to which he refers, are Republican culprits, I do not think that we should jump to the conclusion that they are. I think that we all need a great deal more information before we can get to any conclusion based on good substantial facts.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that there be proof put into the record, I am going to ask that these letters, which are photostatic copies of letters sent by the United States Department of the Army, signed by the officials who represent that particular department of government, be made a part of the record of the Senate.

"Attention: Mr. Matthewson

"Dear Mr. Matthewson:

"I am enclosing copy of a letter which Senator Martin received from the Department of the Army. This letter was sent to him because I demanded a statement chronologically setting forth the various steps that had taken place in the awarding of the gas mask contract to Firestone. This statement is not the same as the original story given to me by Mr. Young and Captain Hougen. When I first talked with them I was told that on May 26th a 'letter of intent' to award the contract to Firestone was sent that day. You will now note the change that was made.

"I still feel that exceptions should be taken to this award and the matter thoroughly investigated. However, this is a matter that must be decided by your company, keeping in mind all the factors involved.

"I wish you would give Senator Dent a copy of the letter from the Army. He has been very much interested and we have cooperated with him in the interest of the community and your company.

"With kindest regards, I am,

"Sincerely yours,

"DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

"Office of the Secretary of the Army

"Washington 25, D. C.
"June 8, 1953

"Honorable Edward Martin
"United States Senate

"Dear Senator Martin:

"Permit me to refer to your communications, addressed to the Secretary of Defense and Assistant Secretary of the Army, concerning the procurement of gas masks by the Department of the Army.

"In order that you may have full and complete information concerning this procurement, I should like to outline for you a chronology of events leading up to the award of this contract to the Firestone Company of Falls River, Massachusetts.

"On February 27, 1953, proposals were sent to both the Firestone Company of Falls River, Massachusetts, and the Pennsylvania Rubber Company of Jeannette, Pennsylvania.

"On April 3, 1953, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company and the Firestone Company submitted tentative proposals.

"On April 22, 1953, a formal conference was held with the Firestone Company.

"On April 23, 1953, a formal conference was held with the Pennsylvania Rubber Company.

"On May 6, 1953, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company submitted a formal proposal.

"On May 8, 1953, the Firestone Company submitted a formal proposal.

"The Firestone Company submitted a higher proposal; however, it was within 20% of the low bid submitted by the Pennsylvania Rubber Company. Therefore, and in line with the Office of Defense Mobilization policies, consideration was given to the labor surplus group that each of those localities were in. Falls River, Massachusetts, was in Group IV Labor Surplus Area and Jeannette, Pennsylvania, was in Group III Labor Surplus Area. In view of this fact and again in line with Defense Mobilization policies, negotiations were continued with the Firestone Company in an effort to determine whether that company could meet the low bid.

"On May 26, 1953, the Firestone Company verbally advised the contracting officer in Boston, Massachusetts, that they would meet the low bid. Accordingly, on that same date, May 26, the contracting officer verbally informed the Firestone Company that their bid had been accepted. This was confirmed by teletype the same date.

"On May 29, 1953, the Office of Defense Mobilization advised the Office, Secretary of Defense, verbally and confirmed in writing on the same date that Falls River, Massachusetts, had been recertified as a Group III Labor Surplus Area, effective May 28, 1953.

"The Department of the Army, after receiving correspondence relative to this contract and being unaware of the formal commitment made by the contracting officer, looked into the feasibility of reconsidering the award of the contract. In looking into this matter it was determined that a firm commitment had been made to the Firestone Company by the contracting officer on May 26, 1953, as indicated above. This commitment was made prior to the notification from the Office of Defense Mobilization that Falls River, Massachusetts, was recertified from Group IV Labor Surplus Area to Group III Labor Surplus Area.

"In view of the foregoing, it is the opinion of the Department of the Army that as of the date the firm commitment was made on May 26, 1953, by the contracting officer, Falls River, Massachusetts, was in Category IV Labor Surplus Area. Therefore, the Department has no recourse but to allow the award to the Firestone Company.

"I appreciate your very deep interest in this matter and regret that it is not possible to furnish you a more favorable reply. However, I trust that the chronology of events leading up to the award of this contract will enable you to more readily understand the Department's position in this regard.

"Sincerely yours,
"T. A. YOUNG

"Inclosures"

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I might say to the gentleman that the best proof that they are not Democrats is that they have not been fired. They would be willing and very happy to have some scapegoat on whom to blame this faux pas. The fact that they have not said too much about it, and are trying to hide it, is because they are Republicans recently placed in there. One of them is the Purchasing Agent of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, who has done a finer job working through the governmental offices as a Purchasing Agent for the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company than he could ever have performed on the outside, and the other is a man who headed G.M.'s War Production Department.

Mr. President, before this Session is over, if it is not over very shortly, I intend to bring up some of the beautiful records of that particular department in General Motors, and tell this Senate why I believe Wilson is in Washington. I believe he is there to protect the past contracts of General Motors, because they were so high that they smelled to the high heavens.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to advise the Minority Floor Leader that the resolution he referred to in his earlier remarks was transmitted last Friday.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE SUBJECT OF A STATE PUBLIC HEALTH PLUMBING LAW

Messrs. BARR and McCUSKER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare:

In the Senate, June 15, 1953.

Whereas, Because of the rapid development of suburban and rural areas throughout the State serious difficulties have been encountered because of the lack of provisions for adequate sanitary facilities; and

Whereas, Present public health plumbing measures now in effect throughout the State are effective with few exceptions only in the larger communities, and these few exceptions relate to some boroughs and townships which have a great variety and confusion of provisions more or less adequate for the needs of public health and safety in the communities involved; and

Whereas, To extend adequately throughout the entire Commonwealth proper provisions of the public health plumbing laws now in effect, there was prepared a Proposed State Public Health Plumbing Law, incorporated in the provisions of Senate Bill 533, which was introduced into the 1953 Session of the General Assembly and which was referred to the Senate Local Government Committee; and

Whereas, After consideration, the Senate Local Government Committee recommended that the proposal, because of its broad application and its relation to the public health and safety recommended that the entire subject be studied by the Joint State Government Commission with recommendation for consideration and adoption by the next regular Session of the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study, investigate and inquire into the entire subject of a State public health plumbing law to be in effect in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Joint State Government Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the next regular Session of the General Assembly, together with such drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, you are one of the co-sponsors of a series of bills that are on the Calendar now which were prepared, I am assuming, from the report prepared and submitted by the Devers Committee, appointed by the Governor to investigate conditions in State prisons.

If my memory serves me correctly, there were a number of recommendations from that committee which include a capacity of 500 prisoners at the Eastern Penitentiary, the Western Penitentiary, at Graterford, at Rockview and at Huntingdon, which is to be transformed into a penitentiary. There is also a recommendation in that report calling for the training of the personnel as well as establishing new wage scales for the personnel. There is another recommendation in that report calling for the separation of the female inmates at Morganza to a separate institution.

Are these provisions provided for in the series of bills that are now on the Calendar, and of which you are a co-sponsor?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I have introduced those bills in connection with the Devers Committee Report and recommendations which have been prepared by the Justice Department and turned over to me. There are some of those recommendations which you enumerated that are not incorporated in these bills.

Mr. YOSKO. Is there any reason why these very important recommendations are not incorporated in the bills. Frankly, I think these recommendations are the guts of the situation which is confronting the people of Pennsylvania today; overcrowding, lack of training of personnel, underpayment of personnel by way of salaries, and the segregation of the women inmates from the male inmates.

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Mr. President, we are introducing these bills as fast as they come from the Justice Department, and certainly the Senator can find no fault with the speed in which they are reported from committee. We had another one introduced today, and Senator Walker polled his Judiciary General Committee, to which it was referred, and it is out and is now taking first reading on the very day on which it was introduced.

I do not believe that these bills which we have presented complete the package, but tomorrow we are going to have an interview with Attorney General Woodside, and I will find out where the rest of the bills are and I will inform you further tomorrow about the rest of the package.

Mr. YOSKO. May I then inquire, so that we have it on the record, whether you will take these recommendations up with the Attorney General to determine whether amendments will be made to the bills that are now on the Calendar or whether separate bills will be prepared and introduced to take care of these very important recommendations of the Devers Committee?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I presume that new bills will be prepared and sponsored. I will advise you further tomorrow about that, Senator.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

A Supplement to the act, approved the eighteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

In the Senate, June 16, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns, it reconvene on Wednesday, June 24, 1953, at three o'clock p. m., E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to addres the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 266, and House Bill No. 574, Printer's No. 221, are, in my opinion, two of the most obnoxious and punitive pieces of legislation that have hit the floor of the Senate. The enactment into law of this legislation will have far-reaching effect on the finances of local political subdivisions. Actually, it is a basic change in the Commonwealth's tax structure and may necessitate in my opinion, even greater State aid in the future to local communities.

One of the most dangerous provisions of House Bill No. 573 is the term "other equipment" and, according to the wording and phraseology of the amendment, the legislation bans the assessing of such equipment that is built into or becomes a part of a building and, of course, most political subdivisions assess structures of this nature as a part of the value of the building.

Mr. President, it seems to me that a highly organized lobby is operating in the Senate with the express idea in mind of enacting this legislation into law for the benefit of the vested interests in the Commonwealth. Most of you must realize that, under the provisions of this act, you are taking the tax off the back of those who have the ability to pay and placing it smack upon the back of the little fellow, the small home owner in every community in this Commonwealth, with the exceptions of the counties of the second class.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that, under the Uniformity Clause of our Constitution, whereby we must have uniformity in the levying of taxes, I am wondering whether or not counties of the second class could be exempted from the provisions of this act. Not that I want them saddled with the discriminatory provisions contained therein; however, I would like to have that thought in the record.

Mr. President, the statute pertaining to the taxing of machinery has been a law of this Commonwealth since the year 1833 and, all of us must agree, that machinery is the only part of a plant capable of producing a profit, sometimes far in excess of its original cost. Machinery today in industry is supplementing labor, especially in our mines, our mills and in our factories in Western Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, it seems to be an admitted fact that the Commonwealth is confronted with a financial crisis, and the leadership on the Republican side admit that they need at least 118 million dollars in new taxes in order to balance the budget for this biennium. I hear a lot of talk about placing the cost or a portion of the cost, of government back on the local political subdivisions in order to ease the State's financial burden, and now we have legislation which will even cripple the communities further by legislating away from them a great source of revenue.

Mr. President, I want the people of Pennsylvania to know that, in my opinion the leadership of the Republican Party in Pennsylvania seems to wear the collar of big business. It seems that our National Government is operated for the benefit of General Motors, and here in Pennsylvani we seem to be operating for the benefit of the Sun Oil Company and the Manufacturers' Association. In other words, Mr. President, the passage of this legislation could be nothing less than a payoff to those who contribute to the coffers of the Republican Party here in Pennsylvania.

I might further add, Mr. President, that, in my opinion, this legislation is unconstitutional because it violates the provisions of Article III, Section 7, and Article IX, Sections 1 and 2, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth, which specifically sets forth that the Legislature cannot exempt property from taxation, and the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth has ruled that machinery is property.

Mr. President, I therefore, feel that before further consideration is given to this legislation, we should submit this problem to the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, and he should render an official opinion.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to addres sthe Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I can understand Senator Lane's eagerness to debate this bill. However, I wish that he would wait until such time as it properly appears before us. Then we can debate it on both sides. At this time, I am sure Senator Lane will give us the benefit of all those arguments again and, perhaps, someone on this side can tell us why this is good legislation.

Mr. President, I wish that the Members of the Senate would wait until we get to the firing line before they start firing. We will be here next week, Senator Lane, and we will debate this bill at length.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to assure the gentleman that I certainly will debate the bill at length.

Mr. President, what I want to do here today, however, is let the people know what is going on. We do not have the time. I can see by the way things are going that this is going to be steam-rolled through here, and it will work a hardship on everyone. I want the people to know—and I am serious about this—that we must do something and we must do it quickly.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, usually at this stage of a Session rumors start to fly thicker than snow at Christmas time. It is always difficult for a man trying to work out a solution to a vexing problem to have these rumors crop up in such a way that they become embarrassing to all of the Members of the Senate. There has been a great deal of conjecture, on the part of some of the newspaper reporters, as to just what happened yesterday, the day before and the day before yesterday, and what will happen tomorrow, the day after tomorrow and the day after the day after tomorrow.

Mr. President, in order that all of us have an understanding as to the position in which we, the Democratic Minority, find ourselves at the present and are dedicated to keep, I would like to announce at this time that we, in the Senate Minority Caucus, realize that so far as we are concerned we have no tax program before us. However, all of us are cognizant of our duty to the peoples of this Commonwealth, and have been aware of that duty for many long years. We all know that in the final analysis the question of raising revenue is one that must be resolved.

Mr. President, yesterday, the Republican State Chairman issued an invitation to the Democratic leadership to attend a conference on this problem. The Democratic State Chairman has replied that he is willing at any time to meet with the Republican Chairman to decide upon procedure and whatever program they may be able to arrive at. I can assure the Republican Chairman that if the Democratic Chairman works out with him, or any group that may be selected, a solution to this problem, that the Democratic Members of the General Assembly will give all their efforts toward an early completion of this Legislative Session.

Mr. President, it is, however, good to remind the Senate at this time that early in this Session, just as we did two years ago, early in that fateful Session, we offered our cooperation to try to work out a solution. I am very much afraid that the pattern is becoming somewhat set along the same lines as that pattern of two years ago. We find ourselves beset with these rumors that create false hopes in some of the Members that, perhaps, they can revive a dead horse and put it to plow in the field again.

Mr. President, so far as we, the Minority, are concerned, there has been no change of our position in regard to the sales tax bill. I speak with the authority of the Caucus and with the authority of the Democratic leadership in the House. To those serious Members of the Republican Party intent upon seeking a solution to this position in which we find ourselves, I state to them and to all the public of Pennsylvania that we, the Democrats, do not intend at this time, during this Session of the Legislature, to give any votes toward the passage of a State sales tax in this Commonwealth.

Now, starting from there, Mr. President, I would like to remind the Members of the Senate of some words that were spoken years ago by Edmund Burke in which he said "'All government, indeed every human benefit and enjoyment, every virtue and every prudent act, is founded on compromise and barter.' Horse-trading is a Yankee tradition. Bargaining is of the essence of the ancient and once honorable science of negotiation, which many Americans now view with contempt and suspicion."

Mr. President, in any kind of a legislative body, there comes a time when there must be negotiation and there must be some kind of compromise. I do not know whether staying here six months longer or another year would tend to reduce the pressure under which we now find ourselves. I am sure that we, in the Minority, have always known that sooner or later there must be an admission, that help must be granted in order to pass whatever revenues are needed in order that the services of this Commonwealth be not jeopardized.

Mr. President, I find on our side of the Senate a willing attitude towards such a position. I do not know that we have before us any kind of a substantial program other than that which we have read about somewhat in the newspapers, other than that which has been submitted in a negative way by the Governor and in a negative way by the leadership in the House of Representatives on the Republican side.

Mr. President, all of us realize that this job, which we now enjoy as representatives of the people, pays the magnificent sum of approximately $1,500 a year, which is hardly a living wage. I know that many of the Members of the Senate are not dependent upon their ability to earn an income for their families when they are away from here and, perhaps, are in such a position in a business way that it does not become a hardship upon them. However, from firsthand knowledge, I know that there are some Members of the Senate who must, of a necessity, spend some time at home in order that their families may live somewhere near the standard set by our modern civilization in this Country. Also, many Members of the House are forced by the necessity of need to get back to their own bailiwicks in order that they may earn a living.

Mr. President, I, therefore, believe that for the benefit of all concerned we should quit all of this false thinking, and quit raising false hopes that you can revive the dead horse called the sales tax and put it back to work in the fields again. It is as dead as the income tax, if it is dependent upon Democratic votes. I think I said that many times in 1951, but it took twelve months to convince us. We do not want to stay here twelve months.

Mr. President, I believe that the Minority Leader in the House placed the position very well today when he said that the minute the Republican Majority comes up with a program to meet the so-called need—as I understand it to be approximately $120,000,000—and can establish forthwith a total number of votes that they are able to cast for any particular set of bills, then they would be willing to see if their Caucus can provide the additional votes. Until you come to that stage, the negotiations will be as they have been in the past, a lot of newspaper talk and a lot of wind passed through the windows of the Senate and House.

Mr. President, if we are serious and we want to get down to business, I believe there is a common ground upon which we can meet. That ground will contain upon it the needs of the Commonwealth, the needs of the schools, the needs of the Department of Welfare, the needs of the Department of Highways and the various other governmental functioning departments here on the Hill. When we have established that by presenting to this Senate and to the House an appropriation setup which gives us somewhere near the total amount needed, then we can establish the amount of revenue which is required and may, perhaps, be able to proceed from there. If we do this and work at it diligently, with some degree of honor amongst us, without the hope of taking undue advantage, both individually and politically as parties, then, perhaps, by the 15th of July there ought to be a sine die resolution possible.

Mr. President, unless we do that, I can suggest to the Senate that we ought to at least quit for three or four months, and go home and have a breather and come back. If we are not willing to accept the facts as they are, and recognize the needs as they are, and recognize the need for cooperation and a common ground to meet upon, then the best thing to do is to recess for a period and come back after we have cooled off. I know that the extreme heat of Harrisburg is not adding anything to the solution of the problem. I am sure all of you agree with me that it is a problem which must be solved.

Mr. President, I do not want to go back into history and try to place the blame for where we find ourselves upon any individual's shoulders. Collectively, perhaps, it can be spread out over more than one set of shoulders. You cannot continually be passing legislation creating debts into the future without at least making provisions for the payment of the interest on the debt and at least some part of the principal. That has been wrong. That has been the fault that we find which has caused our downfall in this and the 1951 Session, and I dare say that unless we do something drastic, perhaps it will haunt us in the future Sessions to come.

Mr. President, I have always maintained that sooner or later there will be a broad base tax. However, no broad base tax should ever be passed in Pennsylvania until there has been time to have a Constitutional Convention in order that there can be placed upon any broad base tax a limitation above which this or any other General Assembly cannot go without first passing a referendum to the people of this Commonwealth. We must not at this time set up an unlimited revenue possibility in Pennsylvania, because all of us know that each day, as the days go by, there will come greater and greater demands upon central government for more and more services to be rendered to more and more groups of persons and to local governments.

Mr. President, if we continue to grant these wishes, we are always going to be adding and adding more central taxes. Until we decide once and for all that there is a limit to what the State can do in the way of local help or individual help or charitable help, then we must limit the amount of revenue that any one particular measure can be charged for in our scheme of things. I think that eventually we will have that.

Mr. President, I was sorry to see the statement by the Majority Leader that, in his belief, the Constitutional Convention bill was dead. I was hopeful that we would be able to work out, by compromise and by negotiation, the possibility of a Constitutional Convention in order that at that convention some of the wiser and cooler heads in Pennsylvania could get together and perhaps give us a pattern for the future Members of the General Assembly to work upon.

Mr. President, I think that the time has come when we should quit stalling with the problem and quit hiding our heads in the sand, like the proverbial ostrich, and refuse to look facts in the face. The facts are that we are rendering services which were never contemplated when the Constitution was written in 1873. That being the fact, then we find that the Constitution, itself, with its limited possibilities for revenue, has constricted this General Assembly's ability to raise money to meet the added services.

Therefore, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I want to repeat, for all to know, that so far as we are concerned as a group, and I speak also as an individual, the Democrats do not intend nor expect to give any votes for the sales tax and, therefore, we find ourselves in the position we were in January. We are willing to cooperate; we are willing to negotiate in any agreement that will give to Pennsylvania some sort of an equitable tax schedule under the present trying conditions.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not know what article Senator Dent read, but if it said that I said the Constitutional Convention bill was dead, it was in error. What I did say was that the bill, House Bill No. 1, as we passed it in the Senate and which I voted for, is all that we could get passed in the Senate. That bill, as amended by the Senate, is now before the House, lying on the table waiting for them to either concur or nonconcur in the amendments placed in it by the Senate.

Mr. President, history has shown us that the only way in which a Constitutional Convention has been held was in the manner in which we are doing it by this bill. That is, you put it up to the people in the form of a referendum as to whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention. If they answer that in the affirmative, saying that they do, then we set up the machinery for the convention. We debated that at length when the bill was before us and we are not going to go back into that again, but that is the way in which we obtained our present Constitution. We feel that by doing this in this manner, we are assuring the people that they will have a Constitutional Convention if they want one.

Mr. President, it was tried before, I think in the 1930's, to have on the ballot the question of whether or not the people wanted a Constitutional Convention, and also, at the same time, have candidates running for a Convention which was never held because the people voted it down. That procedure failed not many years ago, and why anyone would want us to try the same procedure now is more than I can understand.

Mr. President, I hope that the House will concur in the Senate amendments, and that the referendum will be submitted to the people this year and that they will say they want a Constitutional Convention.

Mr. President, I do not often tell how I vote, but I am going to vote "aye" on the Constitutional Convention, if I am allowed to at the polls next November by having that question before me.

Mr. President, regarding the other thing which Senator Dent referred to, their proposition that they will be glad to sit down with us and try to work out an agreeable tax program, I wish to state, for my part, Senator Dent, I am willing at any time to sit down with you or anyone else to try to work out the solution. If we can do it and get out of here, then I think that we will have done a good job.

Mr. President, I do not like to go into these long recesses. Senator Dent has suggested that if we cannot do it next week or the week after, we take another recess. We tried that in 1951. We recessed month after month, and we did not get out of here until just a little bit before Christmas. I am afraid that if we do the same thing this year, we will have another repeat performance and we will have another Christmas Holiday in the Capitol. I think we should stay right at the job here, week after week, even during the summer months, and try and get this thing worked out so that we can adjourn finally within the near future.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I listened to the statements of both the distinguished Minority Leader and Majority Leader. I also read some statements in the newspapers over the week end.

Mr. President, in so far as the tax program is concerned, I am reminded of an offer of assistance which was made by Senator Dent about three weeks ago. When Senator Dent finished his remarks, the distinguished Majority Leader took the floor and he said that the—or words to this effect—burden of enacting a tax program was upon the Republican Majority, and they would assume that burden without the assistance of the Democrats and if it was the wrong kind of a tax program, the onus would be on the Majority and not the Minority.

Now, Mr. President, over the week end Senator Taylor apparently repudiated the sentiments of the distinguished Majority Leader, because, if the statements I read ir the paper are correct, he said that Democratic help was needed to enact a tax program. I do not know whether Senator Taylor was talking as the Republican State Chairman, as the President pro tempore of the Senate, just in his capacity as a State Senator or in all three capacities. In my opinion, at least, it was a repudiation of the attitude and the sentiments of the distinguished Majority Leader.

Mr. President, if that is true, I think the Majority Leader should make his position clear once again. If he has changed his mind on assistance from the Minority, he should so state.

It seems to me in politics, Mr. President, the old saying is that a party or any group has to have leaders and it has to have followers. From the actions of the Majority since January 6, up until the present time, it seems to me that the Majority is lacking in both leaders and followers, because they have not been able to come up with the type of leadership and program and result that leadership, with followers attached to the leadership, should be able to perform.

Mr. President, it seems to me that they should get together and decide on who is the leader, get a definite program together and develop the courage to present it and enact it into law, so that we can wind up the affairs of this Legislature.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, what I said at that former meeting of the Senate, relative to our responsibility concerning taxes, was certainly not to be interpreted to mean that we would not welcome Democratic votes for any tax program. What I meant to say, and I believe I did say, and I believe everybody understood it except, perhaps, Senator Yosko, was that the responsibility of the tax program was on the Majority Party.

Mr. President, for instance, all of the taxes that we have which have been passed by the Majority Party, it was our responsibility and we do not shirk that responsibility. However, we do welcome Democratic votes for any taxes on which they decide to vote.

Mr. President, I am not speaking for Senator Taylor, he can speak for himself, but I do not believe that Senator Taylor meant to repudiate anything I said by any statement which he made. I feel that we all feel it is our responsibility for a tax program. We do need Democratic votes for some of these measures, and we will be glad to have them and we will be glad to sit down with them and discuss taxes with them at any time. That is what I meant to say, Senator Yosko, and that is the way in which I would like to have it interpreted.

Mr. President, as far as leadership is concerned, I believe all of us can always feel that as long as I am up here as Majority Floor Leader, I do represent my Republican Caucus. At any time that I do not represent that Republican Caucus as their leader, then I shall certainly be glad to tender my resignation as Majority Floor Leader. Until such time as that, however, I believe I can safely say that I represent the Republican Caucus.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. McCUSKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 24, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 29, 1953 at three o'clock p. m., E.S.T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 29, 1953 at three-thirty o'clock p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 126 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, at this time I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 126.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS IN TARIFF AND TRADE LEGISLATION

In the Senate, April 15, 1953.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability;

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our own smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price-cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment;

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent;

Whereas, Pressure that comes from imports of residual fuel oil, having risen from an average of fifty million barrels in the 1946-1948 period to more than one hundred twenty-five million in 1952, or the equivalent of thirty-one million tons of coal; from imports of pottery, watches and parts, glassware, lace, carpets and other textiles, hats and millinery, chemicals, scientific aparatus, cutlery, dairy products, wall paper, luggage and leather goods, and many other articles, will render the upholding of the economy at its high levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom this contained; and

Whereas, A maximum of such trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen, and the stability of our economy by unfair, import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 126 ADOPTED

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think we are going quite far afield when we get into the international situation on tariffs, etc., when we cannot solve our own problems here.

Mr. President, this is a matter which has been debated in our Halls of of Congress, and the bill is being debated now. I think it has passed the House of Representatives and is now in the Senate. I think it would be well if we tend to our own knitting here and if there is going to be a vote on this, I want to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Allegheny request a roll call?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, you can show it in the Journal if you want. I want to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. In order for the Senator to be recorded, there will have to be a roll call.

Mr. McGINNIS. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. LEADER. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I think it is a very unfair resolution to ask the Members of the Senate to vote on a matter which has taken months of debate in the hearings in Congress. We have elected Congressmen to represent this State in Congress. I do not think it is fair for us now to dictate to the Members of our Congress and tell them how we think they should vote. If we want to tell them how they should vote, we should vote for the Congressman in our district, and not send them a resolution.

Mr. President, there is not any of us here who knows this problem thoroughly. We have received a lot of propaganda for high tariffs and against high tariffs. Therefore, we are not properly informed on how to vote.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT RESOLUTION

Mr. HOLLAND Mr. President, in view of that fact, I move that this resolution be referred back to committee for further consideration and study and, if possible, a public hearing.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair regrets to advise the Senator from Allegheny that his motion is out of order. A roll call has been requested. The only thing before the Senate is the calling of the roll.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the roll call has not been started. Therefore, the motion to recommit prevails.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is granting the latitude to the Senator to debate the question, but certainly he is out of order in offering a motion at a time when the Clerk is ready to call the roll and had started to do so.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the roll call was not started.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recalls that recently we had the same discussion when the shoe was on the other foot. Does the Senator remember?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have heard you raise the same question when you were a Member of the House.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the roll call has started, and the gentleman is out of order.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McGINNIS and Mr. LEADER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—35

Bane,	Haluska,	Mahany,	Wade,

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 912), page 4, line 7, by inserting after "Correction": "who shall be qualified by training and experience to perform and supervise the work of the bureau. He shall be"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 913), page 4, line 11, by inserting after "be": "qualified by training and experience to perform and supervise the work with which he is charged. He shall be."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 673, Printer's No. 329, is one of the bills of a package of proposals presented for the reorganization of the penal system in Pennsylvania. This set of bills, I understand, were drafted in accordance with the recommendations made by the special committee appointed by the Governor to investigate conditions in State prisons in Pennsylvania, following the riots at the two branches of the Western State Penitentiary.

Mr. President, this bill, to which I submitted amendments, calls for the establishment of a Bureau of Correction. Section 912 reads: "Bureau of Correction There shall be a Bureau of Correction in the Department of Justice in charge of a Commissioner of Correction appointed by the Attorney General with the approval of the Governor." My amendments add a qualification feature to the person being appointed.

Mr. President, the reorganization of the penal system, in accordance with the recommendations of the committee I named, will cost the Commonwealth thousands, if not millions, of dollars to bring about the desired results. It is, therefore, important if we are to enjoy success in that reorganization to have qualified, competent people at the head of the most vital part of that reorganization, the Bureau of Correction.

I submitted these amendments, Mr. President, because in my opinion, and in the opinion of others, the riots at the two Western State Pentitentiaries resulted from incompetent and irresponsible wardens which they had at these institutions. If the heads of these institutions would have been competent and qualified persons and not political hacks, perhaps the riots could have been averted at a saving of thousands of dollars to the Commonwealth in the form of damages resulting from the riots.

Mr. President, I see nothing wrong and I do not see why anyone should object to amendments calling for the appointment of a person to a very important position by indicating that that person should be qualified in his field by education or experience. This is a specialized field and if it is placed in the hands of a political hack, we certainly will not get the desired results and it will be just a waste of money, the taxpayers' money of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I, therefore, ask, in the interest of good government, that every Member of this Senate vote for these amendments.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to oppose these amendments because certainly I feel that the Attorney General and the Governor would appoint a proper person for this important job.

Mr. President, these amendments do not, however, set up what kind of qualifications the man would have or how much experience. They are very indefinite, and I do not believe that they would serve any useful purpose. I am sure that if the Governor of the Commonwealth would appoint some political hack, who did not know anything about this job, to this position, certainly he would not be very politic because the people would resent it so that he certainly would lose a great number of votes, or his party would, at the polls the next time they sought to be elected.

Mr. President, inasmuch as these amendments are indefinite and they serve no useful purpose, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on them.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS BE ADOPTED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I move that the amendments to Senate Bill No. 673, be adopted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE BILL No. 480 CALLED UP FROM POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, at this time I would like to call up, from page 8 of today's Third Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 480, Printer's No. 304, for consideration.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 480, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127) entitled "An act relating to Adoption" by defining certain terms imposing powers and duties on the Department of Welfare, providing for appeals requiring reports concerning receiving children for adoption and investigation thereof changing contents of petition for adoption providing procedure for the voluntary relinquishment of and for the finding of abandonment of certain children eliminating certain consent to adoption and further providing for hearings and investigatory powers of the court

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 2, line 6 by removing the brackets before "Be" and after "&c"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3 line 19 by striking out "No Religious Institution"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 4, lines 1 to 9 by striking out all of lines 1 to 8 and "of the county in which such agency or institution is located" in line 9 and inserting in lieu thereof: "Upon application made therefor, the Department of Welfare shall approve each agency or institution which it determines meets the standards of approval promulgated by the department. Whenever the Department of Welfare determines that an agency or institution fails to meet such standards it shall file its disapproval or withdrawal of approval with the court as defined in this act of the county in which such agency or institution is located. Such actions shall not become effective until affirmed by the court."; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 4, line 11 by striking out "Department of Welfare" and inserting in lieu thereof: "agency or institution"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 7, lines 1 to 5 by striking out all of said lines.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise in support of the amendments offered by Senator Walker. At the same time, I would like to clear up, if I can, some misunderstanding about this bill as it now exists.

Mr. President, last Monday, in speaking before the Senate, I said that the erroneous implication has been drawn that certain religious groups among our citizens have requested to be exempted from proper surveillance on the part of the State in the matter of the placement of children for adoption. Somewhere along the line someone has—that is, the newspaper writers have gotten the opinion that the amendments, which were offered by me the week before that, were given to me by some denomination.

Mr. President, that is entirely untrue. These amendments were written by a very capable lawyer on the Republican side and myself, here on the Senate floor, in a few moments' time. Those amendments today, as a result of Senator Walker's amendments, are being eliminated and I wish the Clerk would read the large amendment in order that I might take a minute to explain it.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 19, by striking out "No Religious Institution";

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 4, lines 1 to 9, by striking out all of lines 1 to 8 and "of the county in which such agency or institution is located" in line 9 and inserting in lieu thereof: "Upon application made therefor, the Department of Welfare shall approve each agency or institution which it determines meets the standards of approval promulgated by the department. Whenever the Department of Welfare determines that an agency or institution fails to meet such standards it shall file its disapproval or withdrawal of approval with the court as defined in this act of the county in which such agency or institution is located. Such actions shall not become effective until affirmed by the court.";

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 4, line 11, by striking out "Department of Welfare" and inserting in lieu thereof: "agency or institution";

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 7, lines 1 to 5, by striking out all of said lines.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the large amendment just read by the Clerk does the thing that I have been trying to do for a period of possibly three weeks, since this bill has been on the Calendar.

Mr. President, it simply does this, for the benefit of the Members of the Senate. When this advisory board says that an institution or a child-caring agency, in their opinion, does not meet the standards which they have set forth, the Department of Welfare goes into court and not child-care agency. There they must prove their case.

Mr. President, as the bill read before, it was up to the institution or the child-care agency to take the matter to court. As we know, many of these are charitable organizations and a great number, I would say ninety-five per cent of them, receive no State-aid of any kind, and it would have been a terrific financial burden if they were forced to take these matters into court. As the bill now stands, with Senator Walker's amendments, it would be up to the Department of Welfare to take these matters to court, and there they shall be decided once and for all.

Mr. President, I ask the gentlemen on this side of the Senate to support these amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 480, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 500, Printer's No. 386, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 573, entitled:

"An Act to further amend Section 201 of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled 'An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws' by further defining real estate to be valued and assessed for taxation"

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think that House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226, and House Bill No. 574, Printer's No. 221, deal with the same subjects. However, House Bill No. 573 deals with third class counties, while House Bill No. 574 refers to counties from the fourth to the eighth class.

Mr. President, this legislation, in my opinion, is just about as harmless as an atomic bomb, as far as the finances of local governments are concerned. I have before me a number of protests from responsible individuals, and groups and organizations protesting the passage of this legislation. It seems that I must take up the time of the Senate in order to have it brought to the attention of the public just what these bills really do.

Mr. President, it is always customary to interrogate the chairman of the Committee from which the bill was reported, and I would, therefore, like to interrogate the distinguished gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Wood, Chairman of the Finance Committee here in the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wood, are you familiar with the subject matter contained in House Bills Nos. 573 and 574, which are before us today on second reading?

Mr. WOOD. I believe I am, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wood, what, in your opinion, is the purpose of this legislation?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I think that the purpose of this legislation is very evident. It is to prohibit the assessment of machinery as real estate in all of the counties of the Commonwealth, with the exception of counties of the first and second class which have already been eliminated by previous acts of the Legislature.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wood, you will notice on page 3, commencing at line number 7, in House Bill No. 573, that the wording of the amendment is as follows:

"Machinery tools appliances and other equipment contained in any mill mine manufactory or industrial establishment shall not be considered or included as a part of the real estate in determining the value of such mill mine manufactory or industrial establishment."

What is meant by the word "machinery," as set forth in this amendment?

Mr. WOOD. I would say, Mr. President, it means just exactly what it says; the machinery that is in the building or the plant.

Mr. LANE. Well, Mr. President, let us elaborate a little further now. When we talk about machinery which is in the building, would you say that it would pertain to the furnace? Is that a part of the equipment?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I would not say that, generally speaking. If the gentleman means the heating plant, then he is talking about machinery. If he is talking about a blast furnace, that is something else.

Mr. LANE. All right, what is meant by the word "tools," as set forth in this act?

Mr. WOOD. It might be a hammer, Mr. President, or it might be a screw driver. I do not know.

Mr. LANE. Well, Mr. President, I can see that the gentleman is not very well versed on this, but we will go right ahead.

What is meant by the word "appliances," as set forth in this act? I want this in the record.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, maybe we should get a copy of Webster's Dictionary up here, and I will read the definitions as they appear in that noted volume.

Mr. LANE. Now I would like you to explain to me, Senator Wood, what is meant by the wording "other equipment," as set forth in the amendment, "other equipment?"

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, that, I think, would require the gentleman from Washington to say what kind of a plant he is talking about.

Mr. LANE. We are talking about all of the plants which are mentioned in this legislation, in the amendment. We are talking about any mill, mine, manufactory or industrial establishment as set forth in the amendment.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, it seems to me that "other equipment" would be those things that exist around the plant, other than machinery, tools and appliances.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, let us take a hypothetical case. Let us suppose that a mill has a number of furnaces built in and a part of the structure. Would those furnaces be classified as machinery and not subject to the provisions of this amendment?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I am a very smart fellow and I attempt to answer all kinds of things. We have some very competent lawyers who are Members of the Senate, and I believe that at times they charge rather high fees for their opinions as to what certain words mean. In fairness to myself, I think that the gentleman from Washington should ask one of those distinguished legal Members of this Body for his information. He might be able to get it free, as Senator Walker sometimes supplies it, or he might have to pay a considerable sum of money.

Mr. LANE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. President, I just wanted to point out to the Membership here in the Senate the vagueness of this legislation, and what we are going to be confronted with in the future if this is passed into law. I did not interrogate Senator Wood for the purpose of attemptingto embarrass him. I just wanted to prove my point, and I am just commencing, that this legislation is going to cause an untold amount of trouble to all our political subdivisions, counties, school districts, boroughs and townships included.

Mr. President, I would like to, if I may, interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, Mr. President, if he does not ask me any free legal questions.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, in all probability you will be called upon to defend this act, if it is passed, when it gets into court.

Mr. President, I want to take another hypothetical case here. In a number of mills, the steel beams, which are a part of the building or the plant, are sometimes used as a support for the heavy cranes that operate back and forth within the mills, and these steel beams also serve a dual purpose both as a part of the structure and used by the cranes to operate.

Would they be assessable or would they be classified as "other equipment," under the provisions of this amendment? In other words, what would happen to those steel beams? Would they be classified as other equipment or machinery and not assessable under the provisions of this act, in your opinion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in my opinion, I would think that those would be assessable.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, is it not true that the passage of this legislation will undoubtedly work a hardship, a financial hardship, upon our political subdivisions here in the Commonwealth?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, that would be questionable as to whether it would or not.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, I have before me here a communication from a county of the third class whereby they say that if this legislation is passed, it will reduce their assessed valuations by about twenty-five per cent. If that be the case, you must agree that this county must have the revenue to supplement that twenty-five per cent of assessed valuations which they have lost. Is that not true?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, that would be true. Let us also presume that by reason of getting rid of these taxes, they get a whole lot more factories and they get a lot more people who build houses there. The workers could come in and they could assess their properties.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, we, of the Legislature, during the past years, have passed legislation which mandated responsibilities upon our school districts to pay a portion of the earned increment which all the schoolteachers are entitled to over a period of five years. Is that not true?

Mr. MAHANY. That is true, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Now, we will take the school districts in the industrial areas, especially where there is a mill or a mine or a factory. Do you not feel that that particular school district will be confronted with a financial problem?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not know what particular school district the Senator is referring to, but I would say that they would be able to assess these mills and get a pretty good assessment out of them. For years counties and cities have been assessing mills, and they have not always considered every piece of machinery in the building and every tool and railroad car and everything else as part of the real estate, but they have assessed the plant. I feel that even if this legislation were passed, they would continue to be able to get a pretty good assessment out of those mills.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, as a Member of the Bar from your county, you are probably aware of the danger of the wording "other equipment" which is inserted in this amendment. In your opinion, what would "other equipment" mean?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Mr. President, the city of Erie, for instance, has assessed railroad cars and even diesel locomotives that run around the plant as part of the real estate. Such equipment as that, I think, would come under this provision. After this bill was passed and made law, they could not assess railroad cars and railroad engines and trucks and things like that as part of the real estate.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, correct me if I am wrong, but I think you answered the question a little while ago when I talked to you about the steel beams, which are not in any sense of the word "machinery," and you said that they would be classified as other equipment.

Mr. MAHANY. No, I said that they would be assessed as part of the real estate.

Mr. LANE. I misunderstood you; I beg your pardon.

All right, Senator Mahany, do you believe that this legislation is constitutional legislation?

Mr. MAHANY. I feel that it is, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. How do you arrive at that decision?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think it would be up to the gentleman to show me how he arrived at the decision, which he evidently makes, that it is unconstitutional.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am doing the interrogating right now.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there is nothing in the Constitution that I know of which prevents us from passing this type of legislation, under our archaic Constitution as you fellows sometimes call it.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, is it not true that a certain lobbyist for the Sun Oil Company is quite active in support of this legislation?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think that certainly is an improper question. I do not know who is interested. There are a lot of people interested. I think the Chamber of Commerce of Erie is very much interested in this legislation. They feel that if this legislation is passed, it is for the good of the city of Erie and the Commonwealth generally. They feel that they can get many more factories into Erie. They have had an exodus of factories, plants and corporations from the city. They are certainly feeling a burden up there in making up their tax assessment when they see these businesses leaving their city.

I do not know that anyone is particularly interested in it. I know that there are a lot of people who are interested in it, however.

Mr. LANE. I do not notice the Chamber of Commerce of Erie being down around the Halls of the House and Senate, lobbiyng for this legislation.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if you would like to see their representative next Monday when we vote on the bill, I will be glad to have him down here.

Mr. LANE. He will probably be here, they have a right to be, but I have not seen him so far.

How would this legislation, Senator Mahany, affect your county in regard to assessed valuations?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not know exactly. It might be that we would get many more plants into the county if we did not have this tax. That remains to be seen, what effect it is going to have.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, does your county assess machinery in a plant, or do they show the machinery as a part of the value of the building?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think they show it as a part of the value of the building. In the city of Titusville, we assess the plant, the real estate and the building.

Mr. LANE. You will agree with me that your particular county and your city of Titusville will suffer a decrease in their assessed valuation if this bill is passed. Is that not correct?

Mr. MAHANY. No, Mr. President, I keep saying that we will not. As I say, if we drive industry out of the city by high assessments or unfair assessments, so that they cannot compete with similar industries in other places where they do not have that tax, certainly we are going to drive our industry out of our cities.

Mr. President, that is what is happening up in Erie. The plants will not expand in the city of Erie. They close up their plants within the city and move outside the city boundaries. If they are going to continue to do that, certainly the city of Erie is going to suffer. If we can keep them there, then I think we are going to do something for the city of Erie and these other subdivisions.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, if this would not mean a reduction in your assessments, or the assessed valuations in your particular county and city, then how could you encourage industry to come into your particular county or city?

Mr. MAHANY. Pardon me, I was reading this letter from the Chamber of Commerce of Erie. I did not hear your last question.

Mr. LANE. I say to you, if the passage of this bill would not reduce your assessed valuations in your particular county or city, then how in the world would you encourage industry to come into your particular county or city, because you must offer them something? Your argument is that they would have the advantages of reduced assessments, and then you say that that would not reduce assessments.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the particular assessment might be reduced, but the total number of assessments might be increased if you got more plants to come to your city.

Mr. LANE. You are predicating your thought on probably the next four or five years; you are hoping that. Is that not true?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may I read this letter from the Erie Chamber of Commerce? I think this answers your question better than I could answer it. It says: "Dear Senator Blass:

"I am writing you as President of the Erie Chamber of Commerce. We are deeply interested in the industrial future of our city. As you are doubtless aware, for the past several years, in Erie, industrial machinery has been included in the real estate tax base and has, consequently, placed Erie at a great competitive disadvantage in our bidding for new industry. Erie is the only city in Pennsylvania where this taxation situation exists but it could apply to other cities in Pennsylvania if the issue was forced on the assessor as it was in Erie."

Mr. President, that is the first paragraph of that letter.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, did you see this folder put out by Johns-Manville where it says, "One and a half billions of new expenditures in western Pennsylvania spark one of the greatest industrial expansions in the nation"? They mark out your county of Mercer, I believe, and Allegheny County, which now, I understand, assesses machinery and is one of the chief beneficiaries under this setup. My county of Washington is in on it, Beaver is in on it, Butler and Armstrong, so you cannot tell me that you are losing very many corporations or industrial expansions by the levying of a tax on machinery.

I say also, Senator Mahany, that this legislation just does not pertain to the city of Erie. This legislation affects every county in the Commonwealth, with the exception of counties of the second class.

By the way, Senator Mahany, what would you recommend to the political subdivisions? What would you recommend them to do to procure the necessary funds to supplement the money that will lose under the provisions of this act? Do you have any recommendations?

Mr. MAHANY. Now, you predicated the question by saying that they would lose. I keep saying that perhaps they will gain. Temporarily, if they lose on that machinery tax, then I would say that perhaps they should enact some ordinances under Act No. 481 which allows them to tax various instrumentalities and so on, anything which the State does not tax.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, I listened to you read a letter from the Chamber of Commerce of Erie, and now I would like your indulgence while I read to you a letter from the county of Westmoreland, which says: .

"Dear Senator Lane:

"At the meeting today the County Commissioners of Westmoreland County considered the import of proposed House Bills Numbers 573 and 574. A quick calculation showed that if these bills were passed it would mean a loss to Westmoreland County and each of the constituent municipal governments at approximately twenty-five per cent of the assessed valuation for tax purposes.

"I was directed to write you personally and present the protest of the County Commissioners of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, both on behalf of the county and all of said county local governments.

"We do hope these Acts will not be approved by the Senate of Pennsylvania and so wish to state.

"Yours very truly,
"/s/ Robert M. Carson
"Robert M. Carson
"County Solicitor."

If your argument is correct that they are not going to lose anything, I would like to have some bona fide proof, because in my own county of Washington we figured it conservatively, and we do not assess the machinery by plate, and it is going to affect us to the tune of eighteen to twenty per cent of our assessed valuation. They tell me in Beaver County it is going to amount to about twenty-five per cent.

Mr. President, it seems to me that the particular problem of Erie is something which is working a hardship upon every political subdivision in this Commonwealth, especially the school districts which are mandated by law to raise money to pay these school teachers.

By the way, Senator Mahany,(why were counties of the second class eliminated from this bill?

Mr. MAHANY. They were already eliminated, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. They were amended out. You noticed the amendment there, why?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I believe the act under which the second class counties operates eliminate them. That is the reason why they were eliminated here.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, can you give me the number of the act under which they operate?

Mr. MAHANY. Under the Second class County Code; they operate under the Second Class County Code.

Mr. LANE. That is under the County Code, but they have a specific act. It is an assessment act and the same act that applies to third class counties, in my opinion.

By the way, Senator Mahany, did you see the communication from the Pennsylvania School Directors Association, signed by Mr. P. O. VanNess, explaining their problem? Did you receive the communication from the Pennsylvania School Directors Association, signed by the President of the Association, a Mr. Carson, in which they plainly state that they are going to be confronted with a very serious financial problem if this legislation is passed? Did you receive that?

Mr. MAHANY. My secretary tells me that we did receive it in the office. However, as yet I have not had an opportunity to read it. I will read it before we vote on this bill.

Since this bill is not on third reading or final passage, it is just on second reading, I wish the Senator would reserve a lot of this debate until such time when the bill is before us to vote on.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, the reason I am bringing this up right now is because I want each and every Member of the Senate to be well acquainted with the facts when they come to vote for it on final passage.

There is one other question I would like to ask you, and then I will close. Let us take for example a brewery. In some breweries, the vats are built in and are a part of the building, the same as the boilers. Would they be classified as other equipment?

Mr. MAHANY. The vats would be, it seems to me, a part of the real estate.

Mr. LANE. How about the boilers?

Mr. MAHANY. The boilers? My co-counsel, Senator Walker, says he thinks they would be and I concur, too.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank the Majority Leader for his kind indulgence in getting this thing across.

Mr. President, I am disturbed about this legislation. I believe that each and every Member of the Senate has a responsibility to the public, to his political subdivision, and I cannot see why this should be a political measure because, actually, Pennsylvania is a Republican State and there are more officials of the Republican faith than there are Democrats.

Mr. President, it seems to me that if we go off half-cocked on something like this, we are probably going to be confronted with a terrific problem in the next Session of the Legislature, because these political subdivisions will demand, and they must receive, proper assistance in order to operate.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that there might be remote cases where someone might abuse the provisions of the assessment act. I say to you, in all sincerity, that I do not believe that this is the time for us to try to disturb the financial structure of our political subdivisions by passing this ridiculous and simple legislation.

Mr. President, it seems to me that this is the result of some sort of a feud which may exist up in Erie County. I do not know, but I say to you, Mr. President, that the people of Pennsylvania should not be made to bear the burden of a feud which exists up there.

Mr. President, I say, with all sincerity, there is no question in my mind but what each and every political subdivision is going to lose a certain portion of their assessed valuations, and they are going to have to procure the money somewhere, and it is going to have to come from the small home owner. He is going to pay the freight.

Mr. President, I have given this a lot of thought, and do you know what I think, too? Not long ago, we passed legislation which requires a new permanent assessment act for counties from the fourth to the eighth class. It also provides that each and every property shall be assessed, or shall be appraised, as to its actual value. After the act is completed, within a period of five years, the County Commissioners, by resolution, will set a percentage of that actual value which will be assessable for tax purposes.

Mr. President, in my humble opinion, I believe that someone is trying to get away from the provisions of that act. It is going to be applicable to all small home owners. Why should it not be applicable to industry, too? Machinery today is supplementing labor. The machinery today is actually the part of a plant which really produces a profit. I say, Mr. President, they should be reasonably assessed. They should carry their proportionate share.

Mr. President, I received a letter from the school Directors Association where they say this:

"These manufacturing plants bring families into the district which require education for their children.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that the small home owner should not be burdened with the problem of educating all these children. It seems to me that the manufacturing plants, the mines and the mills should bear their proportionate share. Unless we think along those lines, we are heading for trouble.

Mr. President, I have some amendments to offer, but I will try to offer them on third reading if the Majority Leader will not object. I do not think he will.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have a clarifying amendment, one to which I am sure there will be no objection.

Mr. DENT offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 201), page 3, line 17, by inserting after "CLASS"; "or to counties of the third class".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the amendment be adopted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I understand there will be a vote on the other side against the amendment, and I am at a loss to know why there would be any opposition to these amendments. All these amendments do is put the third class counties in the same position which second class counties are in. That is all.

Mr. President, why do second class counties have a preferred position in this matter of taxation? Why should second class counties be exempt from the provisions of this act, and third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth are not exempt from the provisions of this act? We, in the third class counties, have not come to you with any problems and asked you to do us a special favor by passing this legislation. I listened very attentively to some of the explanations to the questions asked by my colleague, Senator Lane. I assure you that I was a little more confused than when it first started.

So, Mr. President, I conceived the idea that since no one particularly knew to what extent this legislation would affect county government and since I am very much interested in Westmoreland County, which at the moment is on a vast wave of expansion industrially and domestically, that we would like to be left alone. Therefore, I conceived the idea that we in Westmoreland are entitled to the same consideration of this august body as that to which the people of Allegheny County are entitled. I heard it said here that a heating plant in an industry would not be assessable for taxation purposes. Why should a heating plant in my home be assessable? If you build a shanty, and you live in a shanty and you do not have any heating plant or an inside bathroom, you are only assessed for the shed If you improve that and put an inside bathroom in it, and if put in a heating plant, and electric lights and all of the other refinements which we have become accustomed to, your assessment is raised and you pay for the finer things that you get.

Mr. President, is it not just as logical that if a man builds a garage and puts no equipment in it, he has paid the tax on the bare walls, and the roof and the floor of that garage; but if he puts in the necessary machinery in order to do business in that garage and makes it useful to his purposes, that he ought to pay for the increased refinements that he put into that proposition?

Mr. President, if my county loses twenty-five per cent of its assessed valuation, I can assure you that it will only rest upon the shoulders of the home owners. As Senator Lane pointed out here, when an industry moves into a community, they bring in a great many families that have to be provided for with transportation facilities, educational facilities, communication facilities and sewerage facilities.

Now, Mr. President, the most important argument and the most damning argument given against collectivism in Russia is that the state's health and welfare comes before the people's health and welfare. Some of the damning arguments placed against capitalism over the years by these very communists whom we despise and fight so vigorously, and rightly so, nave been that capitalism makes the dollar sign more important than the individual, and this is the greatest proof of it. You do hestiate to spread the cost and the burden of industries placed in the communities upon the shoulders of the individuals who live in these communities, by taking it off of the dollar sign industry in the community. What good is an industry if it does not provide a good decent living for the people in the community? You cannot provide a good decent living in a community if the industry moves in and demands services far and beyond the ability of the local taxpayers to provide for it.

Mr. President, if this is a punitive bill against a Democratic school board or community, then make it that and put a bill in and do what you want to do. However, do not include Westmoreland County and its fair cities in it. We are not interested in punitive legislation. We are interested in constructive, decent legislation which means the welfare of all of the peoples. What good is a prosperous community with a great, big thriving industry in it, if its people are destitute and penniless because of an overburdensome tax?

Mr. President, if you add twenty-five per cent more to the people's homes in Westmoreland County, you are making their taxes excessive and burdensome. Our Board of County Commissioners are all here today. They are here because it is vitally important to them. They are interested in the peoples of Westmoreland County. We are not complaining out home about our tax problem, and I urge industry, Mr. President, Mr. President. We are breaking ground within a very short time for a new Westinghouse plant, Bell Telephone is moving some of its larger facilities out to Westmoreland and West Penn is moving out to Westmoreland County with some of its facilities that it now has in another county.

Mr. President, I do not believe that you can go out and just bring industry in, no matter what kind of provisions you make for it, if that industry cannot be found. How much industry is there to come into this State? From where are we going to get it? There are other things that have to be taken into consideration when an industry starts to move into a community. It takes into consideration the market, the raw products which are used, the skilled and unskilled labor in the community. These things are equally and probably more important than the tax problem to many industrial sites. We cannot go competing with each other. I understand that the argument was that Erie was losing some of its industry to the outside townships and to the neighboring townships.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, with the advent of the automobile and the increased use of the new and modern transportation facilities in this Country, there is a greater and greater exodus of industry and domestic homes out into the communities surrounding an urban center. You cannot stop that if you wipe out all the taxes. They are going out into the areas which will best serve their purposes, regardless of what you do in the matter of taxation. This is a very bad piece of legislation.

Mr. President, I am asking you to pass these amendments to take Westmoreland County out of it. We are perfectly satisfied the way we are. We do not want to be protected by this protective legislation. We do not want to steal the industries from up in Crawford County. We want to do just what we are doing now, growing peacefully and quietly, and expanding as much as our economy will allow us and giving our people the best government that we can for as reasonable at tax as we can.

Mr. President, our industry appears to be and is willing to pay its share. We do not want a healthy industry in Westmoreland County and an unhealthy people. We want, all of us, to pay our share and get along side by side with each other. We are not anxious to give industry any particular breaks to come into Westmoreland County in order to add an increased burden to those who are already there. I do not believe in that type of philosophy. I do not believe that the welfare of the State ever should come before the welfare of the individual.

Mr. President, the basic fundamental strength of this Country is that the individual comes first and that the government serves the individual. The individual does not serve the government. When we lose sight of that philosophy, we have lost sight of everything that has made this Country as big and as good as we are so proud to say it is.

Mr. President, this kind of legislation smells to the high heavens. It is the most disgraceful piece of legislation that I have seen on the statute books, or attempted to be placed on the statute books, in my nineteen years of service in Harrisburg. You admit that it will take a certain percentage of your tax valuation away, and you excuse it by saying that some day in the future we will expand to a point where we will again have the same assessment by covering more industry.

Mr. President, I do not know what the problem is down in my good friend, Senator Watson's district. However, I imagine that it is having some serious problems because of the influx of the many new homes which have moved in there because of the new factories being built there. If he cannot assess those factories at least a reasonable amount of the cost for providing the facilities for modern civilization, education, transportation, communication and so forth, which go with our modern life, how can he hope to give these people as good a place to live in as industry has found it to be a place to work in? These things must be equal.

Mr. President, we ask you now, on behalf of Westmoreland County, to leave us out of it. We thank you for your solicitous attitude toward us, we appreciate that you want to help us, but we do not want help. We are satisfied to do just what we are doing. We only assessed that which we need to carry on our government.

Mr. President, I want to tell you that we are very proud of our government in Westmoreland County. We are very proud of the way in which we run our government in Westmoreland County. We have one of the lowest assessed valuations in the State, we have one of the lowest tax millages in the Commonwealth and the least amount of bonded indebtedness in the Commonwealth. We have run it that way without any fuss or petitions against us.

Mr. President, if you pass this legislation somebody is going to be hurt, and you know who will be hurt, the home owner; the poor little fellow who cannot protest in the halls of Harrisburg, who cannot pay the high priced men down here to pass legislation against somebody else for his benefit.

Mr. President, It is our job, our job as representatives of the people, to stand here and defend the people first. They must come first if this Country of ours is to survive. We are the people's lobby right here on this floor and if we hesitate to stand up and fight for them, then we do not belong in this body. This is the only place that they have an opportunity to have somebody speak for them. We are here to speak for the common taxpayer who has no lobby of his own, who cannot go to any of the nice things that we know about from other persons representing other industries. He must be represented by us, and we are derelict in our duty if we do not recognize our duties to him.

Mr. President, every man in this room knows, because I have talked to many of you privately, that this is punitive; you know that it is a disgraceful piece of legislation and one that you cannot, under any stretch of the imagination, uphold. Yet, because of one city which has a Democratic school board that had the audacity to pass a piece of tax legislation which you forgot to put in under Act No. 481, that damnable piece of legislation which has caused us more trouble than any other act that was ever passed in this Senate, you now want to penalize the whole State of Pennsylvania except Allegheny County.

Mr. Lane, for your information, I will tell you why Allegheny County was left out, because if they included Allegheny County they could not get it out of committee and pass it, so they had to exclude Allegheny County.

Mr. President, there is no sound reason for excluding Allegheny County. Is Allegheny County's industry not entitled to the same breaks that the industries in Westmoreland are going to get according to these bills that are before us? Are you not solicitous about the industry in Philadelphia? Why not take care of them, too, and give them a nice competitive advantage, as you call it? Why worry about us? Philadelphia is out of it, Allegheny is out of it and I honestly say to you that Westmoreland wants out of it, and I heard Senator Lane say that Washington wants out of it.

Mr. President, will somebody tell me who wants in it? Beware of the Greeks bearing gifts, and these are the kind of gifts of which you had better beware. Who are we trying to help in this matter? Who are we trying to take care of? I will tell you who you are trying to take care of, you are trying to wipe out a so-called Democratic school board. If it will help Westmoreland keep its position which it jealously guards, I will write a letter up to the school board and ask them to resign so that you can put Republicans on it, if that is what you want. Do not penalize the State for a political advantage.

Mr. President, I was sorry to hear the distinguished Floor Leader say that they could go out under Act No. 481 and get this money. Mr. President, if you will note under Act No. 481, the industrial and mining interests took pretty good care to see to it that even under that so-called broad base tax anything act, there is not much you can tax except the people. They fixed that pretty well.

Mr. President, I am reminded of the statement, when I see this type of legislation, made by Mr. Wilson, of General Motors, who deemed that anything that was good for General Motors was good for the United States. Mr. President, I hope it has not come down to the point where we are placing man made machinery in a place of eminence above the man who made it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOOD. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WOOD and Mr. MAHANY, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I hope to make what will be a clarifying statement, a clarifying statement designed to conserve the time and energies of this House, and perhaps facilitate the solution of some of our more pressing problems.

As all of you know, the Republican State Chairman issued a statement yesterday in which he pointed out that the majority party would not be able on the basis of its own power to enact a tax program, and he suggested that means be established whereby it would be possible for the majority and the minority to reach some sort of an agreement as to procedure.

Various Democratic state leaders met in conference yesterday, and the State Chairman of the Democratic party was instructed publicly through the Press to express his willingness and the willingness of the Democratic party and its members as represented in this Legislature to confer.

Unfortunately the Republican State Chairman made two statements yesterday. In his last statement he said:

> I have not read Mr. Splain's statement, however we are perfectly willing to cooperate in order to solve the Commonwealth's financial problems. I have sat down with leaders of the Democratic party repeatedly and have received no encouragement.

First, if the Republican State Chairman has sat down with Democratic leaders repeatedly, I have not been in the confidence of those Democratic leaders because I have not heard of any such conferences.

The State Chairman says, the Republican State Chairman, "We are perfectly willing to cooperate."

We are not the ones seeking cooperation. We are not going to the Republican State Chairman and say,

Mr. State Chairman, please let us talk to you.

The Republican State Chairman must realize that he is the one who has sought assistance. He must realize that the Democratic State Chairman has expressed a willingness to confer as to program and as to procedure, a preliminary conference, and it is up to the Republican State Chairman to notify, in proper fashion, the Democratic State Chairman when he would like to confer with him.

Unfortunately, the Democratic State Chairman is not in the city today. I understand that he will be in the city tomorrow. I do not know how that conference would run. It might run something like this.

"Mr. Splain, Democratic State Chairman, I am glad to see you. Whom do you represent?"

"For the purpose of this preliminary conference, Mr. Republican State Chairman, I represent the Democratic party. Whom do you represent?"

"Well," he says, "I represent the Republican Party."

"Well," Mr. Splain replies, "I am mighty glad to hear it. I have at last discovered someone who represents something. All right, Mr. Republican State Chairman, you represent the Republican party for the purpose of this conference; I am representing the Democratic party. We will meet in future conferences. Now Mr. Republican State Chairman, with whom in the future shall we confer? Shall we confer solely with you? Shall we confer with you and the Governor? Shall we confer with you, the Governor, the Speaker of this House, the Majority Leader of this House, and the Majority Leader of the Senate—just with whom shall we confer in the future?"

"Well, I'll let you know about that. I'll tell you about that."

"Well, there's another thing, Mr. Republican State Chairman. What will we confer about?"

"Initially, the tax program."

"Well, what tax bills are you for, Mr. Republican State Chairman?"

"Well, I don't know. What bills are you for?"

"Mr. Republican State Chairman, as of this moment we are not for any of them. However, presumably you are for some of them, and before we can discuss them we must know which ones you are for. And then we are interested primarily, particularly and initially in those tax bills that have 90 votes in the Republican Caucus.

"Now we will admit that you have 5 rebels. We will admit you have 10 rebels, but you have not claimed any more than 15 rebels, and so it is reasonable to expect that the Republican party can muster 90 votes for the various tax bills that it is interested in passing. We can assure you, Mr. Republican State Chairman, that outside of a sales tax, when you have 90 votes for the other taxes, we are going to give that fact very serious attention and use every possible effort to help get over the hump, and we believe we can do that very thing.

"Please understand, Mr. Republican State Chairman, that we are not furnishing Democratic votes simply for the purpose of enabling Members of the majority party from absenting themselves on the day of the vote—the day they vote on important tax bills or using their privilege as Members to vote "no" with the expectation that some valiant member of the minority will furnish the "yes" vote."

Now there has been some serious misapprehension as to our attitude. Republican leaders of the Senate and House conferred for two hours yesterday. This is in one of the current issues of the press, "But the Senate Majority Leader said after the meeting, Until the Democrats give us some idea of what taxes they will be for, there is not much we can do."

As far as we are concerned if that is the position of the majority leadership, there is not anything we will do. He is putting the shoe on the wrong foot. We are not initiating this tax program, but that is what the Majority Leader in the other Chamber would have us do, would have us come to the Republican leadership and say, "If you'll trot out this tax, we'll be for it. If you'll trout out this tax, we'll be for it. If you'll trot out this tax, we'll be for it."

That is not the situation. We are not going to make the initial choice. We will expect first that the Republican State Chairman, having made the initial move, will integrate a responsible group with which we can negotiate. We will then expect that that initial group, majority initial group, will ascertain from its membership the measures that it has 90 votes for. It will take the initial position as far as the tax program is concerned. When there is a group with which to negotiate, and when there has been a determination of the position of the majority party with reference to taxes, we will endeavor—and I confidently believe we will succeed—in helping this House over the hump as far as a tax program is concerned, but we do not propose to take the initial steps.

We are not going to send our State Chairman to sit on the door step of the Republican State Chairman. We instructed him to confer with the Republican State Chairman as, if and when the Republican State Chairman wants to confer.

Then we want to know the program of procedure, and then we want to know the tax measures concerning which you desire assistance. Until that is done, until there is an understanding as to our position, I am afraid we cannot resolve our difficulties.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, since we adjourned here a week ago Thursday it seems like we have been, that is, both parties have been engaged in what you might call the battle of the Press releases. It started with the Minority Leader very rightfully addressing a letter to his State Chairman which was released to the Press, wherein he was asking his State Chairman for further instructions; how to proceed as a result of the tax dilemma which faces this Session of the General Assembly.

I might say there was one thing in the letter that was comforting to me, and that was the Minority Leader in his letter said, without a doubt we need $120 million more revenue in order properly to run the Commonwealth in this biennium at the present time.

There might be some things in his letter that I did not agree with, but I am whole-heartedly in accord with the Minority Leader on that particular figure, and that seems to be the figure that we must shoot at in order properly to adjourn this Session with a balanced budget.

Now I believe the Democratic State Chairman and the Republican State Chairman are acting in good faith. Right now they seem to be engaging in a battle of Press releases, but after the smoke has cleared away I believe the gentlemen will sit down and in a friendly amicable fashion, in a spirit of compromise will bring up a program that everybody has agreed upon, that we can pass, so that we can very quickly end this Session successfully.

I do not believe they should quibble over the procedure. It reminds me of the oft quoted statement "What did the Governor of North Carolina say to the Governor of South Carolina?" Of course it does not make any difference what they said as long as they get down to business and come to a sensible agreement that will help us end this Session.

I am sure a plan will be presented by the Republican side to the Democratic high command, one that they can with good grace recommend to the Democrats on the other side of the House to go along with us and help us put over.

Asking the other party for help is not without precedent in this House. I understand back in the 1937 session the House had about one hundred and fifteen Democrats and the Senate was in control of the Republicans. I will say the Democrats in the House passed a tax program without Republican help. When it got over into the Senate there was considerable delay—I think one of the taxes was a tax on personal property and there were a few other taxes which the Republicans at that time did not like, but I can recall hearing Mason Owlett say, he was then one of the leaders in the Senate, that after two weeks the Republicans finally realized that Pennsylvania had to go on, that the state had to function, and despite the fact that they might not like the program, in their caucus they said "let's give them the votes. Let's end this Session so that we can get out of here." That is what was done in 1937.

Let all of us get together in the spirit of compromise and fair play, raise the money, balance this budget and have an orderly adjournment, so that we can go back home and attend to our affairs.

I know I have neglected my business back home, and I am sure that is true of many of the members in this House. I am looking forward to next week, having the party say, "We have come to an agreement; here it is, members, pass it and let us go home."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader correctly quotes history. In the 1937 session the Democratic leaders did go over to the Senate. They needed eleven votes in the Senate to pass the tax program that had passed the House.

However, they were able to find a leadership in the Senate that said to them, "You will get the eleven votes, and the eleven Members of the Senate who will vote for your respective measures are Senator So and So, So and So, So and So, and So and So."

The leaders who so said were in a position to deliver.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as one of the rural Members of this House, I find no fault with the agreements on the tax program. I just want to remind the House that we as rural Members like to be given some consideration in the issues.

We find that in this House of Representatives when there is a bill protecting special interests, or doing certain things for special interests, there are 105 votes on that side of the House without any assistance from this side.

Now if there is anything any more important to you men on the other side of this House for the security of the state of Pennsylvania than a tax program that will secure the service of Pennsylvania to the people of Pennsylvania, then I would like to know personally what it is.

I find that you people have the votes that are necessary when you want them. I just cannot understand why you cannot find the votes that are necessary for a tax program that is so important to the people of Pennsylvania.

We do not want to gripe about it. We do not want to throw any sprags in the wheels, but we do know that in certain legislation certain communities and certain counties are exempt and you can find 105 votes on that side of the House to pass that kind of legislation, and we as rural members want to know something about what goes on.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. VARNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am just wondering if those "So and So's" are still in the Senate that were in the Senate in 1937.

Mr. Speaker, I would like further to say that as far as I am concerned I want the people of Pennsylvania and the people of Clarion county to know that I do not need the State Chairman or the County Chairman in my county to tell me what tax bills to vote for down in Harrisburg. I will take care of the vote down here when the tax bills come out of Committee.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was in the Committee on Motor Vehicles, but as it relates in many respects to a subject matter which the Judiciary Committee should consider, I think the bill should be committed to that committee now.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker the gentleman from Adams is not here due to illness, and I do not think we ought to move to recommit a bill to Committee without the sponsor of the bill being present. I do not think it is fair to the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Without objection the Chair will permit the gentleman from Blair to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, what would you like to have me ask the gentleman?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is certain if the gentleman asks the Member from Berks what his purpose is in recommitting the bill, the gentleman from Blair would be satisfied.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Berks stated his reason but I still do not think the motion ought to prevail due to the absence of the sponsor of the bill. I do not think any Member of this House would like to have his bill recommitted especially when he is absent because illness without being given an opportunity to be heard, whether he is right or wrong. That is my objection to the motion. It is the only objection I have.

I agree with Mr. Readinger, I think his motives in making the motion are good and I would vote for it if the sponsor of the bill were here, but I do not like sending a bill back to Committee when the sponsor of the bill, as I say again, i s absent from the House because of illness.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to thank the gentleman for his comments, but I still think the bill should go back to Judiciary even though Mr. Worley unfortunately is ill.

If we would follow the principal outlined by the gentleman from Blair, it would be impossible to take any action on a bill if a Member happened to be sick the entire Session. I think 207 Members can act judiciously in this matter whether the sponsor happens to be present or not. I would make the motion if he were here.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 168, Printer's No. 370,

was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I request a short recess for about one-half hour for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus. I didn't think it would be necessary to call a caucus, but apparently it is necessary.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for one-half hour for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have one of the sponsors of this bill explain the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, just what in particular does the gentleman desire to know?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware tell the gentleman from Cambria, what he would like to know about House Bill No. 1295, Printer's No. 353?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I would like to know the general purpose of the bill and what the bill does.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is stated on page 3.

The purpose of the bill is part of the program of the organization formed some years ago, known as Incodel. The purpose of Incodel was to secure among other things a compact between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the State of New York, the State of New Jersey and the State of Delaware, concerning the ways in which the waters of the Delaware River Basin could be utilized best in the public interest, and how best to conserve the water supply in that basin.

The bill states that the purpose is aimed to meet the domestic and industrial requirements of political subdivisions and metropolitan areas within these states; to provide an adequate minimum flow in the Delaware River for the protection of public health, and for the benefit of industry. Also to provide in cooperation with other appropriate agencies for such other uses of water as navigation, production of hydro-electric power and related uses and for the control of flood waters.

There has already been negotiated a compact between the three states. However, Pennsylvania desires to modify that compact. In order to assure ratification of the contract by the Federal Congress, it is necessary that the agreements be identical.

Therefore in this bill, Pennsylvania is restating its purposes to the end that next year, when the Legislatures of the other states convene, they can pass upon the stipulations carried in House Bill 1295.

The bill roughly provides for the creation of three dams in the New York State Delaware River Basin. And incidentally will flood some sixteen thousand acres. And for another dam near Delaware Water Gap that will flood about six hundred acres. The engineers say that these dams will make it possible to maintain a regulated flow in the Delaware River during dry seasons, which is one of the fundamental purposes.

That roughly is the purpose of the bill.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Minority Leader if there are any estimates of the expense to the Commonwealth that will be incurred as the result of the adoption of this bill?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr Speaker, the bill specifically provides that the Commission which will function if the pact is ratified, cannot in any way pledge the faith and credit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. One further question. Mr. Speaker, has any estimate been made of the effect of the proposed dams on the salinity of the lower parts of the Delaware River?

Mr. ANDREWS. I did not get that one dictionary word.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is there any estimate, to rephrase the question, of the effect of the proposed dams on the salt content of the lower reaches of the Delaware River?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is a question that I could not answer. I have not read the experts' report, but my judgment would be that the regulated flow of fresh water would in some way moderate the saltiness of a marsh district.

The purpose is to have a year round regulated flow, to have a certain fixed stipulated level.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Does the gentleman know whether the engineers estimate that a larger amount of salt will be in the water during the dry seasons in the lower part of the Delaware River?

Mr. ANDREWS. Again I would say that if you have more fresh water coming down as a result of the impounding dams than you would have if you did not have the impounding dams, there would not be as much salt in the lower regions.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, this bill has tremendous and far-reaching results if it finally passes. We are monkeying with water and a tremendous watershed. In this country the authorities who know water predict that we will all be needing and wanting water within a half century, and no one will predict what our demands for water will be a hundred years from now.

Out on the Pacific coast some of you Members are familiar with the struggle going on out there for the water supply from the Rocky Mountains.

It is my personal opinion that this Incodel situation should be entered upon with fear and trembling. As it is now, New York City is fighting for water. A few years ago if you will remember her reservoirs on account of drought conditions went very low. Fortunately they refilled, but if the drought condition had continued for another year or so no one could say what the situation in New York would be.

Today in the southwest of the United States the drought conditions are alarming. They will tend to get worse, and if there is as little improvement over the rest of this summer, you can look for dust-bowl conditions this Fall.

I am no expert. I do not intend to speak as if I am fully informed or know all the angles to the Incodel plan, but I do have here before me the report of the Pennsylvania Water Resources Committee which was authorized by this Legislature. This report points out several things which I think the Members of this House would do well to consider before passing this bill.

Under a Supreme Court decision New York is now taking 440 million gallons of water a day from the upper Delaware River Basin, by action of the Supreme Court, and they were permitted to take that because of a Master's decree that anything more taken from the upper Delaware would threaten the communities in the lower part of the Delaware watershed, which means primarily Philadelphia.

Under this Incodel plan, it is proposed to release an extra 465 million gallons of water per day in addition to the 440 million now going to New York. The Incodel report states that within the next 30 years northern New Jersey and New York City will need even an additional 465 million gallons of water, which would bring the total extra to 930 million, in addition to the 440 million gallons of water per day.

There are several things in this bill that the Water Resources Committee points out which are merely human angles. One of them says, "Remember that any water taken from the Delaware River for New York and northern New Jersey will be what is known as total diversion rather than partial diversion." It means not a drop of the 1,370 million gallons of water a day will ever find its way back into the Delaware watershed.

Also, another provision of this Incodel plan is that after the pact is finally ratified by the states, the four states or the three states, it could only be changed by a majority vote of all the Commissioners of each state, and each state is supposed to have three commissioners. So any two commissioners from any state could block any future plans to change the pact as it would be originally set up. That would mean that in the case of a prolonged drought, suppose our Pennsylvania communities really needed the water, suppose the tidal waters of the sea were backing up into the Delaware Bay, and caused this salinity, which means simply the mixing of sea water with fresh water and the fact that artesan wells go down and tap the underground water table instead of pulling up fresh water would pull up salt water—that is happening in the Chesapeake Bay regions right now. Such things, I believe, we as Members of this House cannot foresee sufficiently clear to give away any right which we might have in the total water resources of the Delaware River Basin.

If we in the future face drought conditions in our Eastern areas, we would be forced under the provisions of this pact, if Incodel did not entirely go along with our plea for more water, we would be forced at our own expense to build our own dam below the dams which were built and would be built under this plan.

I can see nothing of any tremendous import which would force us at this time to enter into such a far-reaching pact because one of the provisions in this pact is that it shall be perpetual, and once we are in it, we will never get out of it.

Furthermore, the State of New York has passed legislation, that provides that the maintenance of an adequate minimum flow to any signatory state shall be binding. That means that New York is allowed to get 1,370 million gallons of water a day. It will be binding upon all the states unless the majority of the members of the Commission from each state shall vote in favor of a change—and here is the important part in the New York bill—"and unless the Governor of the State shall have an opportunity to either approve or veto the proposed change," which means simply that we are placing our future water resources in the hands of one man and giving the Governor of Delaware, New Jersey, or New York a full and complete veto power over any future use that we might want to make of the Delaware River Water Basin.

I think we should tread softly; we should move slowly. I do not believe the 208 Members of this House are of themselves even familiar with many of the provisions of this bill, and I think at this time we should not pass it.

I might add that the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs has for years debated and considered all angles of the Incodel plan, and year after year in its conventions the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs has refused to endorse it. Moreover, they definitely oppose ths bill as it is now printed and before us.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a brief comment on the bill.

First I would like to make a brief comment on the remarks of the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, when he states that the State Sportsmen Association—the State Association of Sportsmen Clubs are against the bill. That would lead me to be for the bill, for I believe that past experience has shown that group to be motivated mainly by political purposes and reasons and outlines and ends, and in the very great majority of instances they have been proven wrong.

Second, very, very briefly, I think there is too much "ink" in the bill.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BRETH. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman's remarks up to this time have been off the subject matter at hand, and not on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has completed his remarks.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, because of the far reaching effects of this bill, especially on industry, and the lower part of the Delaware River Basin, I move at this time that House Bill 1295, Printer's No. 353, be re-referred to the Committee on State Government for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, because of my interest in the industries, particularly in the region of the lower Delaware, I would oppose this motion to recommit, because this bill is very timely and necessary for the future development of industry of the lower Delaware and for the waters that new industries will need.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion to recommit. I am surprised that the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, would make this motion be cause Elwood Turner is the father of Incodel, and he came from Delaware County. I am very much surprised that the gentleman would make such a motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a division.

On a rising vote, fifteen Members or less than a majority having voted in the affirmaitve, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a part of the Commission on Interstate Corporation, and I happen to be the Chairman. This commission is composed of Members of the House and Senate, and they have been working on this project for the last twenty years. All these subjects that have been raised here today have been given very considerable consideration. I would urge everybody to vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1323 as follows:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 535) entitled "An act providing for the redemption of real property purchased by political subdivisions at tax sales upon the payment of the amount charged against the same and costs by installment payments and prescribing the procedure therefor" in so far as it relates to counties of the fourth class and cities boroughs townships and school districts situate in such counties

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 535) entitled "An act providing for the redemption of real property purchased by political subdivisions at tax sales upon the payment of the amount charged against the same and costs by installment payments and prescribing the procedure therefor" which was partially repealed by the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1368) and by the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1593) is hereby further repealed in so far as it relates to all counties of the fourth class and all cities boroughs townships and school districts situate in such counties

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, this bill, although appearing on its face to be a major change in the law for redemption of taxed property, actually is a clarification measure.

The present law provides that when a person loses his property at a tax sale, that property will be put up by the taxing authority and sold. This bill does not in any way affect that original sale of the property.

Under the present law according to who buys this property there are various ways of redeeming it. During the depression a great number of lots were sold for taxes. It was felt that a relief provision of some kind was needed. The law provided that within two years the person could come in and redeem his property by paying the taxes and costs assessed on it.

After that, another Act, the Act repealed by this bill, was passed which provided that a person could come in at any time and pay one-fifth of the taxes and recover his property. That Act was very much needed in those days. It, however, has outlived its usefulness and today is the means for the perpetration of almost complete fraud upon the property owners.

A person, and very often of the low income group, who will get one of these lots from the taxing authorities will purchase the lot, expend perhaps $100 for costs to the county and legal fees, get into court and then find that a large landowner who owned that property back in 1932 will sit back and wait until he is in court and walk in under this provision that he can redeem it any time, pay the bare 20 percent without any intention of picking up the property from there on in and therefore put the property back on the tax rolls.

The Act is now working the very opposite of what it was intended. At the present time in Erie there is a classic example—and this bill has been endorsed to the best of my knowledge by both parties and all taxing authorities there. This bill will not affect that example but it will keep it from happening in the future.

There was land owned by the county on which a housing development was built during the war by the Federal Government. The land was never conveyed to them. The housing, the buildings, were conveyed to the city. The development remained there during this period of time, and by accident it earned $175,000 income. The city moved to have this income transferred to its general fund, and an estate which had not owned this property for the last 20 years which had never paid any taxes on it came in under this Act saying, "we wish now to pay 20 percent. The land belongs to us; the buildings belong to us and also all earnings from it."

The thing is wide open. It is turned around so that it necessitates now—in lots that are owned by large real estate companies that were lost back in the depression years—it is necessary for the average individual wanting to redeem one of those lots instead of going to the title holder, the county, the city or whoever owns it, instead of going to them, they must go to this landowner, pay his price for a quit claim deed and get him to agree if they do not get him to agree, he will step into court and pay his 20 percent and upset their proceedings.

The bill has no further use. This is a bill to repeal it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would have raised the question on this bill previously but I was engaged in a conference with Mr. Bower and did not know it came up. However, since it has been opened I am very grateful for the opportunity of explaining a little more in detail what this bill attempts to do.

The explanation given by the gentleman from Erie is swell as far as it goes, but it does not go far enough. He has made the statement that all the former owner needs to do is to go in and pay 20 percent and take back the property. That is far from the fact. The fact is that the former owner must go in and enter into an agreement with the county commissioners to pay one-fifth or 20 percent of the tax each year for a period of five years. In addition, mind you, this agreement also sets forth that he will pay the current taxes as they fall due.

This is not an automatic procedure. He must go into his county commissioner's office and enter into a formal agreement agreeing that he will pay one-fifth of the taxes each year together with the penalties and the costs and everything that has been against the property, and also to pay as I said previously the current taxes when due.

A bill similar to this came up in the 1951 Session and was defeated at that time. The sponsor suggested that there were some inequities. The former landowners were coming in and entering into those agreements and then defaulting on the agreements. When I opposed the bill he came over and wanted to know if there was not some way he could offer an amendment, and I said I am agreeable, that if a person enters into such an agreement and defaults, that from that time on he would lose all of his rights of redemption.

I offered to sponsor such an amendment along with him. He went back to Erie county and came back and said, "No that is not satisfactory. We just do not want that redemption law."

I submit the truth is that this bill was passed during the depression years. It was meant as a relief to the small man. It was meant to give him a chance to redeem his property by making payment of all his back taxes, interest and penalties over a period of five years on the installment plan. That situation still applies today. When a small man loses his property he generally loses it because he does not have the money to pay his taxes otherwise he would have paid them. I believe a law that permits him to pay over a five year period on the installment plan, and at the same time requires him to keep up his current taxes, is a good law to have in our books. It protects the man who is less able to pay his taxes, and that is the man that we in this Legislature should lose time and patience to accommodate.

I believe this as a bad bill. We are likewise in the same county clasification as Erie County. I happen to be the county manager of properties that were sold at tax sale, have been over a number of years, and we have yet to find one situation in our county where it has worked a hardship upon the county or any of the taxing bodies.

I therefore believe this bill should be defeated and the present law should stay as it is.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 189, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 280), entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands, and prescribing interest charges on non-payment thereof; requiring the receivers and collectors of county, city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes, and providing for the lien thereof; authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances," by requiring the county treasurer to give notice of tax sales to persons in whose names the property is last registered and to lien creditors.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, we have before us now, I think, a tremendously important bill. This bill provides that when a property is sold at treasurer's sale that the treasurer be required to give notice to the last registered owner and to living creditors.

The last part of the bill is particularly important because it means that the county solicitor—incidentally under this bill he is required to perform this service for the county treasurer, even though we have passed a bill giving the county treasurer his own solicitor. At any rate this bill provides that the county solicitor shall give a list of the last registered owner and a list of the living creditors to the county treasurer, and he shall notify each and every one of those prior to making a tax sale.

This would cause the county to be put to the expense of making an abstract on every property that is sold by the county at a tax sale, because in order to determine who the living creditors are, you cannot search against the last registered owner only, but you must go back and search all of the owners previously to determine whether or not there are any valid liens against the property. It would mean in some situations if the county treasurer would be selling a property for maybe a $5 school tax, yet the county commissioners would have to pay the county solicitor for making an abstract of that property involving perhaps $40 or $50 worth of expense.

I can see in a great many cases where much more money would be spent to make the abstract and search to find out who the last registered owner is, than the county could possibly realize from the sale of the property.

I think this bill deserves a lot of further study, and I would like to make a suggestion, if I may at this point, that we reconsider and pass this bill over, for the purpose of giving it further study, because I think it is of real importance to determine how much additional cost this is going to put on the counties. I believe, personally, that it is going to place so much additional cost on the county that the tax sales are going to lose money for the county rather than gain money.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that the Chair withdraw its decision that this bill has been agreed to on third reading, and that we pass it over for a few days for further study.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will withdraw its decision as to this bill having been agreed to on third reading. The Chair hears none.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 189, Printer's No. 221,

Banker,

NOT VOTING—6

Kline,	Murray, P. G.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 952, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by further providing for filling of vacancies in certain offices and for notice and publication of fire protection codes and ordinances authorizing borrowing by cities in anticipation of current revenue and for permanent improvements without issuance of bonds increasing the criminal jurisdiction of the mayor as an alderman authorizing appropriations of council to cover certain contracts which may be awarded without additional advertising authorizing certain street construction and improvement by city employes and the sale of real estate by the city at public sale providing for payment by the city of certain costs in connection with shade trees and further regulating purchases and contracts

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, on first looking over this bill I could not see anything really objectionable in it until I got into it and then I began to smell some mice. So, I got the Pennsylvania Economy League to give me an analysis both pro and con on the bill. It is a third class city bill and of course only affects the people who live in third class cities of which there are some 43 or 45 in the Commonwealth.

To be fair to the sponsors of the bill, I am going to ask permission of the Speaker and the Members of the House to read the letter to me from the Pennsylvania Economy League and also their comments on the bill.

I feel they are very important in your voting on this very important measure

"Dear Mr. Auker:

Pursuant to your request I have analyzed Sections 1811.1 and 1811.2, House Bill 952. Enclosed herewith is a copy of this analysis. You will note that I have discussed each section separately.

In discussing Section 1811.1 you will observe that I have listed its advantages and disadvantages. I hope that these will assist you in determining your position on these phases of the bill. Frankly, I feel that there is nothing seriously objectionable in Section 1811.1 other than the fact that its abuse by local officials could lead to a serious financial crisis. Of course, abuse of any law usually results in difficulties. I think you would agree with me on this. I do feel, however, that the section should stipulate clearly whether or not such temporary debt would constitute an increase in the indebtedness of the city and therefore affect its borrowing capacity.

Insofar as Section 1811.2 is concerned I see nothing wrong with it, for apparently all it does is insert in the third class city code a provision for borrowing in anticipation of current revenues, which provision already exists in the other municipal codes.

Inasmuch as I have discussed this at great length in the analysis I shall not go into detail. I trust that this information will be of some value to you."

(Signed) GEDEON A. LA CROIX
Executive Secretary

Now this is the analysis of Section 1811.1 by the Pennsylvania Economy League, in whom I have the greatest confidence. They are a non-partisan, non-profit corporation. Their services are paid for by private contributions from business and other interests in these communities.

"Under existing law there is no such thing as a long-term loan from a bank or other source and any type of obligation not a tax anticipation note is a bond and must be authorized and sold in accordance with all the provisions of the Municipal Borrowing Law.

Section 1811.1 of House Bill 952, although it does not provide for long term loans from a bank or other source, does broaden the powers of third class cities to incur short term loans from a bank or other source for permanent improvements. In effect this section allows the cities to borrow money for permanent improvements during any fiscal year and provides the method of repayment of such obligation—the period of repayment not to exceed three years of date of issue of such obligation. There is nothing in this section to indicate whether or not such temporary debt would constitute an increase in the indebtedness of the city within the meaning of Article 9, Section 8 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania or of the Municipal Borrowing Law of June 25, 1941.

This point should be made clear in view of the fact that there is nothing in the section which specifies the amount of temporary debt which the city may incur. The advantages and disadvantages may be summarized as follows:

Advantages

(1) Permits cities to undertake permanent improvements without the necessity of going through the legal procedures of floating a bond issue.

And, of course, you know that before a bond issue could be floated, it would have to have the approval of the vote of the people in that particular municipality.

(2) Encourages local officials to undertake small but badly needed permanent improvements as they arise and expedites their realization. Frequently municipalities delay relatively inexpensive capital improvements until such a time as the cost of several improvements would justify the issue of bonds.

(3) Facilitates financing small improvements on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Disadvantages

(1) Could easily lead to deficit financing and result in financial difficulties.

(2) Short-term loans usually call for higher interest rates.

(3) It could encourage undertaking projects demanded by pressure groups, the urgency and neressity of which could be seriously questioned.

Section 1811.2 has to do with borrowing against anticipated revenues. Now it seems to me that we certainly in the last four years have seen the dangers of borrowing against anticipated revenues in this Commonwealth. And certainly the same principle should apply to all municipalities.

I have heard the gentleman on the other side of the House frequently say "Think of the poor taxpayers." I am thinking of the taxpayers now when I am debating and objecting to this bill as written.

It seems to me that no permanent improvement should be made in any municipality unless the people of that particular municipality or community signify by their vote that they want such a permanent improvement.

I think that is sound government and I think it is sound financing and sound business. Therefore I ask the Members to vote "no" on this bill on that one ground alone.

Second, on this borrowing, these loans for these permanent improvements and these loans against anticipated revenue can run for years, just as long as they reduce the debt by a certain small amount each year that they get from the bank. That is bad. That can make long term loans without the taxpayers having a say so in it one way or another.

You people who sit here know the disadvantages that have occurred from the "tax anything" law. You know the advantages and the wrongs that have been incurred by our public officials in municipalities under that "tax anything" law.

In very many instances they have run hog wild. The old adage still stands, that the more money you give public officials to spend—and that is just as true in the state as it is in municipalities and cities—the more they will spend.

By this bill you are making it possible for the public officials of third class cities to spend more money without the electorate having anything to say. I think it is bad government. I think it is bad financial government. For those reasons I am asking the membership of the House to think of the taxpayers and vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, for the first time in his long legislative career the gentleman from Blair has convinced me.

If the House will consent we really would like to have this bill go over, because, I understand, there were some amendments that were to be made and I have neglected to see whether those amendments were put in. I was interested particularly in the amendments concerning the filling of vacancies.

If the House will consent, I would like to have the bill go over.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria move to place the bill on the final passage postponed calendar because of the debate we already have had on the bill?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. GEORGE E. JONES and AUKER offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 24, 1953.

On June 10, 1953, Roy J. Erb, brother of Daniel H. Erb, member of the House of Representatives, passed away.

Mr. Erb was born June 12, 1888 in Martinsburg, the son of William P. Erb and Susan Erb, formerly Susan Fouse.

He was married December 24, 1908 at Martinsburg to Frances Acker and leaves behind him in addition to his widow, two sons, ten grandchildren, two brothers and a sister.

He was an active member of the Clover Creek Lutheran Church and served as a teacher of the Men's Bible Class and a member of the official board for many years.

He was employed as a clerk by the House of Representatives since 1947. Always a faithful employe he spent many long hours in the performance of his duties for the benefit of those interested in legislation.

Because the death of Roy J. Erb creates such a void in the lives of his family and his many friends both in Harrisburg and home, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend to his family in its bereavement, its heartfelt sympathies and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Frances Acker Erb, his widow and to Daniel H. Erb, his brother.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. CIANFRANI asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. TAYLOR asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.
